NO. 3.
Imagination can take one on a world tour with the aid of the dainties on our shelves. Behind the red label of a tin of pimentos we can see the ancient chivalry of Spain, coupled with the modern intrigue of that Latin race. Pure de Fole Truffles suggests the gaiety of the Parisian restaurants, and in direct contrast stands a severely plain jar of Grape Jelly, prepared by the deft fingers and old-fashioned methods of the conservative Quakers. Here, within the confines of our store, you will find the leading delicacies of all the lands, conveniently gathered for your selection. Store Closes at 5.30.

THE LATE CHAS. ANDREW. The death occurred at 11 a.m. on Sunday morning at his residence at Summerside from pneumonia after an illness of two weeks. Mr. Chas. Andrew at the early age of 33 years. The late Mr. Andrew, who was a member of the firm of Yess, Andrew and Son, was preceded by his father last February and his mother, Mrs. Andrew was called away a few months later. The late Mr. Andrew was well and favourably known and leaves to mourn his widow and three children. The funeral will be held as announced later. The Guardian extends sympathy to the bereaved family and relatives.
WELL KNOWN ISLANDER. The Guardian has received a copy of the New Haven Register containing the report of a hockey match in which the Massachusetts State of Technology hockey team defeated Yale before an audience of 300 spectators by the margin of a goal, scored in the last 2 minutes of play. The following reference is made to Gerald Dalton, B. A. Graduate of St. Dunstan's University now student hockey player of the Mass Institute of Technology, Cambridge, and son of Sir Charles Dalton: The goal which was scored in the final game by Jack Dalton, the visitors center, after a hot scrimmage in front of the Ellis rink was the lone tally of the exciting contest. Dalton caught a pass by the middle of the rink and launched it forth on a mad dash down the ice into Yale territory. He evaded the blue defensive men and made a quick lurch with his hockey as he lifted the puck at Archie Bell, the Yale goal tender. Bell, who had been stopping all kinds of shots throughout the evening, blocked the rubber in fine style but in doing so threw his body so that he fell to the ice. Dalton was a wild scramble edged it into the cage! The all-around fine passing of the M. I. T. crimson-clad ice skaters enabled them to keep the puck in Yale territory for the rest of the evening. On the other hand the M. I. T. defensive was perfect and Yale onslaughts were nipped whenever attempts were made. It was Yale's first intercollegiate rival this season on the home rink.

answered prisoner's description very much.
Miss Parkman, cashier at Prowse Bros. Ltd., testified that she received a $20 bill out of the cash carrier on Saturday afternoon about six weeks ago. She noticed it was a raised $10 bill on the Bank of Nova Scotia. The "10" were covered on the back and front except one "10" at the corner of the note with "2" over each figure "1". She asked Mr. Harris the cashier, who examined the bill for her, Mr. Harris then examined the bill and showed it to the boy who was still in the shop, and who said: "Isn't that a $20 bill?" Witness asked him where he got the money and he said "at another store". He was told to go back there with it. He resembled prisoner very much.
Murdoch Ross, merchant indolentified to the close resemblance between the prisoner and the young man he talked to about Dec. 24th in his store on Great George street. He had pressed and cleaned up a fawn overcoat for him a few days before (unlike coat prisoner was wearing) and the young man had handed him a $2 note with the four corners cut out. Asked by witness where he got the money he said at Peter McDonald's store. Witness told him it was dangerous to carry money like that as there was talk going round at the time about raised notes. Witness took note (produced and identified) to the Bank of Nova Scotia and left it with Mr. Dunbar, the cashier. The young man said his name was Henry McLeod, of Dunstaffnage and witness so looked him for the work done.
The Detective's Evidence
William J. Gillespie, of Halifax of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Department of Justice, testified that he had been sent here to investigate the matter of raised notes and had obtained certain information in consequence of which he went to Dunstaffnage and found and interviewed the prisoner, Henry McLeod. He did not place McLeod under arrest but simply asked him where he got the two dollar note which he showed him. McLeod said in Charlottetown at Peter McDonald's grocery store, corner Prince and Kent Streets. Witness told McLeod that Mr. McDonald denied this. They came to the Police station together and witness asked if he had not been in contact with the note. He said then he didn't know where he got it and later said at another grocery store by Marsh's. Witness accompanied by Marsh's Canadian grocery store, Mr. McQuinn and returned to witness and further questioned him, receiving evasive answers. Witness then laid information for his arrest as prisoner was warned before being placed under arrest. The thing he might say would be used in evidence against him. This occurred Saturday, January 9th. On the following Sunday Policeman told him prisoner came to witness and told him prisoner came to witness at the Police Station. After being again warned prisoner made a statement which witness wrote down in presence of Mr. McLaughlan, Charles Clerk and J. P. for the station who signed it as a declaration made before him by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act. This was signed by prisoner and read as follows: (document tendered in evidence):
Prisoner's Statement
"Charlottetown, P. E. I., Jan. 9th, 1922. I, Henry McLeod, of Dunstaffnage, Queens County, P. E. I., do solemnly declare that on December 31st, 1921, Bob Carver and Lorne Murphy gave me a ten dollar bill of Nova Scotia bill raised to twenty dollars to cash. I cashed it myself out of my own pocket. Murphy gave me another raised ten dollar bill and asked me to get it cashed. I then went to Prowse Bros. Ltd. to try and get it cashed. They would not cash it there. I then went to L. A. Haszard's grocery store on Grafton St. and bought a glass of ginger ale. I gave him the raised ten dollar bill and he gave me a $10 bill and a $5 bill and some change in silver—$19.90. I then came out of Haszard's store and met Murphy and Carver near Zion Church and gave them the $19.90 change. I went to Johnson and Johnson's drug store, corner of Prince and Grafton Streets, and bought a package of Sen-Sen from Miss Rafuse

