You can't say S.W.P. is expensive because it costs more per gallon than a lot of other paints on the market. It covers so much more surface and lasts so long that it is the most economical paint you can buy.

Sherwin-Williams Paint, Prepared (S.W.P.) will cover 425 square feet to the gallon, two coats, which is considerably better than the best that "hand mixed lead and oil" or many so-called "mixed paints" will do. There is only one logical way to figure the cost of paint and painting—learn what a gallon of paint will cover and how long it will last; find the cost of keeping your buildings painted year in and year out. On this basis S.W.P. is the most economical paint it is possible to use.

We control the source of supply for most of the ingredients of S.W.P. so that we can be sure it's pure; we make our own linseed oil—in fact, the final quality of S.W.P. is the sum total of high class materials, manufacturing skill and experience. The S.W.P. agent in your locality has, in addition to Sherwin-Williams Paint (S.W.P.) for buildings inside and out, a paint or varnish or stain for every purpose. DISGRACEFUL OCCURRENCE

On Wednesday evening a street affair took place which was an absolute disgrace to the City of Charlottetown, an affair which should make the citizens of this fair City demand that something be done at once to bring an immediate and effectual ending to it forever.

About ten o'clock, P. C. Brown, the son of P. S. Brown of the Bevere Hotel, was seeing a lady friend home when, at the corner of King and Great George Street, a gang of the most miserable specimens of humanity to be found anywhere accosted him with the vilest names and insinuations imaginable.

The young man managed to control his temper and tried to find out who the lads were.

His efforts at the time were unavailing but yesterday morning some of the names were obtained, and an immediate complaint laid against them.

Mr. Brown was followed to where his friend lived, and then apparently satisfied with their disgusting remarks, the ruffians started fighting among themselves. He, wishing to escape a scene of any kind, as a crowd were gathering, quietly went away.

That these noble knights of the street had been indulging in liquor is without question, and a prominent city official noticed the same fact, but far from being an excuse, the state of their condition only serves to make matters worse.

If this had been the only case of late, one might hope for better things but when it is remembered that a few days ago five young ladies were treated in a similar manner, in the same locality, the outlook for a reformation, is poor, to say the least.

However, splendid a reputation a city may enjoy, and however much prosperity it may possess, the safe guarding of the honor of its women and their lawful rights, must be carefully looked after, if not other things are of no avail.

The fault is not with the police, they are doing their level best, but something is wrong somewhere, and where should be at once brought to light.

It is most earnestly to be hoped that when these despicable characters are brought before the court of justice, no mere fine will be imposed upon them, but a punishment of such a nature as they will long remember.

of the most interesting features of it being Irene Franklin and Burt Green. Miss Franklin has come to the front as the leading exponent of eccentric songs and there is now no cleverer artist in her particular line on the stage today. She has made famous a number of songs including her great hit, "Red Head," and about every time she has been seen at this house she has had something new and exceptionally good to offer.

Edwin Stevens, who was the star in Henry W. Savage's company playing "The Devil," will also be a big feature of this bill appearing in a series of Dickens' character sketches which have been winning wide popularity on the circuit.

Still another big feature will be Frank Morrell, the remarkable tenor, who was one of the stars in Coban and Harris' Minstrels. Mr. Morrell is offering an especially good program of songs and his present act is making one of the biggest successes of his career.

Still another is Charles and Fanny Van in their humorous sketch called "The Stage Carpenter and the Soubrette." In fact the entire bill will be made up of features of this kind, a new one in vaudeville in Boston being the Ahearn Troupe who are introducing something novel in the way of bicycle feats that surpasses anything previously done in this line. Others will be Paul LaCroix, the juggler with the hats; Edgar Allen & Co., Ida O'Day, Hastings and Wilson and others. L. L.
