Robert Taylor And Barbara Stanwyck At Prince Edward

Two great stars, Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck, achieve their true greatness together in "This Is My Affair," which opened yesterday at the Prince Edward Theatre.

In "This Is My Affair," both Taylor and Miss Stanwyck find the most important, story either one has ever had, a dramatic account of a love supremely courageous and unshamed, endangering the nation's highest places and gambling life itself for a higher stake. And for Victor McLaglen, who heads the strong supporting cast, it marks the strongest role he has had since his powerful characterization in "The Informer" of the Academy Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

The exciting events of "This Is My Affair" takes place at the turn of the century, when the stability of the nation is threatened by an unprecedented series of sensational bank robberies in the Middle West. In a desperate move, President William McKinley calls upon a young Lieutenant, Robert Taylor, who has had a brilliant record under Admiral Dewey.

Sworn to secrecy, Taylor is instructed to disgrace himself in the Navy, to be discharged, and eventually to find his way to the bank robbers. Information turned up is to be forwarded to the President in a specially marked envelope which will immediately be brought to him unopened. No one—not even Admiral Dewey or the head of the Secret Service—is told of the plan.

Kenny Baker At Capitol

Kenny Baker, whom every radio fan knows and likes, makes his screen debut as a full-fledged movie star at the Capitol Theatre today.

He appears in the title role in "Mr. Dodd Takes the Air," a story which, appropriately enough, deals with a radio singer of Kenny's own type.

"Mr. Dodd Takes the Air" was adapted from a highly successful novel called "The Great Crooner," by Clarence Budington Kelland. It falls as a serial in a national weekly, and then was a best-seller in book form.

The young crooner has a meaty role as a small-town eccentric who suddenly found himself a famous radio star—all because of a throat operation. It is said by those who have seen the previews, that Baker makes the most of the role, and is a refreshing new screen character.

Frank McHugh, Warner Bros. top comedian, plays Kenny's press agent; the eccentric humor of Alice Brady is lent to the role of a goody opera-singer who wants to marry the young radio hero; the silky charms of Gertrude Michael animate the vamp role; and the sweet prettiness of Jane Wyman make the heroine's role delightful. Then there are such able players as Henry O'Neil, Ferris Taylor, Harry Davenport and Linda Perry.

LEGION APPOINTS COMMITTEES

Committees were appointed to take charge of sale of wreaths and poppies at a meeting of the Charlottetown branch of the Canadian Legion executive last evening. The sale will begin during the first week of November, it was announced. The committee will also make arrangements for the service of remembrance to be held at the Cenotaph in Queen's Square at 11 o'clock on Armistice Day.

POLICE COURT

Two men arrested in connection with the break at the Swift Canadian plant on Fitzroy Street recently were convicted on a charge of breaking and entering and theft in Police Court yesterday. They were remanded until Thursday for sentence. Another man on a similar charge elected to be tried in Supreme Court and was remanded until Thursday for preliminary hearing. A charge of theft against another man was withdrawn on request of the prosecution. A man charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, by means of worthless checks, was sentenced to two years in penitentiary. The sentence was suspended on recognition to keep the peace. Two drunks who failed to appear had their bail bonds of $5.00 each exonerated. A drunk was fined $5.00 and costs or ten days in jail, and another drunk remanded until today. A man charged with speeding was fined $10.00 and costs or twenty days and a dog owner for non-payment of dog tax fined $3.00 and costs or five days in jail.

Girl Guide News

The first Ellerslie Girl Guide Company held its final meeting for the season on Friday, October 22, 1937, in the Ellerslie Hall.

The Guides as eager as ever to carry on the game of Guiding have decided to have a weekly correspondence course under the direction of Iola Williams, Captain, Roberta Hays, Lieutenant, and the Court of Honor.

Among many activities of the year the Ellerslie Guides have come to a close with an excellent financial report. They have been busy working for Second Class and proficiency Badges, and have now uniforms, belts, ties, hats, compasses and also whistles for the officers, complete their uniforms.

Mrs. A. H. Hart-Davies hopes to be able to announce the formation of a Local Association of those interested in Guiding in Ellerslie sometime in the near future.

EXHIBIT BY LOCAL ARTISTS OF INTEREST

An exhibit of water colors and handicrafts, the work of members of the Prince Edward Island Art Society and other local artists which opened in the Harris Memorial Art Gallery on Saturday will close tonight.