Asked if he had anything to say, McLeod declared the boots were $4.50 and not $4.75 as Mr. Conroy had stated.
The case was held over for Supreme Court and will probably not be taken up until the Easter term, in May next. Search made for the young men Carver and Murphy referred to in prisoner's statement had been made that the animal had been running after a horse and catching the latter by the nose. "My dog is but a pup" said the owner and is all right when he is at home but gets excited when abroad. The case was adjourned for a week to enable the owner to do something with the dog in the meantime.
A young man charged with breaking a chair and doing other damage in the Chinese restaurant last Monday week was fined $5 and costs. G. S. Inman appeared for the complainant. A property owner was fined $5 for neglecting to remove snow from the sidewalk, the penalty being $2 for every offence and $2 per day for every day the snow is allowed to remain.
LLOYD GEORGES CONDEMNNS SUBMARINES
CANNES, Jan. 14.—That submarines are more dangerous to merchant vessels than warships, as he believed the late war had proved, and that torpedo boats and submarines are the best defensive craft, was the opinion which Premier Lloyd George, of Great Britain, expressed to French correspondents in reply to questions they put to him before his departure from Cannes this evening.
"I don't fear submarines in the least," he said, "but I fear them in general."
The Premier wished the Anglo-French pact would be signed before the Geneva conference. He explained that the Italian Government would not for the present be asked to adhere to it because the shape of the Italian frontiers did not require additional safeguards. He declared that agreement with Belgium had been effected and with regard to the Near East question, he hoped it would be settled within the next fortnight at a meeting of foreign ministers to be held at Paris.

The clerk there, I gave her a raised $10 bill and she gave me $19.95 change. This was the bill I changed for Murphy out of my own money. On December 9th I met Murphy and Carver on Great George Street. Lorne Murphy gave me two raised $10 bills to pass. I then went to Jenkins and Sons' grocery store on Grafton Street and asked the clerk if he could change a $20 bill. He said yes, and gave me a $10 bill and to five. I then went to Mr. Conroy's boot and shoe dealer, on Queen St., and bought a pair of hockey boots, paying $4.50 for them. I gave Mr. Conroy a raised $10 bill in payment and he gave me $15.50 in change. I then met Murphy and Carver on Great George Street and I gave Murphy $30.50 change. Murphy then gave me two $2 Dominion of Canada notes. I bought a chocolate bar at Mr. Collin's grocery store and gave him a cent bill in payment and he gave me $1.95 in change. I passed the other cut bill at Murdoch Ross, tailor, on Great George St. And I made this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath.
(Signed) HENRY McLEOD.
Mr. McKinnon objected to the admission of this declaration and confession as evidence, maintaining that after arrest a man is necessarily under restraint and cannot therefore make a statement which can be received by the court as voluntary. There was no objection for the statement as the court would hear the evidence anyway.
The Magistrate decided there was no evidence that the prisoner's confession was other than a purely voluntary one.
Mr. McKinnon's confession from a person who has not good mental capacity is of no use.
Detective Gillespie identified the articles of evidence. Cross examined by Mr. McKinnon he declared that he considered McLeod to be sensible.
Robert Colwell, proprietor of Johnson and Johnson's drug store, took the stand and testified to having first seen the raised bill three or four weeks ago in the cash box of his store (bill identified in court). He noticed something peculiar about a few days after wards but had no suspicions until a conversation with Mr. Haszard, the did not know how it got into the store. Afterwards Detective Gillespie called, examined the bill and took it with him.
Philip Steel was called as a witness but did not appear. This concluded the evidence.
Mr. McKinnon said the whole evidence showed the accused was not of good mentality. He had evidently been the tool of

