(Canadian Press)
LONDON, June 1.—Explaining dispatch of warships to Egypt, Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, told the House of Commons that until an agreement is reached with the Egyptian government, concerning the Egyptian army, Great Britain "must insist upon the maintenance of sea forces which past experience has shown to be effective." He declared that Great Britain would not permit the full play of offensive influences which would imperil Britain's vital interests and obligations in Egypt, namely, the defence of the Suez Canal and the protection of foreigners. Great Britain, he said, was ready to open negotiations for settlement of the present problems.

Germany's Aid Not Solicited

(Canadian Press)
BERLIN, June 1.—Reports from Paris alleging that Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, had made overtures to Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German Ambassador at London, with a view to enlisting Germany's co-operation in the Anglo-Russian break, were dismissed in official quarters today as wholly without foundation. The party leaders are continuing to show a solid front in demanding that Germany observe an attitude of rigid neutrality, not only because of her exposed position in continental Europe, but chiefly of the menacing ramifications involved in the situation.

TWO SWANS DROWN A DOG

LONDON, June 1.—A fight to the death between two swans and a dog, which had swum to retrieve its master's stick, was watched by a crowd at Keston lakes, near Bromley, Kent, recently. The swans attacked the dog with strokes from their powerful wings and beaks, and held it under water until it was dead. The dog's master, a visitor had thrown his walking-stick into the lake. Unfortunately it floated near the enclosure in which the female swans were sitting on their eggs. The two male swans at once attacked the dog, which was almost helpless to defend itself from their fury. People who visit the neighbourhood are always warned not to approach the swans in spring.

(Canadian Press)
WINNIPEG, June 1.—Nationalist control of China is an inevitable outcome of the present situation, Right Rev. Dr. William C. White, Bishop of Honan China, declared on his arrival here from the west. "Then will follow internal disorder—not necessary against foreign or christian interests, communists now are occupying chapels, churches and schools," Bishop White said. While missionaries had left China in large numbers they were not leaving on account of danger but at the urgent request of different legions who sought to avoid diplomatic embarrassment he added. Bishop White returned to the Dominion to attend the general synod of the Church of England in Canada which meets in Kingston, Ont., next September.

LONDON, June 1.—Miss "Billie" Tapscott of the South African women's lawn tennis team that recently arrived in London, appeared at the visiting team's first practice on the grass courts of the Hurlingham Club, wearing no stockings. There were many speculations amongst the onlookers as to whether the mode would be copied by other players generally in this country. The other members of the touring South African women's lawn tennis team are Mrs. Peacock and Miss E. L. Heine. Miss Heine is only 17 years of age. The South African ladies will compete in the French hard court championships in Paris and in the championships at Wimbledon.

More Canadians Read Higher Class Books

TORONTO, Ont., June 1.—Commenting recently on Canadian public statistics for the past year, Dr. George Locke, chief librarian of the Toronto library, remarked that the figures proved conclusively that the automobile, the moving pictures and the radio are not presenting the serious competition to reading which many people feared they would. "Canadians are reading more astiduously than ever before, and they are reading better books," said Dr. Locke. "While, of course the demand for the cheaper popular fiction continues to be heavy, reports from all the libraries show a steadily increasing demand for biographies and books of travel. People are demonstrating an ever-growing curiosity concerning those few sections of the world which are not yet fully known, and such books as Lawrence's 'Revolts in Arabia' are being eagerly sought."

Strange Dishes at Gourmets' Lunch

PARIS, June 1.—Once annually a select circle of Parisian gourmets, imbued with gastronomic curiosity to an unusual degree, gather round a hospitable table to taste of strange and previously unknown dishes. These lunches are organized by members of the Zoological Society and, as past years produced such dishes as camel hump steak, zebra cutlets, elephant trunk stew, etc., and a number of strange plants as vegetables. Today, when the privileged guests sat down to lunch, they found an exceptionally original menu, made up as follows: Chinese soup with eggs. Salt Russian bolets. Sander in gribiche sauce. Matelotte of uromastix. Porcupine green venise. Corsican mouflon. "Intrassacod" chicken. Chilean beans a la Bretonne. "Acclimatation" salade. Pineapple ice, fruits in season, papayan jam. Arabics coffee from Tonkin. Orchid tea of the lancheon. Sander (or Gander) is a fish from rivers in eastern Europe. Uromastix is a large African lizard from the Saharan sands. While not of exotic origin "Intrassacod" is a very interesting culinary innovation. It consists of a sauce infused into the bird's heart and diffused throughout the meat through the blood vessels.

PROPAGANDA OF SOVIETS DENOUNCED

PARIS, May 31.—The United States Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, speaking at the United States military cemetery at Suresnes today, declared that the ruling powers of Soviet Russia were engaged in paid propaganda activities throughout the world and that the United States would not tolerate the spreading of Bolshevism to its shores. "I believe," he continued, "that the people in every country have got to choose between order and anarchy, between honesty and thievery, between every day virtue and crime. Either we believe in orderly society, or we don't; if we do, we ought to use all the power within us to defend and advance the cause of peace, order and stability. The impudent, mischievous propaganda of paid, organized propagandists throughout the world has gone steadily on and in common with others, I have been forced by these events to view with increasing attention this sinister movement. Declaring that the leaders of the Soviet regime do not speak for the great mass of the Russian people, Mr. Herrick said that the Bolshevist system thus far seems to be the world in general more tyrannical and oppressive than any preceding despotic regime. "We have no thought of attacking the Soviet regime in Russia; what it does on its own 'Reservation' is its own affair. But we do object with all the earnestness of a self-respecting nation and quite regardless of material considerations, to give to its leaders the means and opportunity of poisoning us. We intend to protect our country from Bolshevism and the fact that a government secretly sends agents into the germs of a so-called malady instead of openly despatching armies, does not make the invasion less felonious or alter our duty to repel it."

