Nfld. Rentals Control Invalid

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 28—(CP Cable)—War emergency rentals regulations imposed by the Newfoundland Commission government are invalid, according to an opinion expressed by Mr Justice Dunfield of the Supreme Court in a decision filed Saturday.

The Justice declared that while under the war emergency act the governor-in-council might make regulations for efficient prosecution of the war, defence of the realm and similar objectives, he could not find that the private renting of houses came within the meaning of the act.

Wood Operators Urged To Register

MONCTON, N.B., Nov. 27—Interviewed in his office here today, W.M. Roberts, regional employment officer, stressed the necessity for each woods operator to register all employees with the nearest Employment and Selective Service office if the machinery set up to bring men and jobs together is to function in the best interests of all.

To help get a man as quickly as possible for the essential jobs of fuelwood cutting, logging, lumbering and other priority work, the Department of Labor has given operators the opportunity to send canvassers approved by R.P. Hartley, superintendent, Maritime Regional Office, into designated rural areas to hire workers.

It is understood that canvassers must not take men who are needed for winter work on any farm; men employed on dairy farms; or those already doing essential work. Moreover, as soon as the convasser has contacted an available man, his instructions are to get the "O.K." of the local N.S.S. office manager in the area before sending this man on the job. The reason for this is that the local office manager, can, in consultation with the provincial agricultural representative, determine whether or not the canvasser has taken away an essential agricultural producer and so weakened the Food Front.

The employer, too, has a responsibility in connection with every man engaged. In line with the agreement made by the Maritime Lumber Bureau, each operator hiring men should check to see that his canvasser has complied with the registration rule. Special registration forms are available at all Local Employment and Selective Service offices for this purpose.

Though there is no compulsion under the law, it is clear that this requested registration with N.S.S. of all employed in woods operations serves two important purposes: 1. It protects those engaged in the vital business of producing food. And 2. It builds up later records which can be of great assistance to the lumber operator when he next needs seasonal help. In most cases, he will be able to get the same workers back. The records in the Employment and Selective Service office are protection against waste of time and effort in searching for the help he must have to operate.

De Marigny To Visit Cuba As Tourist

HAVANA, Nov. 28—(AP)—The Cuban government has extended permission for Alfred De Marigny and his young wife, the former Nancy Oakes, to come to Havana as tourists—a status that will permit them to remain here 60 days.

Officials revealed that permission was granted as a routine matter by the immigration department. During their residence here De Marigny and his wife may qualify as resident foreigners without difficulty

However, Cuba law prohibits foreigners from accepting employment although they may establish their own business without Government hindrance.

De Marigny was requested officially to leave Nassau, capital of the Bahamas after he had been acquitted of a charge of slaying his wealthy father-in-law, Sir Harry Oakes.

U. S. Steel Situation

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28 — (AP)—The magazine steel reported today "steel requirements for the next few months are greater but the margin narrower than in recent quarters and indications point to possibility of more steel being released for domestic requirements.

The trade publication added "Washington estimates are to the effect that first quarter demands of claimant agencies are within 2,000,000 tons above estimated output, which is regarded not only as a levelling of ordnance requirements but also a better relationship between supply and demand under the controlled materials plan.

"Pressure for steel has eased in general, with demand for plates and sheets being sustained, but orders are lighter in other major lines, with overall requirements off."

National ingot production was unchanged last week at 99 per cent of steel's estimate of capacity.

Local Nurse On Ship Torpedoed In Mediterranean

(Courageous behaviour of Canadian Nursing Sisters when their ship was torpedoed in the Mediterranean is reported in the following delayed dispatch from William Stewart, Canadian Press war correspondent. The torpedoing previously was reported in a dispatch published Nov. 16th from Douglas Amaron, who was on the ship en route to Italy as an addition to the Canadian Press corps of war correspondents.)

BY WILLIAM STEWART
(Canadian Press War Correspondent)

WITH THE CANADIANS IN ITALY, Nov. 12—(Delayed)—(CP Cable)—Ninety-five Canadian Nursing Sisters earned admiration for calmness and courage when their ship was torpedoed by an enemy aircraft. Their conduct was regarded as one of the highlights in the orderly evacuation of the ship during which there was not a single Canadian life known to be lost.

