It's Teamwork That Counts
No matter how hard-playing and skillful one team member may be, he cannot win the game alone. It's team work that counts. That close friend or relative whom you have named, or plan to name, as executor of Your Will may have sound judgment and the best of intentions... But he cannot possibly carry out the provisions of your life's most important document as impartially and efficiently as an organization of specialists working together as a well trained team.