Police Make Arrests Yesterday in Connection with the Vogue Robbery

Developments, following the Vogue robbery, are coming in quick succession. First, on May 17th last, the goods were discovered, last Friday Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McCloskey were arrested by two Montreal detectives and sent to the Supreme Court on the charge of having received stolen goods and the latest phase occurred yesterday afternoon, when Police Officers Watson Higgins, Dominic Doyle and Allan McInnis, on warrants issued two young men on the charge of actually perpetrating the crime. Later in the evening a third culprit was apprehended in an intoxicated condition by Police Officer Walker. One of the accused was to appear at the coming session of the Supreme Court on the charge of assault. Another is on bail pending his appearance at the same court, for breaking, entering and stealing, while the third has comparatively no criminal record. They will likely appear before Stipendiary Magistrate this morning to answer to the charge against them.

Early Capture of Peking Predicted

(Special to the Guardian)
LONDON, June 1.—Irregular reception of despatches from Peking today indicates that the censorship is active but despatches to the Associated Press state that the Ankuochun or northern alliance now admits the withdrawal of the northerners on the whole front owing to reverse at the hands of the southern nationalist armies in Honan. With this news of the northerners' collapse which is taken here to herald the possible early fall of Peking, comes confirmation of reports which have been gathering force in the past few days that the powers have decided to send expeditionary troops to the number of 16,000 to Peking and Tientsin and to take other measures for the protection of foreign interests.

GEN. ASSEMBLY CONVENES AT STRATFORD

(Special to the Guardian)
STRAFORD, June 1.—For the next week the classic city bearing the historic name of Stratford on Avon will be the mecca of Presbyterians. Situated in the centre of one of the best mixed farming communities of Ontario, the city bears evidence of great prosperity. The streets are beautifully laid out and the trees along the streets remind one greatly of the city of Charlottetown. Its beautiful Victoria Lake has charms which will live long in the memories of these Presbyterian commissioners who look upon it for the first time. Overlooking the lake stands Knox Presbyterian Church, the meeting place of the Fifty Third General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Here the commissioners from all parts of Canada will assemble and an amount of business will be carried through with a dispatch which would be a credit to any legislative assembly. The first interest attaches to the election of a moderator to succeed Rev. Dr. A. J. MacGillivray of Guelph who has presided over the church for the past year. The selection will be made after the opening service tonight at which service the retiring moderator will preach the sermon. Several ministers prominent in the church have been nominated to fill this high office, the most prominent being Rev. Dr. L. Banks Nelson of Hamilton and Rev. Dr. W. Leslie Gray of Victoria, B. C., a native of Prince Edward Island. Following the election of the moderator matters of routine character will be dealt with and the main business session will begin Thursday morning.

On Thursday morning a monoplane will take the air from the North River. The pilot will be F. Sidney Cotton, Newfoundland almid pilot and seal spotter. He will be accompanied by Cy Caldwell as relief pilot and observer and a mechanic.

U. S. Ambassador Attacks Russia For Sending Germs of Loathsome Malady Abroad.

PARIS, May 31.—The United States Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, speaking at the United States military cemetery at Suresnes today, declared that the ruling powers of Soviet Russia were engaged in paid propaganda activities throughout the world and that the United States would not tolerate the spreading of Bolshevism to its shores. "I believe," he continued, "that the people in every country have got to choose between order and anarchy, between honesty and thievery, between every day virtue and crime. Either we believe in orderly society, or we don't; if we do, we ought to use all the power within us to defend and advance the cause of peace, order and stability. The impudent, mischievous propaganda of paid, organized propagandists throughout the world has gone steadily on and in common with others, I have been forced by these events to view with increasing attention this sinister movement. Declaring that the leaders of the Soviet regime do not speak for the great mass of the Russian people, Mr. Herrick said that the Bolshevist system thus far seems to be the world in general more tyrannical and oppressive than any preceding despotic regime. "We have no thought of attacking the Soviet regime in Russia; what it does on its own 'Reservation' is its own affair. But we do object with all the earnestness of a self-respecting nation and quite regardless of material considerations, to give to its leaders the means and opportunity of poisoning us. We intend to protect our country from Bolshevism and the fact that a government secretly sends agents into the germs of a so-called malady instead of openly despatching armies, does not make the invasion less felonious or alter our duty to repel it."

Early Capture of Peking Predicted

(Special to the Guardian)
LONDON, June 1.—Irregular reception of despatches from Peking today indicates that the censorship is active but despatches to the Associated Press state that the Ankuochun or northern alliance now admits the withdrawal of the northerners on the whole front owing to reverse at the hands of the southern nationalist armies in Honan. With this news of the northerners' collapse which is taken here to herald the possible early fall of Peking, comes confirmation of reports which have been gathering force in the past few days that the powers have decided to send expeditionary troops to the number of 16,000 to Peking and Tientsin and to take other measures for the protection of foreign interests.

Chinese Protest Against Landing of Foreign Troops

(Canadian Press)
TSINGTAO, China, June 1.—Three Japanese regiments of 3,000 men arrived here today from Dairen. The Chinese authorities immediately protested against the landing of the foreign troops. (Several days ago, the Japanese government ordered 2,000 troops to proceed from Manchuria to Tsingtao for the purpose of protecting Japanese lives and property in the Shantung Railway zone. It was stated however, that they were being sent merely as a precautionary measure.)
