

Woman's Realm Social and Personal Fashions Literature

HAPPENINGS OF THE WEEK

Princess Elizabeth, heir presumptive to the British throne will celebrate her 14th birthday tomorrow in London with the King and Queen at a family party. During the occasion Princess Elizabeth made a few public appearances but when she did go into town crowds invariably cheered her. She has taken an interest in the welfare of other evacuated children and, with Princess Margaret Rose, spent busy days smiling comforters for the troops.

Riding and swimming are Princess Elizabeth's favorite recreations. A ride with the King was one of the happy features of the Easter holiday. At the time of their Majesty's visit to Canada last May and June it was pointed out that Princess Elizabeth's behavior already suggested the queenly manner. She was last becoming adept at the peculiar technique of riding a horse when the Queen and her grandmother, Queen Mary, to acknowledge the plaudits of the crowd, she is calm and correct beyond her years.

The Earl of Athlone, K.G., G.C., P.C., G.M.G., G.M.O., D.S.O., of London, Canada's Governor General, celebrated his 66th birthday last Sunday.

Coming up to London from her winter retreat in the west of England, Queen Mary visited her son, King George VI, and Queen Elizabeth last week, and after lunching with them in Buckingham Palace took in a West End matinee. It was the Queen Mother's first visit to a London theatre since the war began. The play was "Four Novelty Ladies and Gentlemen" and she was accompanied by her mother, the Queen Mother, and her grandmother, Queen Mary. During an intermission the Queen Mother chatted with the playwright and sent for his mother, Madame Novello Davies, who was sitting in an opposite box.

After a very enjoyable season the Thursday afternoon bridge club concluded their weekly meetings with a pleasant afternoon at Mrs. J. A. Mathieson's home. Lovey prizes were awarded and hopes expressed for a happy reunion in the fall.

Mrs. J. H. Gordon was hostess last Saturday afternoon at a pretty two table bridge and tea at the Charlottetown Hotel.

Mrs. Norville Luck was the guest of honor at a smartly arranged six table bridge and tea at the Charlottetown Hotel last Saturday her hostesses being the members of her Bowling Club and Substitutes. The tables were elegantly arranged the guests playing as "Bowlers" on "A" level and later taking their tales home as souvenirs of the happy gathering. Mrs. Luck, whose early departure is so much regretted, received a very lovely gift.

Mrs. W. Rouel LePage had Mrs. Luck as guest of honor on Thursday afternoon when she entertained at her pretty home, inviting friends in for four tables of bridge.

Other hostesses entertaining for Mrs. Luck were Mrs. Willard Spencer, Mrs. J. S. Walker, Mrs. J. L. Curran, Mrs. H. H. Horne.

The Queen has built up a "personal" collection of paintings by the Duchess of Gloucester, Duchess of Kent, Lady Patricia Ramsay, and Princess Louise of Argyll, whose statue of Queen Victoria is outside Kensington Palace.

Mrs. H. R. Hillson entertained at two tables of Bridge at her lovely home The Birches on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. P. Jardine who have taken up their residence in Brighton are being cordially welcomed.

Recitals, concerts, club bridges, collections, and teas, not to mention spring cleaning, are keeping hostesses fully occupied during April.

All red ensembles, consisting of woollen suits with flared skirts and tailored jackets, matching felt hats and one-strap shoes, are being worn by Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret Rose. This is a departure from the usual type of costume worn by the Princesses, the Queen having heretofore favored pastel shades for her daughters.

Mrs. (Dr.) D. McGuigan was hostess at a delightful four table bridge at her attractive home last week for her friends.

Mrs. G. W. McPhee of Ottawa, who has a host of friends here, entertained for not-outs on Friday evening in honor of her daughter, Miss Mary McPhee.

Mrs. Alfred E. Jameson of Halifax is visiting her brother Dr. H. C. Hodgson in Montreal. Miss Ethel Hodgson and Miss Muirhead, who have been spending the winter in Montreal, intend coming to Charlottetown for the summer.

