Relieves Partition Can Be Ended By Peaceful Means

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Evening Standard printed an interview with Prime Minister de Valera today in which he urged Great Britain to persuade the six counties of Northern Ireland to join in an all-Ireland Parliament.

In return, he proposed autonomy in local affairs for Northern Ireland and asked only that guarantees be given by the Nationalist minority in the north.

Mr. De Valera said he had abandoned any idea of a plebiscite in Northern Ireland, which though it might give Eire, the former Irish Free State, more territory would perpetuate partition.

He warned that while partition continued the chances of Ireland's co-operation with Britain in event of a European war were "very slight."

"The present partition of Ireland is a dangerous anachronism which must be ended," he declared. "This 300 miles artificial frontier separating the north from the rest of Ireland is the deepest wound which the English people inflicted upon the Irish people—a wound which keeps alive ancient antagonisms between the English, morally responsible for the existence of division, and an overwhelming majority of the Irish race."

"I believe partition can be ended by peaceful negotiation and with due regard to the sentiments and susceptibilities of all sections."

Commission Opens Inquiry

CALGARY, Oct. 17 (CP)—Control of the gasoline industry in Alberta by the Ethyl Gasoline Corporation of America, with headquarters in New York, was charged by J. J. Prawlley, K. C., counsel for the two-man Royal Commission which opened an inquiry into oil production and prices here today.

Mr. Justice A. A. McGillivray, chairman of the Commission, is associated with Major L. R. Lipsitt of Ardley, Alta., an authority on fuel marketing problems. Mr. Prawlley said, had a monopoly on the use of tetra ethyl lead, a substance necessary to bring "straight" gasoline as refined from Turner Valley crude oil, to a standard grade—70 octane—for use in high compression motor engines of the present day. The lead must be added to the blended gasoline.

"Then I say," said the Commission counsel, "the Ethyl Corporation controls the manufacture and sale of standard gasoline in Alberta."

Youth Found Guilty Of Manslaughter

BRIDGEWATER, N. S., Oct. 17 (CP)—Seventeen-year-old Hector Wambolt of Wileville, near here, pleaded guilty today on a charge of manslaughter.

Wambolt, arrested at Howard Veniot, 40-year-old one-armed war veteran was shot and fatally wounded while driving an automobile, originally was charged with murder. The charge was reduced to manslaughter five days ago by a Supreme Court Grand Jury. Mrs. Veniot told police she had seen one of the two youths on the highway raise a rifle just as the automobile drew abreast.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police arrested Wambolt from the description she gave, and at the preliminary hearing witnesses said he had been drinking when he fired the shot.

Wambolt was remanded for sentence.

Index Groups Mark Up Losses

TORONTO, Oct. 17 (CP)—Suburban resistance was offered by the Toronto stock market to influence of weakness in New York but prices finally gave way in the last hour and all index groups marked net losses for the day. The golds led with a drop of 1.13 followed by the industrials with a loss of .88 while the western oils weakened .46 and the base metals .32. Volume was about normal at 859,000 shares.

Action was spotty in the base metals and at times the weight of changes was on the up side. Waited on and was swept up to $8 in a strong buying rush but profit-taking was heavy in the final stage and the price backed up to 270 for a net gain of 40 cents. Sherritt touched a new high for the year at 1.90 but failed to hold the gain. Noranda also weakened finally to show a point decline and the close was down 1.18 for International Nickel, while Smelters and Hudson Bay lost 1-4-point.

Gold shares registered narrow ups and downs with no wide changes on end. Adjustments were limited to 1-4-point for Lake Shore, Dome, Buffalo-Ankerite and McIntyre.

The western oils were sold for moderate losses. Royalite closed a point down at 44 and the close was down a little for Calgary-Edmonton Highwood, Home and Okalta.

HELPED JEWS MAKE ESCAPE

BOSTON, Oct. 18 (CP)—Miss Phyllis Bottomo, the English novelist, who also in a lecture on psychology, here with her husband, Capt. Ewan Forbes-Dennis, says she is considering starting a "Human Being Society," having nothing to do with religion or politics, as an inducement for people to behave like human beings if they could.

The novelist believes the only hope for Germany is what she calls its "universal gift of stupidity." This gave her an opportunity to help innumerable Jewish friends to escape from the Reich. The Nazis never associated Mrs. Forbes-Dennis with the novelist, Phyllis Bottomo, whose most recent book, "The Mortal Storm" is such a violent expose of the Nazi persecution of Jewish intellectuals.

"I've got all my friends out of Germany and Austria now, so I don't care whether they find it out or not," said Miss Bottomo.

Her greatest help in assisting refugees to escape came from a Jesuit priest and the novelist's assistance, she said, was through her labors as a "universal aunt." Miss Bottomo found a cook for Halle Solassie. This cook was the wife of a Jewish banker, who helped establish soap kitchens in Vienna after the war, and is "a wonderful dietician."
