S'ide Firemen Discuss Dept. Needs At Banquet

Needs of the Summerside Fire Department were discussed at the annual banquet of the Department held last evening in Coy's Restaurant with Fire Chief W. B. McNeil presiding. Mayor J. P. Arnsie, members of the Council and the Water and Sewage Commission were guests.

Mayor Arnsie expressed his appreciation at being invited to attend and said that he felt that the firemen were being unfairly criticized and he firmly believed that they did the best they could at all times with the equipment at their disposal. "The Fire Department must advance with the times," Mayor Arnsie said, and he stressed that he is behind them wholeheartedly.

The town clerk, Mr. J. H. Strong, also spoke and said that the fire at St. Paul's Church was normal at all times. He suggested that more of the firemen and the water commissioners should attend the Maritime conventions held annually.

Mr. Thomas Johnson, an ex-fire chief said that the Department has come a long way since he was a member. He pointed out that new types of construction make fire fighting more difficult.

Ex-Fire Chief William Matheson stressed the need for new implements. He was critical of the fact that hydrants were frozen at the St. Paul's Church fire and said that "when you have a long relay, friction increases and pressure is lost."

Councillor Henry Wedge approved the idea of having annual banquets as a means of getting the firemen and the Council together for the exchange of ideas.

These returned servicemen, former members of the Fire Department, were present and spoke briefly at the festive occasion. They were Frank Woodside, Edward Arsenault and Robert Olver. Councillor Louis Corri and commissioners Leith Stewart, John Y. Phillips and Carrol Delaney spoke briefly.

Concluding the remarks of those present, Chief McNeil thanked Mayor Arnsie for his presence in the Fire Department.
