Transfer Of Charlottetown Air Navigation School To Summerside Is Live Topic

Report Confirmed By Phone Conversation With Acting Air Minister—Joint Emergency Meeting Of City Council And Trade Board Held—Delegation To Ottawa Planned.

News that the R.C.A.F. Navigation School at Charlottetown is being transferred to Summerside on February 4 was the subject of lively discussion at a joint meeting yesterday of the City Council and Charlottetown Board of Trade.

The news was said to have been received officially at the airport and subsequently confirmed by telephone conversation with the acting Minister of Defense for Air, Colonel Gibson.

The joint meeting, at which Mayor J. E. Blanchard presided, strongly favored sending a delegation at once to Ottawa to protest against the move. Subsequently it was decided to await further communication by wire from the Air Minister and Hon. Cyrus MacMillan.

Should a delegation be sent it will comprise Coun. T. B. Rogers, representing the City; W.L. Higgins, representing the Board of Trade; Leo Bradley, representing the Charlottetown branch of the Canadian Legion; Hon. T. W. L. Prowse, representing Charlottetown in the Provincial Government, and Mr. J. Lester Douglas, M.P.

In the event of the delegation going—about which there was divided opinion last night—it will likely go by chartered plane to Ottawa, leaving Sunday afternoon.

Yesterday's Meeting

Coun. T.B. Rogers, at the Mayor's request, explained that an emergency meeting had been held this (Friday) morning by some citizens who had the information direct from the commanding officer of the airport in Charlottetown. His orders were that the Navigation School classes in Charlottetown will proceed to Summerside on Feb. 4. The authorities were closing the Reconnaissance School at Summerside, but they were reopening in Summerside with our Navigation School, and closing it here.

"Charlottetown," Coun. Rogers said, "has all the facilities for the Navigation School; the radio beam, etc., and has never lost a flying hour in navigation instruction.

"This morning at that meeting the acting Minister for Air, Mr. Gibson, was contacted by Mr. J. Lester Douglas, who told him what the report was. Mr. Gibson's answer was, 'I am afraid it is true.' Mr. Douglas suggested to him that it was peculiar that nobody in Charlottetown had known anything about it, and Mr. Gibson replied that Dr. Cyrus MacMillan knew all about it.

Called Dr. Cyrus

"I called Dr. Cyrus MacMillan in Montreal on behalf of the City. He told me he was confined to his house with a cold, and knew nothing about it. I told him the Minister had said he knew all about it, and he said 'I know nothing about it.' So it would appear that somebody is passing the buck.

"Mr. Douglas is wholly behind any effort that the City may take in preventing the suggested move," Coun. Rogers said. "The Mayor has called this emergency meeting to discuss what action to take in the matter. If we let this go by, I think now is the time to decide whether or not to get Frank Quinn to move the Provincial Buildings to Summerside, or keep them here in the capital. We are very quickly reaching the status of Fredericton, New Brunswick. Summerside will be the Saint John of Prince Edward Island soon."

Summerside Delegation

Mayor Blanchard said he understood a delegation had gone to Ottawa from Summerside.

Coun. Rogers: "There is no definite proof of that, but at the meeting this morning it was suggested that that was what happened—that Summerside has already had a delegation in Ottawa. I think everyone saw the statement Mr. Brennan made about the Summerside airport, about the building programme that is going on there. It is definitely being fitted up to accommodate our Navigation School, notwithstanding that our beam and everything is here at Charlottetown.

"There was no secret about this information; it came in not as a secret order at all; it was talked about last night and I think we are at perfect liberty to take what action we choose."

Coun. J.T. McKee suggested that the meeting be termed a joint meeting of the City Council and Board of Trade.

Coun. Rogers: "I am of the opinion that we can talk and telephone and do whatever we can do here.

Well-Known Retired Teacher Dies In Ch'town

Funeral Of Prof. George E. Robinson Yesterday.

At midnight January 24th, there passed away in the Prince Edward Island Hospital the spirit of George E. Robinson, retired professor from the University of British Columbia.

A native of this Province, he received his early education in the schools of this city and headed the list of successful candidates in the Entrance Examinations to Prince of Wales College in 1879, winning the scholarship awarded for the first time to pupils from the city schools.

In 1881, he graduated from that institution carrying the gold medal given for proficiency in classics. At the Matriculation examination to Dalhousie University in the summer of that year he obtained a Junior Munro Bursary and two years later a Senior Bursary and graduated from that institution with honors in mathematics and physics.

