Does Not Want the Canadian Tariff McKinleyised—The Danger of a Retaliation Policy—It Would Strike Not Only at Foreign but at British Imports

TORONTO GLOBE ON THE TARIFF.
 TORONTO, Sept. 30.—(Special).—The Globe endorses Premier Ross' view of the policy of Canada for the Canadians but says, "We believe the two cardinal virtues in the tariff are moderation and stability. Both of these are endangered by the movement for McKinleyising the tariff."
 "We believe those who cry for a retaliation Canadian policy do not want the American Congress to frame our tariff. There is danger lest demagogic appeals to the prejudices against foreigners should result in a tariff which will strike not only at foreign but at British imports and will impose duties so high as to produce monopoly and stagnation in industry."
 "The policy of Canada for the Canadians would not be promoted in that way."

has only secured one conviction and the consequence is a corresponding increase in drunkenness. Some of the hindrances to the enforcement were stated to be (1) refusal to issue search warrants, (2) tardiness in laying cases, (3) making third offences first.

Prosecutor Campbell was present and being called upon stated that he was willing to lay cases on all the reliable information given him but did not undertake to furnish the evidence and stated that he gave the Government to understand that fact when he was appointed.

On being asked if he was willing to enforce the search warrant clause he claimed that he could not get a warrant except by special oath that he knew personally that liquor was held in possession.

In reply it was claimed that where there was reasonable evidence to believe that liquor was in possession a warrant could be issued and in every case where a conviction was obtained, a warrant of search was in order.

On being asked what steps he had taken to prevent the open sale of liquor during Exhibition week he intimated that it took time to pass the law in motion. He would not promise any convictions however.

A. W. Stearns in reviewing the situation was convinced the act was never intended to be enforced. The liquor was not unfriendly with the Government which proved the act was not injuring them. First offences only were equivalent to a license law which is evidently the object of the Government, not the destruction of the saloon.

Prosecutor Campbell said that the City Council were not friendly to the act and that he received no assistance from the policemen. He was in favor himself and had been advised to make cases first offences.

Rev. D. B. McLeod believed that the Government had felt that in giving the prohibition they had done the most popular thing and they would have been defeated in their election but for it. The public sentiment of the country is behind the law and now demands its enforcement or their defeat. Alex. Herne claimed the non-enforcement of the law was a disgrace to the City.

After further discussion by other speakers a resolution was passed recommending the appointment of Robert Jenkins of Mount Albion, as a prosecutor for the City.

THE TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE WANTS A NEW PROSECUTOR

The Open Violation of the Law Discussed—Prosecutor Campbell Charged With Neglect of Duty—He Defends Himself—A New Prosecutor Recommended.

A representative meeting of the Charlottetown Temperance Alliance was held in the Y. M. C. A. last evening. President J. K. Ross occupied the chair. He referred to the open violations particularly during Exhibition week of the Prohibitory Law and stated in his opinion that the Government were not in earnest in enforcing the law through their official, Prosecutor Campbell. The law is being brought into disrepute and drunkenness is greatly on the increase. The Prohibitory Law is a stringent and effective law if conscientiously enforced and the large measure of success which attended the efforts of the Temperance Alliance after the introduction of the Act proves that the Government would have little difficulty in enforcing the law if they desired. He also referred to the fact that a committee of the Alliance had already waited upon the Government and urged the appointment of a better Prosecutor and a more thorough enforcement of the penalties under the Act. The question for discussion, is the Prohibitory law being faithfully enforced, is one of interest to every right thinking citizen, and he trusted a full discussion would ensue.

 R. C. Goff gave a statement of the convictions obtained under the act since last May stating that the official Prosecutor got three or four and the Alliance ten or eleven convictions. The fine from Alliance convictions amounted to $1200 of which $1000 is paid. On account of hindrances the Alliance Prosecutor was withdrawn and the responsibility of enforcing the act left with the Government. Since that time six weeks ago the Prosecutor