A Charlottetown nurse, who escaped in one of the ship's lifeboats was Eleanor Johnson, whose mother, Mrs. R.M. Johnson is staying at the Charlotte Residence.)

Just before the atttack at dusk, Lieut. Kay McGowan of Toronto, had given up an attempt to organize an after-dinner bridge game. At that time Matron Blanche Herman of Lunenburg, N.S., was in the dining saloon with four Red Cross Nurses.

After the torpedo ripped into the ship the nurses had no time to pick up their belongings. They made their way to the boat-decks wearing berets, battledress—blouses and khaki slacks. One or two snatched blue trench coats. Others on the ship were proud of the way the Nurses followed the evacuation order as though it was a simple drill exercise.

The nurses climbed into the boats and in full moonlight were lowered to the waters of the Mediterranean rising and falling in a gentle swell. Many of them manned the oars.

The distance to another ship which, with a destroyer, picked up the survivors was not great but the lifeboat remained for a time about 100 yards from the torpedoed ship and help round up crafts with other survivors or pick up some from the sea.

Charlottetown Girl

Among nurses in the lifeboats were Eleanor Johnson, Charlottetown, P.E.I.; Gay Gibson, Moncton, N.B., and Christine MacRiver, Scotstown, Que.

Katherine Gill of Ottawa said evacuation of the ship and the lifeboat trip were nothing compared with the climb of 40 to 50 feet up the scramble net dropped from the decks of the rescue ships. A few nurses were raised in a bosun's chair but the others mace the net ascent.

Elsa Turnbull of Ottawa got nearly to the deck and then fell 40 feet back into the water, barely missing a lifeboat. She made the next trip by chair. Ida MacKay of Montreal fell from 15 but finally got up. Esther Rowell of Abbotsford, Que., said the happiest moment for her came when she was pulled over the rail.

Matron Herman and Margaret Desborough of Kentville, N.S., were picked up by a destroyer.

Those taken aboard the rescue ship included: Pauline Cox, Westmount, Que., and Geraldine Fitzgerald, Trinity, Nfld.

The ship provided the girls with warm clothing and turned over the salon to them. Short of clothes due to loss of their kit, some of the nurses came to Italy bareheaded. One moaned over the loss of 25 pairs of silk stockings.

The nurses were taken to a British hospital while army authorities arranged to provide new kits.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

In the service of morning worship the sermon by the Rev. Ronald Noble was "What Jesus Does For Us." Jesus brings forgiveness, freedom, makes natural a newness of life and power, makes sorrow a source of strength. Jesus helps us to live in the vision of His way, enables us to live in his steadfast reliance on the unseen. He puts into our hearts new and Christlike experiences and desires. The music of this service was led by the junior choir who sang Blair's "Faithful Shepherd Lead Us." The Church School met for its session of Bible Study at 2.30 p.m. Evening worship was observed at 7 p.m. with sermon by Mr. Noble, "Uncharted Territory." Hawley's "I Lay My Sins on Jesus" was the anthem of the evening. Mr. Preston Beck sang with fine expression Ashford's "My Task."

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

On Sunday morning the senior classes of the Sunday School and the Bible Class met at 10 a.m. The junior classes met during the morning church service.

In observance of laymen's Sunday Mr. John A. MacNair was in charge of the mornings service, assisted by His Honour Lieutenant Governor B.W. LePage. Prof. Roy Fraser of Mount Allison University preached the sermon, taking as his text, "Thou therefore endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ." He stressed Christ as active, indomitable, triumpnant, not merely a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief. His sacrifices were prompted by love; even his death was seen as a victory.

In His attitude to others He freely forgave the erring but denounced as foes those who were not active for Him. He cannot tolerate in his ranks those who, quisling like compromise with evil.

The preacher called on his hearers to gird themselves for the struggle against the forces of darkness with their leader, the triumphant Christ.

The pastor was in charge of the evening service.

The soloists were Miss Margaret Sterns in the morning and Mr George Johnston in the evening.

On Monday evening, November 22, about forty men of Trinity congregation met to consider organizing a men's club within the church Several committees were appointed to arrange for a supper meeting when the club will be organized and to which all men of the congregation are invited.

His life is a beautiful memory
His death is our silent grief,
He sleeps in God's beautiful garden
In the sunshine of perfect peace,
So leave him in God's keeping,
The rough road, safely o'er,
And our loved one we loved so well
Has only gone on before.
