

PRINCE EDWARD Starting TODAY

The song of the saddle... immortalizing the American cowboy... quick on the trigger... thriving on danger... seeking adventure... finding romance!

ZANE GREYS The Last Round-up

Based on ZANE GREYS novel "THE BORDER LEGION" A Paramount Picture with RANDOLPH SCOTT

THE BOLD SPIRIT OF THE WEST CAPTURED IN STORY AND SONG!

ADDED CHARLEY CHASE COMEDY SCREEN SNAPSHOTS KRAZY KAT KARTOON

CAPITOL—TODAY

Buck Jones

The King of action stars Buck Jones with odds against him

ROCKY RHODES

ADDED CHAPTER "VANISHING SHADOW" AND COMEDY

ROYAL WEDDING

(Continued from Page 1)

FRANCE'S REPLY

(Continued from Page 1)

In 1935, which he proposed to add to the loan to be floated for special national defence expenditures

ROME, Nov. 28.—(A.P.)—Although the Government today was giving careful consideration to Tokyo's request that Italy join Japan in denouncing the Washington Naval Treaty, close observers said they would be greatly surprised if Italy acceded to it.

They cited Italian preoccupation over Japanese influence in Africa as one factor likely to influence Premier Benito Mussolini to refuse comment. A censorship was clamped down in La Paz and advice reaching Washington was brief and not officially confirmed.

BOLIVIAN

(Continued from Page 1)

President Salamanca apparently was seized when he travelled to the Chaco front in an effort to replace the commander-in-chief of the Bolivian army, who recently has suffered reverses in the long drawn war.

President-elect Tamayo, President Salamanca's two daughters and the Minister of War also were reported to have been arrested. Only the most meagre details of their plight, however, were available.

Fears were expressed in the despatches that civil war might break out at any time. Cable communication was seriously interrupted and the expectation was that wireless communication also would be cut.

The Bolivian and Paraguayan legations here were without official despatches and declined any comment on the events.

ODDS FAVOR PARAGUAY

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 28.—(A.P.)—Overthrow of the Bolivian Government today and operations of the Bolivian and Paraguayan armies in the Chaco boreal tonight led neutral observers to express the opinion the Chaco war has entered its decisive stage.

Vice-president Jose Luis Tejada Sorzano's assumption of power caused

Funeral Notice

The funeral of the late Peter Hughes will be held Friday morning at 8.45 from his late residence, 109 Fowling St.

BIRTHS

CLARK—At the P. E. Island Hospital, Nov. 28th, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clark, Brackley, a son.

MARRIAGES

MACPHEE—MACDONALD—At the Paragon Cornwall, Nov. 24, 1934, by Rev. D. K. Ross, E. A. Richard Allan MacPhee of New Haven to Clara Letitia Macdonald of Arlington, Mass., formerly of Nine Mile Creek.

N. D. MacLean

UNDERTAKER EMBALMER Charlotte and North Wilshire Phone 149

ADDED

CHARLEY CHASE COMEDY SCREEN SNAPSHOTS KRAZY KAT KARTOON

Meanwhile influenza, as though the fog were not enough, caused worry, touched the Royal household, Major Ulick Alexander, the Duke of Kent's controller, who handles his personal affairs, being ordered to bed.

The Prince of Wales loaned the young Duke his Equerry, Col. Piers Leigh, one of whose duties will be to ride with Princess Marina in the carriage that takes her to Westminster Abbey tomorrow.

The five eldest bridesmaids were guests of the Dutch legation tonight at dinner in honor of Crown Princess Juliana of Holland, but the three youngest—Princess Elizabeth, eight, Lady Mary Cambridge, 10, and Lady Iris Mounbatten, 14—went early to bed.

It was fairly early to bed, too, for the guests at the dinner, among them Princes Paul and Peter of Greece, Don Juan of Spain and Prince Charles of Belgium, for the night was danced after brief entertainment. Throughout the city, meanwhile, hotels, restaurants, theatres and business houses were colorful with decorations, floral and otherwise.

It was in readiness—the rehearsals over, the participants in the two ceremonies sure of their every step—at the Abbey, where the state wedding will be held, and in the private dining room at Buckingham Palace, where the ceremony of Princess Marina's Greek Orthodox Church will be carried out.

Buckingham Palace, where Princess Marina and her parents, Prince and Princess Nicholas, have been guests since their arrival from Paris Wednesday last week, itself was ablaze with light, for it sheltered some 20 Royal personages of the 70 or more here for the occasion.

SPECIAL ANTHEM FOR CEREMONY LONDON, Nov. 28.—(A.P.)—An anthem composed especially for the wedding of the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina will be heard publicly for the first time at tonight's state ceremony in Westminster Abbey.