He began his teaching career in West Kent school but was shortly promoted to the position of supervisor of city schools and secretary of the Board of School Trustees. In 1891 he was appointed to the staff of Prince of Wales College where he remained for two years when he accepted a position in the High School recently opened in Vancouver B.C. The rapid growth of that city led to a demand for higher educational facilities and this was met first by the affiliation of the High School with McGill University and later by the establishment of McGill University of British Columbia of which Prof. Robinson became the principal in 1907 and remained as such till the opening of the Provincial University of B.C. about 1914. Though urged by his colleagues, he refused to consider the acceptance of the Presidency of the new university and supported the appointment of Dr. F.F. Westbrook for that position. Under the presidency of Dr. Westbrook he accepted the position of Registrar and Dean of the Faculty of Arts but as he much preferred the work of the class room to that of the Executive office, he later relinquished these duties and devoted his energy to the teaching of mathematics and his spare time to Literature and golf.

In 1911, he married Miss Sarah Harris of this city and their home in Pt. Gray offered a welcome to many an Islander visiting Vancouver.

After his retirement in 1932, they decided to end their days in their native province and among the many friends of their youth. They returned to Charlottetown in 1939, and made their home in Brighton near his sister Mrs. H.R. Hillson and her sister Mrs. W.L. Cotton.

In the passing of Prof. Robinson, a familiar figure has gone from our midst. Quiet and retiring he was known and loved by many among his old students of P.W.C. and his associates of the Abegweit Football Club of which he was an original member and for several years captain of the team.

To the present generation of athletes, the name of George Robinson and his brother Hooper are passed down as among the great ones in the Island's athletic history.

To his widow in her bereavement and present illness and his sister, Mrs. Hillson, sincere sympathy will be extended.

The funeral was held yesterday from the home of his sister, Mrs. H.R. Hillson, Ambrose Street, with services conducted by the Rev. T.H. B. Somers and the Rev. Canon Malone. Interment was in St. Peter's cemetery with Canon MacLone officiating. The pallbearers were W.E. Bentley, Dr. F.E. Smallwood, A. Belcher, A.B. Fisher, H.E. Putnam and E.T. Higgs.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP) — Closings of schools, amusement places and even curtailment of some war production was threatened through the 16 northeastern industrial states today in the wake of the worst railroad jam in years.

A freight embargo that will halt all but emergency military shipments until Monday midnight touched off the closings.

Allies Reach Gateway To Ruhr Valley

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR

PARIS, Jan. 26 — (AP) — The British 2nd and United States 9th Armies rolled up to the gateway of the industrial Ruhr Valley today, clearing the enemy from all Siegfried defence works west of the Roer River system on a 40-mile front only 25 miles from the City of Dusseldorf.

As the 9th Army went into action for the first time in six weeks, the United States 7th Army at the opposite end of the front in northeastern France threw a new German offensive into reverse and lifted the threat to the Alsatian Capital of Strasbourg by driving the last enemy soldier back across the Moder River.

In the Ardennes, the United States 3rd Army, squeezing the enemy from the last sliver of Luxembourg, reached at a number of points the positions from which the Germans jumped off in their December offensive and sent four divisions out on a ridge-top highway from which they looked down on the Siegfried Line defences.

Claim Main Potato Industry In Danger

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 26—(AP)—Maine's $50,000,000 potato industry is "in serious jeopardy" from plant diseases, according to Frank Hussey, president of the Aroostook County Farm Bureau.

He told a legislative delegation from Aroostook county and state agricultural officials last night that a bill would be introduced asking for an appropriation of $100,000 of state funds for use by a foundation seed potato program board to eradicate the diseases.

Foundation seed is used to grow regular seed.

R. C. A. F. Discharge Pins, Papers Stolen

MONTREAL, Jan. 26 — (CP)— Fourteen hundred discharge service pins, 500 discharge certificates and 50 identification cards carried by discharged service personnel were stolen two weeks ago from the R. C. A. F. station at neighboring Lachine, the Air Force announced today.

The pins and certificates were kept in a steel cabinet in an R. C. A. F. building. The thieves broke into the cabinet by prying open the door with a shovel.

War Situation Last Night

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
(Associated Press War Analyst)

Startling as is Russian success in snapping shut the East Prussian trap on a whole German army and lunging to within less than 100 miles of Berlin along the direct road from Warsaw, all within two weeks' time, an equally amazing spectacle presents itself in the Philippines.