Honoring Mrs. Ward H. MacLean, its honorary president, the Forbes-Morton Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Church, Saint John N. B., entertained on Monday evening at the home of Miss Lillian Christie, Spruce Street. During a social evening Mrs. MacLean was made the recipient of a farewell gift by the members. The presentation was made by Mrs. Forrest Allen, the president, who expressed the good wishes of the donors. Rev. Ward H. and Mrs. MacLean are leaving in the near future to take up residence in Craipaud, P. E. I.

Mrs. S. A. Fulton accompanied by her sister, Mrs. H. Reddy, returned to Truro Sunday evening, after spending some time visiting in Peterboro, Ont. Montreal and Toronto. During her stay in Montreal, Mrs. Fulton spent much time with her son Allan in the Montreal General Hospital, where he is recovering from a broken leg suffered while skiing in the Laurin Mountains.

Mrs. Arthur Allen, Summerside, entertained her weekly bridge club this week.

Miss Mabel Fielding of Alberton is visiting in the city the guest of Colonel P. S. Fielding and Mrs. Fielding.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Goss left yesterday for the Southern States.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jenkins are being welcomed home from a most enjoyable winter trip to Montreal, and Ottawa.

Mrs. (Dr.) Donald Campbell of Sydney, N. S., and his wife, Mrs. Sinclair, arrived in Summerside yesterday to visit their mother, Mrs. E. E. Sinclair. It is pleasing to report that Mrs. Sinclair is now able to be up again after her recent indisposition.

Mrs. LeBaron Tait was among the bridge hostesses entertaining enjoyably for her friends.

Deepest sympathy will go out to Mrs. Beresford Ash, of Kalgooite, Western Australia, the former Miss Joan Longworth of this city, in the death of her husband announced by cable Thursday.

The engagement of Miss Marjorie MacQuarrie, daughter of Mr. Gladys MacQuarrie, to Mr. Clifford Thomas of Quebec City, which has just been announced is causing a flutter of excitement among her many friends in Summerside. Miss MacQuarrie is a nurse in the Jeffery Hotel Hospital, Quebec and will graduate in June.

Princess Elizabeth is now learning something about housekeeping. On a recent shopping tour the Queen allowed her to order several articles of furniture for her own little flat in her new evacuation quarters. All this is part of a plan of Royal education which worked out well in the case of Princess Juliana of the Netherlands, who was allowed to set up her own households on entering the

A Morning Smile

CUTTING REMARK

Private Smith was in trouble again. Called before the commanding officer, he was accused of insulting the sergeant-major.

"What's your excuse this time?" he was asked.

"I didn't mean to insult him, sir," replied Smith. "All I said was that if looks could kill, he ought to be careful with the mirror when he shaves himself."

MEDITATION

There was a scream of brakes as the bus pulled to a sudden stop to avoid a flustered-looking pedestrian who was dithering in the roadway.

Crimson with strain and rage, the driver leaned out of his cab. It was plain he was controlling himself with a great effort as he asked politely:

"May I ask what are your plans, sir?"

University of Leyden. It is Princess Elizabeth's ambition to relieve her mother of all householding duties when she comes down to Windsor to rest for week-ends. Princess Elizabeth is also looking forward to the time when she will share with grown-up Royal ladies the distinction of being made honorary colonel of one of the regiments. The hopes that like the Princess Royal she will be appointed to a Scottish regiment. The King is at present considering the matter (says London Daily Sketch correspondent) and it is believed that her next birthday will see this wish realized.

Commodore Norah

By ANGUS MACVICAR

DID SHE LOVE HIM?

Often, when she was alone, she wondered if she really loved him, and if it was the lack of passion in her own heart that made his love-making unsatisfying.

As he held her now, she tried to forget her misgivings. He was the only person on whom she could lean and to whom she could give her confidence during her father's absence, and her heart warmed to him, for it is reason alone, she needed, to provide encouragement in her battle with David McGregor.

David McGregor had a vision of him at this moment—tall, very strong, his dark hair, angular face and white teeth giving him the appearance of some rock-faced man—and she drew away from Hector and sat upright on the settee. The colour heightening in her cheeks.

Menteth was undismayed. He thought he knew a lot about women. He believed that his wife was being coquettish. She was trying to whet his appetite for more love-making. He judged the moment ripe for another advance.

"Norah," he said softly, "when will you fix a day for our wedding?"

