Many People Wonder

Why it is that glasses are worn more commonly in the present generation than in the past. Some say that the race is deteriorating some that it is for style, but the real reason is that our modern civilization requires the eye to do more work than was even the case before. Consequently, the eyes, if in the least defective, may give you a lot of trouble, though in reality they are no worse than those of your grandfather who did not wear glasses till he was an old man. If you feel the least symptom of eyestrain, remember that it is nature's warning to you and consult us at once.

U. C. C. Repainted—The Union Commercial College, which opened for the term yesterday with a large attendance, has been thoroughly renovated and repainted during the holidays and presents a splendid appearance. The walls of the classrooms are beautifully toned and the lighting arrangements tend to make day or night study equally pleasant and convenient. New typewriters have been added to the equipment which is thoroughly up to date.

The Union Commercial College has achieved a fine record in the number of its successful students and it will be of interest to know that the work has steadily increased in recent years. The renovation and repainting of the classrooms should prove an added attraction to pupils.

RESIDENCE ENTERED—Some time during Saturday night or early Sunday morning the residence of Mrs. A. Gillis, on the east end of Sydney St., was entered all the rooms gone through, but nothing has been taken as far as can be learned. Mrs. Gillis accompanied by her family and Capt. J. Fitzgerald, her son-in-law, who is visiting here, were in East Point, visiting her mother, when the residence was visited, bureau drawers were pulled out, trunks and suit cases opened and the contents turned out and scattered around the floors. The intruders, who entered by the window opened the back door and made their exit. The matter has been reported to the police.

The Wrench To Have For An Emergency

Here's a combination wrench an emergency tool, that belongs in every workman's kit, and in every home. With it you can turn almost any nut, loosen any coupling or union around the average house. For one side is a pipe wrench and the other side is a nut wrench. Too, there is a cutting wheel with which you can cut any ordinary gas or water pipe. Just one of the many wrenches we carry in makes that you can depend on.

Wonders of the Thousand Islands

Towers guarding the Bault Estate.

C. S. L. "Toronto" leaving Alexandria Bay.

Boat landing on Hart Island.

There are thousands of beauty spots along the mighty St. Lawrence river, stretching as it does for upwards of a thousand miles from Lake Ontario to the ocean, but perhaps the most ideal spot on the river is between Kingston and Brockville. It is world-wide known as the Lake of the Thousand Islands because of the myriads of magnificent islands that dot the river and add grandeur to this wondrous section of the St. Lawrence. It would be invidious to attempt an extensive description because space will not permit, but Kingston was founded in the seventeenth century as a trading post under the name of Catarqui and in 1673 the Montaigne erected a fort under his name but the Iroquois Indians destroyed it and massacred the inhabitants twenty years later. Eventually the Empire loyalists established themselves here and called it Kingston. The Toronto-Montreal boats make a call at Kingston en route for Prescott. It was the naval base of the British fleet operating in Lake Ontario. After leaving Kingston no stretch of imagination can describe the wonderful kaleidoscopic view that meets the eye of the Montaigne, the garden of the great spirit, as the Indians describe this part of the St. Lawrence. Here tradition has it that the mighty Hiawatha met two dusky Onondagas and counselled the alliance of the Six Nations. Here it is that our American neighbors chose to erect their summer mansions, which are pointed out as famous places of interest. The Lost Channel is among these islands, where in 1758 the British, under Lord Amherst, on their way from Oswego to Montreal, entered it by mistake and were ambushed by the French and their Huron allies. However, they emerged victorious although a small boat with crew and crew never found its way out, hence its name.

The Thousand Islands are famous for history. Carleton Island was the rendezvous of Thayendanege, the terrible Six Nations chief who fomented massacres, and during the revolutionary war it was a famous refuge for the Tories of New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Another island, named "Devil's Oven" was the home of "Bill" Johnson, the pirate of the Thousand Islands. Another favorite is Lost Lover Island, where an Indian maid was drowned on a fruit-Clayton, on one way down the river towards Prescott, where C.S.L. passengers for the metropolis and the lower St. Lawrence are transferred to the Rapids boat, is often called the Gateway of the Thousand Islands. It is a very popular resort, especially for Americans, and from here the Journey across Alexandria Bay, numerous islands are passed out prominent magnificent homes. Hart Island stands out prominently, and future history will doubtless rehearse the story connected with the great mansion erected here by a wealthy American at a cost of over a million dollars and now showing signs of decay. According to the pathetic story, the huge house with its outstanding turrets, was built by a loving husband for his devoted wife, who, before its completion, died. He was so disappointed that he had neither the inclination to finish the work or live there, and it remains just as it was at the time of her death.
