EXCITING EXPERIENCE—Two young men of Murray Harbor had an exciting experience a week or so ago. They are snip owners and had been on a Plotou with a cargo and were on their way back on Wednesday 10th, having reached the entrance to the harbor, when the gale of that night struck up. They dropped anchor but the wind was too much for their anchorage and they were driven about fifty miles during the night and next morning Port Hastings brought them up. They both escaped remarkably well.