To the Electors of Ward 2

Ladies and Gentlemen:
Two years have elapsed since you did me the honor of electing me as your representative in the City Council. During that time I have earnestly endeavored to perform my public duties in accordance with the promises I made to you when soliciting your support, and as I am now, at the request of a number of the electors of the Ward, seeking reelection at your hands, it will be for you to say, by your votes, whether or not I am entitled to a continuance of your support.
During the term of the outgoing Council the rate of taxation was somewhat increased, but owing to the greater cost of administration and the larger monetary demands for education, this was unavoidable. Large expenditures were also made for the construction of asphalt streets and storm sewers, but as these works are of a strictly permanent character the outlay involved in their construction was fully justified.
As the general taxation burden to be borne by our citizens is, to the present at least, sufficiently heavy, I shall, if elected, oppose any further material increase in the rate of taxation.
I am most favorable to the installation of a modern fire alarm system. For a great many years our excellent volunteer fire brigades afforded our citizens a most efficient and inexpensive protection against disastrous fires. Before any reasonable expenditure, that will make for the increased efficiency of that splendid organization, will I feel sure, meet with the approval of all rate payers.
In short, if you further honor me by re-election I shall continue to work diligently for the good government of the City generally, and with a view, of course, regarding as paramount the interests of the electors of Ward 2.
Respectfully soliciting your support on February 15th, I am,
Faithfully yours,
WILLIAM MORAN.

Large expenditures were also made for the construction of asphalt streets and storm sewers, but as these works are of a strictly permanent character the outlay involved in their construction was fully justified.
As the general taxation burden to be borne by our citizens is, to the present at least, sufficiently heavy, I shall, if elected, oppose any further material increase in the rate of taxation.
I am most favorable to the installation of a modern fire alarm system. For a great many years our excellent volunteer fire brigades afforded our citizens a most efficient and inexpensive protection against disastrous fires. Before any reasonable expenditure, that will make for the increased efficiency of that splendid organization, will I feel sure, meet with the approval of all rate payers.
In short, if you further honor me by re-election I shall continue to work diligently for the good government of the City generally, and with a view, of course, regarding as paramount the interests of the electors of Ward 2.
Respectfully soliciting your support on February 15th, I am,
Faithfully yours,
WILLIAM MORAN.

To the Electors of Ward 2

Ladies and Gentlemen:
Two years have elapsed since you did me the honor of electing me as your representative in the City Council. During that time I have earnestly endeavored to perform my public duties in accordance with the promises I made to you when soliciting your support, and as I am now, at the request of a number of the electors of the Ward, seeking reelection at your hands, it will be for you to say, by your votes, whether or not I am entitled to a continuance of your support.
During the term of the outgoing Council the rate of taxation was somewhat increased, but owing to the greater cost of administration and the larger monetary demands for education, this was unavoidable. Large expenditures were also made for the construction of asphalt streets and storm sewers, but as these works are of a strictly permanent character the outlay involved in their construction was fully justified.
As the general taxation burden to be borne by our citizens is, to the present at least, sufficiently heavy, I shall, if elected, oppose any further material increase in the rate of taxation.

In short, if you further honor me by re-election I shall continue to work diligently for the good government of the City generally, and with a view, of course, regarding as paramount the interests of the electors of Ward 2.

Faithfully yours,
WILLIAM MORAN.

Backache

Backache is the outstanding symptom of kidney disease. Women often make the mistake of attributing other causes and overlook the derangement of the kidneys until serious development has made it difficult to obtain permanent relief.
This letter points to a treatment which has been so thoroughly tried and proven to be effective in the great majority of cases that you cannot afford to overlook it when cause arises for its use.
Mr. Albert Brunet, R.R. No. 1, Ottawa, Ont., writes:
"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past two months. I have been afflicted with kidney trouble. I used the doctors' medicine previous to this, without any good result. A friend told me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I took several boxes and, well, a good deal better. I have now used six or eight boxes, and am completely relieved."
