Gentlemen:—

After ten years' experience in the use of the instrument, may say that I have greater faith in what the Oxydonor can do for those that are sick or in poor health, that ever before. In my judgment it will restore health when it is possible.

Yours truly.

An accident which might have been serious, but which was fortunately prevented by the timely assistance of Theo. Smith, occurred last Saturday on the South West River. Preston Woodside, wishing to test a motor boat which his brother Ira had recently purchased, started on a short sail down the river. After a few moments of exquisite sailing the engine stopped and all efforts to start it were in vain. An attempt to row ashore was equally unsuccessful. Meanwhile the boat was drifting down stream at a rapid rate, and doubtless Mr. Woodside would have had a longer journey than he intended had not his cries of desperation attracted the attention of Mr. Smith who happened to be near by, and who gallantly went to the rescue in another boat.

The members of the Methodist Sunday Schools of Vernon River and Cherry Valley held their annual picnic Tuesday afternoon at Earnscliffe, on the farm of Harry Tweedy. A finer day for a picnic, or a more suitable location could not have been secured. That portion of Mr Tweedy's farm, where the merry picnickers assembled fronts on Pownal and Orwell Bays, and is one of the prettiest little spots in this beautiful little Island. Francis Mutch placed his fine new sail boat at the disposal of the holiday seekers, and he and Mr Tweedy contributed largely to the enjoyment of the occasion by treating a large number of people to a delightful sail on the waters of this pretty little bay. while the younger members of the party enjoyed themselves with a number of amusing and interesting games. The lunch provided for the hungry travellers was another eloquent testimonial of the well known fact that when it comes to good baking the ladies of Vernon River, Cherry Valley and Earnscliffe cannot be beaten anywhere in P. E. Island. Altogether this was one of the best attended and most enjoyable picnics ever held in this part of the province, and when the shadows of evening were gently falling the folks regretfully wended their way homeward, all feeling very grateful to their friends the Tweedys for their kindness shown un this occasion.

THRILLERS AT THE ST. JOHN EXHIBITION.

"Death Swing," High Wire Wonders, Musical Dragoons, Battle of Dreadnoughts.

"They come high, but we must have them." That's what many a big city exhibition manager or park promotor has said of Granada and Fedora, the aerial wonder-workers of the tight rope and slack-wire, who are to perform twice daily before the grandstand at the Dominion Exhibition, to be held in St John, N. B., September 5th to 15th. Signor Granada and his co-worker do almost impossible things upon a single strand of rope at a dizzy height, and though they have been injured several times by falling to the ground and have had narrow escapes on other occasions, they persist in sending thrills through thousands at their perilous occupation. By no means inferior to this amazing acrobatic act will be the sensational "Swing of Death" by Madame Bergerat in her two ton automobile. Dashing down a steep platform into a large swing the auto and its intrepid occupant are whirled about and delivered to the ground in the twinkling of an eye, but at the risk of life. These expensive features and the Musical Ride of the Royal Canadian Dragoons will be witnessed every afternoon and evening during the Exhibition on the campus. The Dragoons have been a favorite attraction at the great Toronto Fair for two years past, and their coming to St. John will be at exceptional cost to the Exhibition Executive. At night $500 worth of fireworks will supplement this program in the open.

JUMPED FROM BROOKLYN BRIDGE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—As a result of a wager made with a companion with whom he had visited several Coney Island resorts yesterday, Wm. Cruikshank, a decorator of White Plains, today jumped from the Brooklyn Bridge near the Brooklyn Tower and escaped unhurt, swimming almost to the foot of the dock where boatmen from a schooner lassoed him and dragged him aboard.

With a companion, Melville Snow, Cruikshank started across the bridge from Manhattan on a trolly car. As they passed the Brooklyn pier, both men jumped from the car. Cruikshanks hurried toward the railing, throwing off his clothes as he ran. He paused but an instant, then plunged toward the river 110 feet below.

Cruikshank was arrested, and Snow also was held when he appeared, carrying the diver's clothing, and spoke of a $500 bet which had induced Cruikshank to make the leap.
