

Christmas 1909

at the Island's Leading Store. In the fewest words possible we must tell our story. We realize that this is a busy season with every one. What will I buy for Christmas is the cry to-day? May we assist you? May our store, our staff, our goods, our Experience be of service to you? If so consider them at your disposal now. We have been planning, and preparing for this event. We expect the biggest Christmas trade in the history of our Store. We have put thought, time and money into it. Large Express parcels are being received from day to day from the large centers of Commerce. The latest include a large assortment of Ladies' Hand Stitches, Bags of every description. Every lady and gentleman should see them. A very pretty line of Ladies' Lace Collars and Belts made by one of the leading New York Manufacturers received to-day

FURS

For the Christmas trade we secured some of the nicest and most complete showing of furs ever made by us and what is best the prices are Rock Bottom for the next two weeks. Do not be misled by glaring discounts, it is value that counts and not discounts.

Gentlemen's Neck Wear

A most complete assortment came to hand a day or two ago including all the new and most up-to-date Christmas Novelties. The most superb showing ever made in the City.

Ladies' Waists, in Net and Lace

To-day we received a shipment of these goods. New and fresh direct from the manufacturers. They are to be had to-day at a small advance on the manufacturers' prices

Ladies' and Gentlemen's Gloves

Is there anything more appreciated at this time of the year by either a lady or a gentleman than a pair of Kid Gloves. Our showing is most complete.

Men's Fancy Knit Vests

Direct from Germany, they are beyond doubt one of the grandest showings ever attempted in this City. The patterns the style and the general appearance all excel anything ever shown here. They are an exclusive showing. To give a description of the many lines we handle would require several editions of the newspaper. For the benefit of our customers we have prepared a list of many of the many lines we handle. We trust that they will be made use of during the next few days

BOHEMIAN GIRL AT OPERA TONIGHT

The following is taken from the Sydney Post of a recent date. "The heart bowed down" by Frank Nelson "I dream that I dwell" Miss Nola "You'll remember me" Jack O'Donnell, several of the gems from the famous opera "The Bohemian Girl" by Balfe, as rendered by the above mentioned artists of the Robinson Opera Company last night at the Lyceum, were seldom excelled within the walls of the popular play house. Notwithstanding the fact that "The Bohemian Girl" has been presented in Sydney a dozen of times within as many years, every seat in the house was bought up early yesterday, and long before the curtain went up the S. R. O. sign was ready to be hung out. The solos in this opera are evenly distributed among the leading singers, each of whom in turn render an aria which is popular in every household where the language is spoken. Miss Nola, Mr Nelson and Mr O'Donnell, sang in splendid form, each of their solos being received with an outburst of applause which called for an encore. Their trio work in the third act was also given an ovation and a repetition had to be given. Edward Beck sang the role of Devilshoof, Chief of the Gipsies in his customary good voice, and was well received. Esther Barton, interpreted the character of the Queen of the Gipsies and her work all through lent an added charm to the production. The other members of the cast were Jack Leslie and Ardis Allworth.

KEITH & PROCTOR'S FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE, NEW YORK, WEEK OF DECEMBER 13TH, 1909.

For the week of December 13th, at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York, a prize vaudeville bill will be presented. Once a year, the magnates of the United Booking Office give a substantial bonus to some bright person in their employ for selecting the best bill available at a certain price, for a certain week. This year's selection was made by a deep student of the intricacies of the varieties as a form of entertainment and so enthusiastic were Messrs Keith, Proctor and Albee over the genuine excellence of the young man's program, that the bonus was doubled. It should have been for the list of acts booked for appearance will remain a model for many years to come. Capping the climax, as it were the chief bidder for popularity to be is the distinguished historian, Benjamin Chapin, who surrounded by a capable one-act playlet "Lincoln at the White House." Vaudeville is more than honored in having Mr Chapin in the ranks and the gentleman's vivid portrayal of the martyred President is distinctly a dramatic masterpiece.

New to the Fifth Avenue will be the famous diminutive musical comedy stars, San Chip and Mary Marble in a delft dialogue with ditties designated "In Old Edam." Chip is a mercurial laugh producer, while Miss Marble is always a faithful true. Cecilia Loftus and Elsie Janis must perform look to their laurels as muses, as Belle Blanche is crowding them closely for first honors. This young woman has developed rapidly during the past three seasons, and is one of the most eagerly sought actresses of the generation. Miss Flanche brings new imitations of reigning favorites and a continuance of those bits which gained her first prominence. The big sensation of the bill should be the appearance of Sam Mahoney, in a thrilling demonstration of physical endurance, appearing in an episode of daring entitled "The Frozen North." Mr Mahoney is the Revere Beach Life Guard who swam the English Channel, negotiating the tempestuous 41 miles in 20 hours and losing 19 pounds in weight. In "The Frozen North," Mahoney makes his appeal by swimming amid cakes of real ice, and assuming the characteristics of a polar bear in his fondness for extreme frigidty. As a Holiday surprise, Slivers, the famous Barnum and Bailey clown will render his extraordinarily funny pantomime, "At the Ball Game." There never was a better clown than Slivers and the fact that he is an American with the name of Frank Oakley endears him more and more to his home audiences. The remainder of the program will consist of Charles and Fannie Van in that continuous roar, "A Case of Emergency." Nelson and Otto, society's own entertainers; the Four Konez Brothers, the boys with the toys, in expert manipulations of hoops, diabolo and boomerangs; and the new Keith and Proctor motion pictures.

Fancy Knit Vests as an Appropriate Xmas Gift

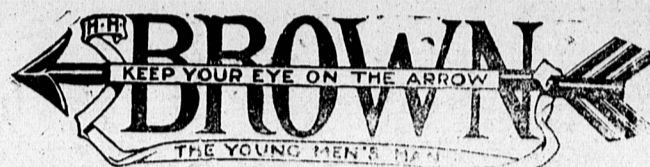

Nothing could be more appropriate or more appreciative than a nice fancy knit vest. We had in mind the lady gift-seekers when we selected those. Every man wants one to vary his attire and the more he has the more variety can be shown in his dress—the smarter is his appearance and the more complete will be his wardrobe.

We've just opened up some of the very newest colors and patterns "going" and we want you to call at your earliest possible convenience and see them—before the best are gone. We will take pleasure in reserving your choice till required. The showing includes some of the most delicate and harmonious color blending that you could positively wish to see.

Among the colors are combinations of green and brown, red and brown, and green, blue and red, each color is so delicately and intelligently intermingled as to make the product perfect.

We particularly purchase this line for ladies gift-giving for gents, and will look for a ready response. We're arranging our store in line with the ladies artistic ideas, and we want you to criticise our showing, but please shop early—to-day, if possible. In doing so you will do us a favor and a great justice to yourself. Come.