It is less than three weeks since United States troops poured ashore in Lingayen Gulf prepared to fight the battle of Luzon. That recapture of that great northern island or any substantial part of it including Manila Bay would go far to pave the way for final defeat of Japan was beyond question.

The most desperate Japanese resistance yet encountered was fully expected. It has not yet come. Instead the Japanese command on Luzon has frittered away the lives of thousands of its men in a seemingly useless and ineffective delaying action.

In its stride down the west side of the wide and well-watered valley that leads from Lingayen Gulf to Manila Bay, the American advance guard now has reached, captured and passed Clark Field and Fort Stotsenburg.

The American approach to Bataan is a more important fact than that they now are within less than 50 miles of Manila itself. It seems to be toward the entrance to Bataan Peninsula that the advance is moving most rapidly. Whether that is in expectation of a Japanese retreat into that difficult military terrain is not yet clear.

It seems certain, however, that Gen. MacArthur regards Bataan not only as the last refuge of outmatched defenders of the entrance to Manila Bay but as the key to reconquest of that Bay for an advance naval base to use against Japan itself, or Japanese armies in China.

Winter Weather Sets New Record In Britain

By ALLAN NICKLESON

LONDON, Jan. 26—(CP Cable)—Britain has been in the grip of a Canadian-like winter that sometimes has deteriorated to Arctic cold and brought conditions beyond the recollection of the present generation.

Shivering censors dropped their cold scissors today and gave a free hand to the publication of winter vagaries—with gales, snow and ice—up to two days ago, Wednesday. The weather between then and tonight is still a secret to everyone but residents of the British Isles.

Coastal reaches of the sea and several rivers froze in a sub-zero spell Wednesday following the heaviest snowfall in years last Saturday. Last night in the Straits of Dover, only region where day-to-day conditions are publishable, the sea froze near the shore. Blocks of ice floated in Folkestone Harbor.

While farmers of many districts dug their sheep and cattle out of snowdrifts, children tobogganed down hills and skated on frozen rivers for the first time in many years. Housewives nursed their fires amid a shortage of coal and periodic threats that supplies of electricity and gas would be cut in certain districts unless consumption was reduced in peak periods.

The weather even affected world-famed Big Ben. The great bell did not sound last night.

It was not as bitter in London but cold enough to force at least one visiting Canadian parliamentary figure into a hotel bed in the early evening at the only means of keeping warm.

In one northern England district from which a Canadian bomber group operates, it was two below zero. Beer froze in a village inn in Yorkshire and it took five hours to thaw the beer-pipes with a blow-torch.

All the schools in Middlebrough, Yorkshire, closed Wednesday and 25,000 children were sent home because the class-rooms could not be kept warm.

And, as football fans in Canada may have guessed, it was snow that caused postponement Saturday of many preliminary cup matches in Scotland and northern England.

A plane piloted by Group Captain Max Aitken, D.S.O., D.F.C., son of Canadian-born Lord Beaverbrook, "dive-bombed" one Scottish fishing village eight times, dropping mail-bags after the roads were blocked by the storm.

Report By-Election To Be Called Off

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 — (CP) —The Ottawa Journal said today in a frontpage story that according to information by the "most reliable sources" the Grey North by-election Feb. 5 "is to be called off" and a general election called.

"The contest will be wiped from the slate automatically by the process of Prime Minister MacKenzie King dissolving parliament and calling for a general election with polling most likely toward the end of March or during the first week of April.

"Mr. King's decision in the matter is understood to be practically final, with a change in it depending only on the remote possibility of official nomination day in Grey North (Monday) seeing the Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. candidates withdrawing from the contest, giving Gen. McNaughton an acclamation."

The paper said Mr. King visited Government House last Wednesday and was believed to have advised the Governor-General of his intention with respect to an election.

Storm And Heavy Ice Delays Ferry

Ice conditions in Northumberland Strait, combined with strong winds and zero weather, completely disrupted schedules on the Tormentine—Borden ferry service yesterday.

The "Prince Edward Island" ran into trouble early yesterday morning while crossing with freight from Tormentine to Borden. Tightly packed ice a couple of miles off the Island shore held the ship up all day and yesterday evening she turned back and entered dock at Tormentine where she remained all night. It is expected, weather permitting, she will attempt to make the crossing this morning.

Meanwhile passengers who left here yesterday morning for the mainland were forced to remain at Borden, though some returned to the City last night.

Nomination Papers Filed By Case

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 26 — (CP) — Progressive Conservative candidate in the Grey North Federal by-election Feb. 5, W. Garfield Case, former Mayor of Owen Sound, filed his nomination papers late yesterday—four full days before the 2 p. m. deadline on Monday, Jan. 29.

