BOSTON NEWS

& JOTTINGS

From Note Book By L. C. Kitson.

The warm weather is with us at last, and it is welcomed by Base-Ball "rooters," Tourists and Athletes. The straw hats are blossoming along the streets and highways and shady walks. The temperature has registered as high as 80 degrees.

The Boston Elevated have commenced running the open electric-cars which were eagerly wished for. They are loaded with human freight from morning till late at night. It is an amusing sight to witness the daily "laborers" scrambling for a seat at the different stations to get the cooling atmosphere while homeward bound.

Isaac Laird, who taught school on the Island a number of years ago, is a resident of Somerville, Mass. Mr. Laird is now I believe a Veterinary Surgeon and is doing well.

The Boston Red Sox are not keeping up a very promising gait in the American Baseball League. They held second place for a few days but have now slipped down to fifth. The warm weather will no doubt be a helpful factor, for mostly all players display their ability when the sun shines lustily on the diamond.

Revere Beach one of the most attractive summer resorts in New England will soon be occupied by many travellers and "get out of the heat seekers" for the scorching months. To see many thousand bathers and "lookers on" on a Sunday afternoon is a very common spectacle.

I wonder if the girls have made up their mind whether they're going to get tanned or treakled this summer.

A traveller when departing from North Station would be somewhat surprised to see the space above his head filled with gigantic iron girders which the Boston Elevated are using in constructing a Branch Line to Cambridge. The completion of this branch will be a step in the direction for other advantages. The Mayor's Motto, Bigger, Busier and Better Boston.

"The World In Boston" is attracting considerable attention. While one cannot enjoy the advantages of travel in foreign lands, to get intimate knowledge of the life and customs of the quaint and curious people that make up this old world you can witness the scenes by taking a stroll any time to the Mechanics Bldg., which spreads over more than three acres of land and there is depicted the native life of the natives of China, Japan, India, Asia, Persia, where missionaries have been sent in the interest of Christian work. A tremendous outlay of money and energy has been involved, but it is a step forward to greater Missionary work in the far away Non-Christian lands.

Many carloads of strawberries are arriving on the Boston Market. In the early hours of the morning there can be seen groups of bargain buyers assembled around a produce auctioneer, bidding for them in case lots. And curious enough it reminds one of a sale at a country farm-house. But there is something additional and different near the Auctioneer in great big letters a sign is quickly observed which reads as follows: "Beware of Pickpockets."

Fred Cameron, last year's Marathon winner, is training in Boston for a special race with Alfred Shrubbs the British runner. The provincial champion is anxious to win the laurels from some of the professionals, but when he meets Shrubbs it will be one of the closest ever seen here and there is no doubt that Shrubbs will prove himself "not a has-been."

Cameron's launching out in the professional ranks is another instance when a runner captures the Boston Marathon he is clamoring for the ranks of the Pros.

While competently looking over the addresses delivered by some of Island's "up and doing" members of the Legislature, I noticed that some of them were strenuously opposed to reciprocity with Uncle Sam. One member seemed to be somewhat chaotic in his address. He said that it would be a disastrous blow to the Trust and Packing establishments.

If your dealer does not carry Nulife ask him to write Johnson & Johnson, Wholesale Distributors, Charlottetown for it.

Yes; but the Trust Co's and those financial bullies and give the common dealer a chance to get out of the rut and help his fellow-man upward and onward in this competitive world. Is not reciprocity going to increase the consumption here and greatly increase the production in Canada? What better "boon" would it be to some of the business men here to get our products which are known for quality all over New England? Furthermore would not the result be that better goods be put on the market and rivalry increase amongst the producers. With Reciprocity coming without a doubt and the entering of the Grand Trunk R. R. to Boston there is evidence of world wide prosperity in years to come.

Prince Edward progressive fair isle of the sea, Should send more goods across this way. Her goods of quality should come more free, Reciprocity will do it; Hooray, Hooray!

Her legislative Members are not asleep. But at her facilities just take a "Peep" She's got the men of commercial stamp. Now all they need is a "process lamp."

VERMONT WOMAN ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF PAINTER

GUILD HALL, Vt., May 4.—The trial of Mrs. Florence M. Dodge, charged with the murder of William Heath at her home in Lunenburg, was resumed today. Mrs. Dodge appeared in her customary good spirits, and remained unperturbed throughout the proceedings even when her daughter and companion, Mrs. Ida Bell, was called to the stand as a witness for the prosecution.

Mrs. Bell, who was the first person called to testify, said that she went to her mother's home a short time after Heath's death, and Mrs. Dodge told her that Heath had shot himself.

Rev. Albert Gregory testified that Mrs. Dodge told him that she was in the kitchen at the time the shots were fired and that she went into the bedroom where she saw Heath lying on the floor.