April 21st, the date of the wedding would be the date for his greatest triumph. He passed himself off as a man of private means, having a fortune in the firm of his father-in-law, but the truth was that he had taken part in the making of a few unimportant pictures and that when he met her, he had already been rapidly vanishing. Unless he could gain control of her, he would soon be in an unenviable position.

He was genuinely in love with her, or at any rate as much in love as his egotistical nature would allow; and since their first meeting at the film society show in Glasgow, at the beginning of Norah's third session at the University, he had experienced an overwhelming desire to possess her fresh young beauty, so different from the blase, withered picture of his London friends, and had made up his mind to make her, and her fortune, his own.

He was eager to have the marriage arranged before Peter Grant returned from South Africa; for he suspected that his London friends, old-fashioned way, would put awkward questions to him about his financial prospects.

Norah did not answer his question at once. Patiently he repeated it.

She rose from the couch and stood in front of the fire.

"Hector," she replied slowly, "I'm not quite sure when we can get married. But I'll let you know definitely when I've beaten David McGregor. I mustn't slacken."

"But, darling—"

She half turned away from him. "I'm sorry, Hector. I've made up my mind."

As he went home through the quiet streets, Norah's words came back to him: "I'll let you know definitely when I've beaten David McGregor."

Menteth made up his mind to spare no effort in the struggle.

On the first day of Norah's absence in Glasgow, David met her brother, Archie.

"Did you hear Norah's way?" asked the boy. "I'm the boss of the house for nearly a week."

David laughed.

"What has Miss Mathieson, your housekeeper, to say that?"

"Oh—she's quite pleased. She says we'll not see so much of Mr. Menteth."

They had stopped to speak at the draughty junction of two streets and all at once David noticed that Archie was rather pale and that he seemed to be blue with cold.

"Feeling all right?" he asked.

Archie nodded, but without much vigour.

"Yes, I'm fine. Why?"

"Just thought you looked a bit peakish, and maybe you'd better stand here and get cold. Perhaps see you later."

That evening Mary Mathieson, knowing and motherly, called at something was wrong with the boy.

"Is he all right?" she inquired.

He nodded.

"A wee bit. And my throat's kind of sore. Felt it sore all day, but I didn't want to bother anybody."

She put him to bed and tried his temperature with a thermometer she always kept handy. She was shocked to discover that it was over 102.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

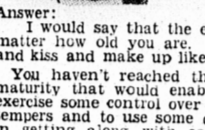

IF YOU CANNOT BE CONGENIAL IN COURTING DAYS, DON'T MARRY

The Wedding Ceremony Rarely Brings An End to Continual Pre-nuptial Bickering

Dear Miss Dix—Having majored in psychology in college, I can lucidly explain why other people are not able to get along amiably in their social life, but I can't figure out why my girl can't hit it off together.

We have been in and out of love for the last five years. She is beautiful, clever, very popular and holds a responsible position. I am pretty much in the same class, have a good job in a large company, am supposedly educated, not hard to look at and an ideal couple and suit each other down to the ground, but we can't get along together. We argue and fight and say good-bye forever, then make up and fight again. I love her and she loves me, but our going together never lasts more than a month or so. I have given her an engagement ring which she has returned and taken back so many times that it is almost worn out. How can you explain us? We are both pretty stubborn and we are much alike in disposition, but I know that we love each other.

FAT W.

I would say that the explanation is no matter how old you are, you are still children who fight and quarrel and kiss and make up like 10-year-olds.

You haven't reached the mental maturity that would enable you to exercise some control over your own tempers and to take some responsibility in getting along with each other. You are fortunate not to have married because two such unacquainted kids would be bound to land in the divorce court.

Some day, after the argument about the dress is over, whether the wife's frock cost too much, had been particularly hot and vitriolic, the wife would grab her hat and take a plane for Reno or you would slam the door behind you and go to the club to live. And in the home you wrecked there many little children who were maimed for life in mind and soul and body by your angry and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is antagonistic to you or that for some reason everything you say and does get upon your nerves, don't marry her. Don't fool yourself into thinking that you can get along with her after marriage. Let your own conscience tell you that there is something in a girl's nature that is