CHRISTIANITY AS A FORM OF POWER

Subject of An Address By Famous British Speaker At Zion Church Last Evening.

Last night in Zion Church, Dr. W. C. Poole was heard in a very forceful, inspiring address, entitled, "Christianity as a Form of Power." By way of introduction, Dr. Poole mentioned that, though he had visited the other two provinces of the Maritime group before, this was his first trip to our beautiful island province. As he travelled toward Charlottetown, he was impressed with the beautiful landscape and said that in many places there was a striking resemblance to England.

In approaching the subject of his discourse, Dr. Poole said that "the test of anything is power." The question is, "What does it do?" "Never mind your theories and hypotheses, what does it do?" In this connection the speaker showed conclusively that "Christianity meets the acid test." "Power is the very sine qua non of being a Christian. We do not need a revelation, we do not need a new Christ; we need to recover the untapped sources of power revealed in the life of Christ." "Christianity came into the world as a demonstration of power." In referring to the modern tendency to question the authority of God, Dr. Poole said:

Anderson Calm In Face of Death

Asks About "All The Boys Back Home"—Also Inquires About His Mother's Health.

(Canadian Press)
SYDNEY, N. S., May 19.—The question, "how are all the boys back in Berlin," and an enquiry about his mother's health, were the salutations with which Ingvald Anderson greeted a friend from Berlin, N. H., this afternoon, a few hours before he was to step on to a newly erected gallows to expiate the death of Rehberg. Anderson's visitor was Alfred Halverson, Secretary of the Nansen Ski Club of Berlin, of which Anderson was once a noted member. The condemned man talked and laughed freely without betraying the slightest concern as to his fate. "I'm sorry it turned out this way, but thanks just the same. I know you did everything that could be done for me," he said to D. A. Cameron, K. C., his Counsel, who called to announce the failure of the final plea to the Department of Justice.

The accident took place shortly before 8 o'clock at the crossing by Davis and Fraser's, as Mr. Beaton was driving out of the city toward his home. PLAY IN AID OF ORPHANAGE SUCCESSFUL

Comedy-drama Under Direction of Mrs. A. H. Roper Last Night At Prince Edward.

"Cold as charity" is a trite phrase, but it is not applicable to the citizens of Charlottetown, as was shown by the attendance at the play "Then Comes Kitty," a comedy drama presented under the auspices of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Protestant Orphanage at the Prince Edward last evening. "Comedy drama" is a descriptive, but often meaningless term. However, never was it more appropriately used to describe a play than for "Then Comes Kitty."

Always a talented director, Mrs. A. H. Roper had her cast of nine excellently trained and selected, each member fitting the role played to perfection, and each acting his or her part in a manner that would gain the approbation of the most carping critic.

The plot which opened quite mildly, developed in the second and third acts into a side-splitting comedy. The scene was laid in the Holyoak House, a mountain resort where William Winkler, a scheming middle aged bachelor, attempts to force his niece Jane, to marry Mr. Benjamin Moore, a man whom she has never seen, in order to secure for himself and Jane the fortune of his deceased brother according to the terms of the latter's will. With the opening of the second act comes a series of most ludicrous and mirth-provoking blunders which introduce

FEWER BERGS THIS SEASON

Work of International Ice Patrol For 1930 Reviewed By Captain C. M. Cabbett of N. S. Cutter Mojave.

(Canadian Press)
HALIFAX, N. S., May 19.—From a survey of the area covered by the International Ice Patrol and information from vessels passing through this region, it was very apparent that the 1930 ice patrol would be about six weeks shorter than last year, stated Captain Cecil M. Gabbett, Commander of the patrol, when the United States coast guard cutter Mojave returned to her base here recently after eighteen days patrol of the Grand Banks of Newfoundland. Commander Gabbett reported as follows:

"Few bergs are coming south in the Labrador current to the eastward of the Banks. The month of May is generally considered the worst month of the year for trans-Atlantic shipping in this respect. "Old sea dogs who travel through this area from year to year look for many bergs of the Tall at this time." Continued on Page 3

FIRST WOMAN ELECTED IN NFLD. HOUSE

Lady Helena Squires Was Returned With Large Majority.

(Canadian Press)
ST. JOHNS, Nfld., May 19.—Lady Helena Squires was distinguished tonight as the first woman elected to the Newfoundland Legislature, returns from Lewisporte indicating her retention of that constituency for her husband's Government by a large majority. In Bonavista, north and Placentia, west, the other constituency in which by-elections were held on Saturday, returns tonight were too meagre to definitely clinch final results; early reports however, showed the Government leading in both Ridings. Should the early trend continue, the Squires Government will have gained a seat, as Placentia, west returned the Opposition candidate in 1928. The vote in Lewisporte was Opposition, 241, a Government gain in majority of about 1,000 over 1928. The counts so far in Bonavista, north is Government, 589; William Winsor, Opposition, 489. In 1928 with 2,736 votes polled, the Government candidate was elected by a majority of 400. In Placentia, West, early returns show Leo Murphy, Government, leading W. A. Walsh, Opposition, by 395 to 320, while W. Jackman, Independent, is credited with 38 votes. A total of 2,402 electors gave the Opposition candidate a majority of 600 in this constituency in 1928.