The display has been proving of great interest to Charlottetown citizens who have attended the exhibition in large numbers. And the show is well worth a visit. It may not be as good generally as the exhibits loaned by the National Gallery but the pictures, especially the landscapes of which there are a number, have a freshness and vividness of coloring that is very pleasing. Treatment of still life, too, is very interesting. Of special interest to many was the small exhibit of handicrafts. Several woven articles show very skillful workmanship, and clever designs.

The Art Society is to be commended for the fine exhibition which is doing much to stimulate interest in art and bringing to the notice of the public the work of talented local artists.

Following are the pictures on exhibition: water colors—original: "Bellevue"—Lella Morris, Charlottetown. "Stanhope Beach"—Lella Morris, Charlottetown. Defective Ears In Exported Cattle

Reports recently received from Great Britain have mentioned the disqualification for the subsidy of a number of Canadian cattle, due to "defective ears," states the Live Stock Market Report of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

In one recent sale at Glasgow, 38 calves were disqualified. The sale price of these cattle was estimated to be about 40 shillings ($8) per head less on account of the disqualification. Exporters should, therefore, call out steers that show marks of any kind on the right ear, as examiners are particular in this respect and will not pass any animal that has any mark or deformity on the right ear.

The British regulations provide that imported cattle will not be eligible for the subsidy in all cases where the right ear has any punch hole of any shape in any position on the ear, half an inch or more across, and in the case of an animal which has any notch, snip, or cut out of the edge of the ear, half an inch or more across and extending half an inch or more into the ear. It is quite clear that anything other than the insertion of a tag is inadvisable. The clincher type of tag, now in more or less general use for identification purposes, seems to give reasonably good satisfaction and is rarely torn out or lost.

In order to qualify for the subsidy, animals must have been on feed for 90 days, and unless they bear on their right ears the identification mark of the date when they did go on feed, they are not eligible for the subsidy. Hence the importance of unmitigated right ears. The subsidy is apportioned as follows: for quality home-bred cattle 7/- per hundredweight of 112 pounds; ordinary home-bred 5/- per 112-pound cwt.; quality import, 5/- per 112-pound cwt.; and ordinary import, 2/- per 112-pound cwt.

MARRIAGE IMPROVES TRACKMAN'S SPEED

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Oct. 25—Does marriage help a track and field star? Opinions differ but it seems correct to say it does in the case of Robert "Scotty" Armit, 21 year old Lethbridge runner who is a nominee for the British Empire Track and Field teams.

In 1934, young Armit started his running career. He always showed plenty of stride and stamina but his performances were not particularly spectacular. Today he is an ace among Alberta trackmen.

Six months ago he was married. Since then he has won every race he entered.

Breaking championship records is part of his training, under the guidance of trainer Frank Miles, who lengthened his stride. He takes a tremendous stride now—about seven feet. New Alberta records stand in his name today.

Plugging steadily on a pair of piston-like legs through rain, snow and mud, over gravel, concrete and dirt roads, "Scotty" set a new record here in the annual Thanksgiving Day three mile road race.

Armit finished the grind with a running sprint to clip 4-5 seconds off a record set under ideal conditions in 1931 by Charles Conner of Bellevue, Alta. The new mark is 16 minutes, 15 2-5 seconds.

For Armit that time was slow. In practice after practice he easily ran the old mark. Once, running against time, he covered it in 14:50, a full minute and a half under the record he broke.

The winner gained the distinction of becoming the first home-brew—he was born in Lethbridge—to capture the classic in its 20 year old history. He finished far ahead of Cyril Barton and Dave Hart's of Medicine Hat, second and third respectively. Harris won the race last year.

In recent weeks trials for the British Empire Track team at Vancouver, Armit finished the three-mile race alone.

Mr. Parker had just returned from a two-week trip by auto, wagon and on foot through the newly-settled land in the north of the province. He made the trip to observe the workings of the Northern Settlers Re-establishment division of his department.

"I found an entirely different picture this year from last year," he said. "I found everybody happy and looking forward to going off relief. Scores will drop from the rolls this fall and say they do not expect to return.

"I saw settlers in the White Fox area going in for producing alfalfa seed. They sell it through their own co-operative association with 1,000 members.

"One man told me he had $1,000 return from seven acres of last year. I saw settlers who expect from 300 to 400 pounds of seed an acre from their land this year. All of them expect to make over $100 an acre."
