Chautauqua

Friday afternoon at Chautauqua was given over to readings by Miss Helen Waggoner and Mr. Leon Pearson, both of whom showed exceptional ability. There was also a one-act play entitled "The Open Road," which proved something new to Charlottetown audiences and like the readings, was a real treat and the time passed all too quickly for those attending.

At the evening Chautauqua "Crossed Wires" was very well produced and by the applause given showed how much it was appreciated by the large audience who crowded the big brown tent. "Crossed Wires" was chosen by Chautauqua from over 300 plays submitted and was excellently suited to the participants being intensely funny throughout and leaving a very pleasant memory of the merry side of life in connection with Chautauqua.

290,000 "Sweep" Letters Stopped

(By Dominion News Service.)
LONDON, July 20.—Over a quarter of a million letters were stopped in the post in connection with an alleged illegal sweep-stake it was stated at Marlborough Street Court.

David Charles Oheist, clerk, Roxwell-road, Shepherd's Bush, was summoned for publishing and circulating a sweep-stake at Regent street in connection with the Dugan's Dublin sweep-stake on the Derby run.

In connection with this sweep-stake, said Mr. Rowe, prosecuting, 291,268 letters were stopped in the post, 80,646 of which were posted in Ireland.

This probably represented but a fraction of those that got through to the post. Defendant employed 45 to 47 girls to address envelopes.

Towards the end of March, continued Mr. Rowe, the letters had accumulated to such an extent that ten Diamler cars were hired, at a cost of £102, to take them away and post them over the whole Metropolitan area.

Mr. Rowe said the amount of the prizes totalled £20,000. It was said the sweep-stake was in aid of the Dublin Meath Hospital, but what became of the hundreds and thousands of pounds which had been collected in excess of the prize money? There was no balance sheet and no audit.

A limited amount would go to the hospital with a great flourish of trumpets. The surplus, Mr. Rowe suggested, would be surreptitiously pocketed by the promoters.

It was said that the prize money had been lodged in a bank by the acting Lord Mayor of Dublin. The hearing was adjourned.

Why Communism Was Banned

(By Dominion News Service.)
LONDON, July 20.—"I cannot so soon forget the war," says the warden of Wadham College, Oxford, in giving his reason for the recent banning of David Kirkwood, M.P., from speaking at a garden party which was to have been held in the college gardens.

Writing to the promoters, he says, "During the war, Mr. Kirkwood was removed from Glasgow for causing industrial unrest. I cannot allow one who behaved thus to speak in my garden. I am exceedingly sorry to make these conditions, but politics is one thing and bad citizenship another."

Mr. Baldwin, in making this announcement in the House of Commons, said this munificent gift would remove the financial difficulty and enable the Government to accept the offer of the Faculty.

Vernon River Had Questions to Ask The Bell Supporters

It is estimated that over five hundred were present at the political meeting at Vernon River Thursday night. The large hall was crowded and there were many unable to secure seats. Mr. J. H. O'Keefe presided very capably. The meeting was a very orderly one, and a splendid hearing was given to the Conservative candidates, Messrs. McMillan and McLean, who both made able addresses. The speakers were Messrs. McLean, Hon. P. J. Nash, Shaw McMillan, J. C. Irving, John Wheatley, Hon. J. H. Sinclair, and Fred Mellish, of Union Road.

Mr. McMillan in his address referred to a bridge at Vernon River which cost over $700 a week to build, and which one man had offered to build for $45, but was turned down. He challenged the Liberal speakers to show the reason for this.

When Mr. Nash had finished speaking he was asked about "the Hazel Stillwell, aged twenty two from the farmers by the Bell Government." Mr. Nash received additional time in which to reply, but his answer did not satisfy the audience, as was evident from the requests to "sit down," which Mr. Nash was evidently forced to comply with.

Mr. Wheatley said he could prove beyond a doubt that the Conservative "deficit" of $253,000 had been trumped up for the purpose of catching votes in this election, and as an excuse for increasing taxes. He challenged Mr. Nash to disprove his arguments, which Mr. Nash could not do to the satisfaction of the audience, who again requested him to "sit down."

Mr. Wheatley denied that the Bell Government had come out with a surplus, as it was impossible to show a surplus on borrowed money.

When Hon. Mr. Sinclair spoke he was interrupted with cries of "Tell us about the Canadian Farm Products" and "Who has to pay those collateral notes signed by the farmers?" Mr. Sinclair after trying to disprove the Conservative charges turned his stream of eloquence into the channel of Dominion politics and continued on that subject until his time was up.

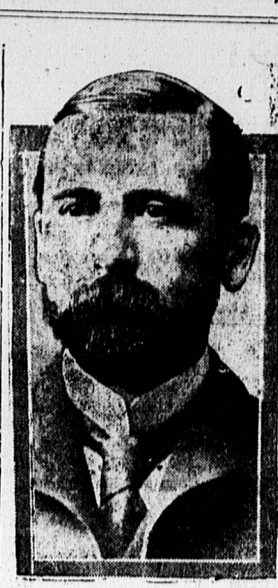

Mr. Mellish, the last speaker, strongly supported the Conservative candidates.

Old Solicitor Sent to Penal Servitude

(By Dominion News Service.)
LONDON, July 20.—Arthur Edward Watts, aged 63, a solicitor of Folkestone, was sentenced to four years' penal servitude at Kent Assizes for forging mortgage deeds and converting clients' money to his own use.

The total misappropriations were said by the prosecution to amount to £37,000. The most painful part of the duty he had to perform, said Mr. Justice Ivory, was the consciousness that it was possible the prisoner might not survive the sentence.

Mr. E. T. Higgs' Nomination
The Guardian regrets that in reporting the list of candidates who were nominated on Thursday, the name of Mr. E. T. Higgs, Liberal candidate for Assemblyman for Charlottetown and Royal, was inadvertently omitted. Mr. Higgs' nomination is entered as follows: Edmund T. Higgs, merchant, Charlottetown, supported by Lemuel E. Prowse, merchant, Charlottetown, and Miss Agnes Trainor, Charlottetown.

SIR GEORGE PERLEY.
Former Canadian high commissioner in London, has returned to this country.

Great Forest Fires in Quebec

QUEBEC, July 20.—Fifteen hundred men are now engaged in fighting the forest fires which have developed and increased in the St. Maurice river valley it was learned this afternoon at the forestry branch. The situation is said to be serious at nearly all points in that section, while reports from the other section are generally good.

The most serious fire reported in the St. Maurice district is one at Lake Moralis, where the area affected is quite extensive. In the vicinity of that same point fires have been reported at Cris Arsenic, Handahask, and generally north of the latter point named.

A fire was reported late today thirty miles up the Gatineau river showing that the fires are extending in that section. There seems to be more difficulty in getting men due to the fact that hay cutting is on and the farmers are very busy now.

Saving the Victory

(By Dominion News Service.)
LONDON, July 20.—Admiral Sir F. C. Doveton Sturdee, who presided at the annual meeting of the Society for Nautical Research held at the Royal United Service Institution, Whitehall, announced that the fund for the renovation of the Victory was going on very well.

Over £69,000 had been subscribed, but before the end of the year £80,000 would have to be got together from different sources, or the work would have to stop.

"I believe we shall get the money," said the Admiral. "The Victory is the greatest memorial that this Empire can put up for the whole of its career. Her timbers are crying out not to be sent to the shipbreakers."

Sir Philip Watts, who is on the committee superintending the work, reported that everything was being done to make the vessel look exactly as she did before Trafalgar. Guns would be put in, and even the cutlasses would be in their places.