The appearance on the witness stand of the widow of the victim, and the fixing of the approximate minute of the tragedy by a railroad conductor and a train despatcher's sheet, were interesting incidents of the day's proceedings. Evidence put in by the prosecution makes it appear that Heath, who was at work painting a bedroom in Mrs. Dodge's house, was shot and killed at approximately 11:40 o'clock on the forenoon of Sat. 17 last. The exact time that Heath met his death seems to be a question of some importance, in the view of counsel, and a large portion of the afternoon session was devoted to the fixing of this point. The state expects to close its case tomorrow.

That William Heath was shot when he was in a crouching position on the floor, that he could not have fired the bullet which entered under the left arm and passed through the heart, and that the shot must have been fired more than three feet away, were statements by J. E. H. Stone of Montpelier, who opened the third day of the trial of Mrs. Florence Dodge, charged with Heath's murder.

Dr. Stone in the state pathologist, and performed the autopsy. Among the exhibits which he brought into court and showed to the jury were Heath's clothing, the bullet, which he said he found outside of the body between the skin and the undershirt, and the dead man's heart, with the bullet hole through it. The widow of the former high sheriff, who is now an object of interest because of the accusation against her, sat unmoved while Dr. Stone held Heath's heart in his hand and slipped a penholder through the hole, showing the direction taken by the bullet.

The bullet entered four inches below the left armpit, ranged along the fifth rib, and then glanced through the heart and came out on the right side eight inches above the place where it entered. Its force has been expended and it stopped inside the clothing and death was practically instantaneous. The body fell backward on the floor, where it was lying when Dr. Stone came into the house.

He showed the clothing to the jury, pointed out the bullet hole on the left side, then held the bullet, which he said was from a 38-calibre revolver, so that the 12 men could see it, and Mrs. Dodge as well. The woman never moved a muscle and remained outwardly calm when Dr. Stone unwrapped the heart and started one or two of the farmers in the jury box.

Taking the heart in one hand and a penholder in the other he showed the direction of the wound and said that all the blood must have poured out of the organ within 30 to 50 seconds. Dr. Stone said that he saw a revolver in the room, but did not examine it.

The direction of the bullet, and the position of the body on the floor led him to the opinion that Heath was painting the baseboard of the room and that the shot was fired from the doorway leading to the front room.

Mrs. Allen S. Bowker was one of those who rushed to the Dodge house after the murder and who saw Mrs. Dodge. She could recall nothing that Mrs. Dodge said at the time.

One of the first public officials to reach the Dodge house was selectman Harley W. Powers, who said that he found everything in the room as other witnesses had testified. He received the revolver soon after his arrival and examined the cartridges, three of which were loaded and two were empty. The loaded shells were encrusted with green and white substance, while the bottom of the empty shells was moist. He turned the revolver over to the state's attorney the next day. He was questioned closely as to any pain brush near the body, but could remember none, neither did he notice whether the door to the back sitting room was closed.

"MURDER IS MURDER" SAYS MR. ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, May 4.—EX-President Theodore Roosevelt will have a signed article entitled "Murder is Murder," dealing with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building and the arrests recently made by Detective Burns.

Mr. Roosevelt says in part: "No worse service can be rendered by labor union leaders to the cause of unionism than that which they render when they seek to identify the cause of unionism with the cause of any man guilty of a murderous attack of this nature. I have no idea whether the men arrested on Mr. Burns' statements are guilty. The labor leaders in question have no idea whether or not they are. They are entitled to an absolutely fair trial: If they had no money to provide counsel for themselves then it would be entirely proper for any body of men to furnish them the requisite funds, simply as an incident in securing them a fair trial. But it is grossly improper to try to create public opinion in favor of the arrested men simply because the crime of which they are accused was committed against a capitalist or corporation and because the men who are charged with committing it are members of a labor union.

"The one and only question is as to the guilt or innocence of the men accused. Any man who seeks to have them convicted if they are innocent is guilty of a crime against the state."

MEMBRIDE & ROGERS WILL ENTER FEDERAL ARENA. OTTAWA, May 6.—At a dinner given by Mr. Hadden to the Conservative members and other of the announcement was made that Messrs. Membride and Rogers would shortly enter Federal politics. It was also stated that the Conservative party will continue fight against Reciprocity agreement.

WHITE PLAGUE IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, May 4.—The alarming spread of tuberculosis in Montreal was made the subject of a report to the Board of Control today by Dr. J. E. Laberge. The doctor states that 64 per cent. deaths are recorded; and further, there are probably 2,000 cases of tuberculosis in the city at present. The report states that the plague is increasing rapidly, and that hundreds of tuberculosis patients are circulating in the streets and spreading the disease.

The white plague, he says, is as bad as the black plague. During the four months of this year, there were 500 cases reported to the civic board of health, and this represents only a fraction of the number of cases. In the same period there were 323 deaths.

In January there were 95 cases, and 70 deaths; in February, 98 cases and 55 deaths; in March, 152 cases and 99 deaths; in April, 156 cases and 99 deaths. Thus the number of cases is increasing rapidly, and Dr. Laberge feels that a very active campaign must be launched against the white plague before it injures irreparably the population.