The papers were accompanied by the deposit and were received by returning officer Arthur Moore.

C. C. F. campaign headquarters announced today that Air Vice-Marshal Godfrey's papers would be filed before 2 p. m. tomorrow afternoon.

Man Found Murdered On Toronto Street

TORONTO, Jan. 26 — (CP) — Bullet riddled, battered and frozen the body of Louis Wernick, alleged head of a Montreal-Toronto liquor syndicate was recovered late today from a deep snowdrift on a street in suburban Etobicoke.

The body was found by a snow plow crew cleaning out the street for the first time since a heavy snow storm several weeks ago.

Wernick, police said, had been shot twice. One bullet pierced his head.

He had been manhandled and his pockets turned inside out. He was believed to have had $30,000 on his person when last seen Jan. 15 and it was reported $7,000 was found in his clothes.

A stocky man of 39, Wernick was a one-time partner of Rocco Perri in the days when the Italian from Hamilton, Ont., styled himself "king of the bootleggers."

Perri has been missing since April 23, 1944 after he left his Hamilton home to return to Toronto Wernick had not been at home since Jan. 15 and the very similarity between the two instances revived shades of liquor-gang warfare.

Associates of the dead man told police he had expressed fear of "a gang."

Police said they had begun an immediate roundup of men known to be connected with liquor bootlegging in Toronto. They added that the search may extend to Montreal, where Wernick was known to have connections.

Temporary Limits Placed On Loans Under Housing Act

(By The Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Jan. 26—Announcing immediate availability of finance for construction of moderate and low cost houses and apartment houses under the new National Housing Act, Finance Minister Ilsley tonight told of temporary loan limits to conserve scarce labor and materials.

He warned that labor and materials were still scarce and that "the maximum benefits of the Act cannot be realized until war-created shortages have disappeared."

The Government was making available limited provisions so that home builders would be able to take advantage of lower interest rates and higher percentage loans made in the new Act. Under the old Act housing loan interest amounted to five per cent while under the new legislation the rate is 4½ per cent.

Prospective home builders now may borrow up to 95 per cent of the first $2,000 of lending value of a single dwelling, 85 per cent of the next $2,000 and 70 per cent of lending value in excess of $4,000.

To build a single dwelling with a lending value of $4,000, a borrower may obtain a maximum loan of $3,600. The monthly payments of interest and principal on the loan for this amount, payable over 20 years, would be $22.68, plus one-twelfth of municipal taxes.

Mr. Ilsley said that veterans might use their re-establishment credits to provide two-thirds of the cash equity required under the Act.

He added:—

"To conserve scarce labor and materials and use them to best advantage in the provision of additional housing, a temporary maximum limit has been placed on the lending value of the home which may be financed under the Act.

"For a single dwelling with one or two bedrooms the upper limit is $6,000, increasing to $7,000 for a house with three bedrooms and to $8,000 for a house with four or more bedrooms. A similar type of limitation has been placed on the lending value of apartment houses financed under the Act. The intention is to raise these maximum limits when and as materials and labor become more abundant."

All of the Housing Act except that part dealing with home improvement and home extension

200,000 Are Trapped In East Prussia

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Jan. 26 —(AP)— —The Soviet high command announced tonight that the Red Army has killed or captured more than 381,330 Germans during its two-weeks-old winter offensive, which today rolled on unchecked through the big industrial city of Hindenburg in Silesia, reached the Danzig free state frontier, and cut off East Prussia with a thrust to the Baltic coast.

From 20 to 25 German divisions — perhaps 200,000 Germans — now are trapped in East Prussia.

Outflanked Poznan, big Polish stronghold, the Russians also crossed the Warta River 10 miles south of the city and speared to within 136 miles of Berlin with the capture of Mosina. This was the closest approach to the German Capital yet announced by the Soviet Comamnd.

Berlin frankly admitted that East Prussia now was cut off from the homeland except by sea, and said the Russians already were attempting to cross the Nogat River into Danzig territory. To reach the city of Danzig the Russians also must cross the Vistula River near its mouth.

The city of Danzig and its surrounding area of 791 square miles was proclaimed a part of Germany Sept. 1, 1939, on the first day of the Second Great War.

German radio stations announced the evacuation of civilians from Danzig and the Nazi Gauleiter in Danzig, Albert Forster, called upon home army recruits to report quickly at west Prussian mobilization centres in an effort to halt the Russians.