The Anthem, "Alleluia! Alleluia!" was composed by Dr. Ernest Bullock, the Abbey organist, and the words were selected by the Rev. Cyril Arncliffe, the preacher. The Duke gave his approval to the anthem when he personally selected the hymns for the wedding service. Words of the anthem follow:

Alleluia! Alleluia! The Lord send you help from the Sanctuary; And strengthen you out of Zion, Alleluia!

The Lord that made Heaven and earth; Give you blessing out of Zion, Alleluia!

Father, hear the prayer we offer! Not for ease that prayer shall be, But for strength, that we may ever Live our lives courageously.

Not for ever, by still waters, Would we idly rest and stay, But the steep and rugged pathway May we tread rejoicingly.

Be our strength in hours of weakness! In our wanderings be our guide, Through endeavour, failure, danger, Father, be thou at our side!

TO LET—COTTAGE, NO. 2 Stewart Street, Renovated throughout. Apply to Mackinnon & McNeill, Solicitors, 90 Great George St. L-2931-11-29-1 wk.

LADIES HATS—LARGE QUANTITY manufacturers clearance, 80c to $1.98. Simpson, Queen St. L-2930-11-29-31

TO LET—NO. 13 EUSTON Street, in excellent condition. Immediate possession. Apply to Mackinnon & McNeill, Solicitors, 90 Great George Street. L-2931-11-29-1 wk.

Central Guardian

This column is reserved for news of local interest. It is not to be used for a new feature. It is not to be used for a new feature. It is not to be used for a new feature.

B. I. S. DANCE advertised for tonight is postponed to a later date owing to the death of the late Bro. Peter Hughes. L-2924

ATTENTION—Benevolent Irish Society members. Funeral late Bro. Peter Hughes postponed to Friday morning. Members meet at the hall at 8.30. L-2924

MAIL PLANE DELAYED—As it was too late to reach Charlottetown before dark, the mail plane left in Summers last night. The plane will come down this morning.

POLICE COURT—At the Police Court yesterday a drunk was fined five dollars and costs for 14 days. Convicted for being drunk and disorderly a man was fined twenty dollars and costs or twenty days in jail. An abusive language case was adjourned until Friday. A drunk was remanded until Saturday.

SECTION B DEBATE—Resolved that a provincial university would be a benefit to Prince Edward Island. Debate in Section B of P. W. C. Debating Society yesterday. Ellsworth Large, Robert Dawson and Hester Wood supported the resolution, while Benjamin Beck and Ruth Montgomery spoke for the ayes. The vote resulted in pro 3, con 10. Bill Brown was the critic.

Y. M. C. A. LADIES AUXILIARY—The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. was held in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday afternoon. Following the meeting the members of the Auxiliary and wives of the directors of the Y. M. C. A. held a welcome to the new reading room in honor of Mrs. Norville Luk, who is being welcomed to our city. The tea table was presided over by the President of the Auxiliary, Mrs. (Rev.) D. McLean, who was assisted by the other members of the Auxiliary and friends of the Auxiliary.

K. OF C. SUPPER—Members of the local Council, Knights of Columbus, were invited to the Christmas supper, recently initiated, at a most enjoyable chicken supper at their Home Tuesday evening at 6.15. A sing-song was led by Mr. S. Rogers and the following musical program followed: "You're a Good Man, Brother," by Doyle, A. R. McInnis and Ted Kelly; violin solos, Alf McKearney, piano, A. Blanchard. At the conclusion the members repaired to the St. Columba's Chamber, where the regular meeting was held and the new members introduced. The local Council, under the guiding hand of Grand Knight W. M. Flynn, has been quite active in their efforts to bring the Christmas party to a close.

LEAVING FOR GERMANY—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Michalchelle were the guests of honor at a farewell dinner at the Diana Tea Rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Michalchelle have been for five or six years members of the choir and regular in attendance at the church services for Germany and their fellow members took the opportunity of speeding them on their way and showing their appreciation and regard for them. Mrs. J. A. Lawson on behalf of the choir presented an original and humorous poetic composition, presented Mr. and Mrs. Michalchelle with a valuable and useful memento consisting of a leather bound writing case, various youth movements in Canada, also expressed regret at their guests' departure, saying how much they would be missed in the Kirk. During the evening group songs were sung, and the National Anthem brought a pleasant evening to a close.

REV. D. O. FORSYTHE CONFERES WITH YOUNG PEOPLE A. F. CHURCH—Rev. D. O. Forsythe, field secretary of young people's work in Eastern Canada, met with representatives of the Eastern Presbytery of Prince Edward Island. The meeting opened with the reading of the prayer book in the chair. After a short devotion period Mr. Harold Vessey was appointed secretary. A profitable discussion on the following subjects then took place: liquor traffic, projects for promoting international peace, including Christian Missions. The findings of the Seckville Conference were dealt with and recommendations made for their adoption, need of devotion both personal and public, various youth movements in Canada for promoting international peace. The meeting then adjourned until seven-thirty. The evening discussion was as follows: leadership, Presbytery activities, such as camps and training schools, and finances. Plans were made for leaders training course to be held at a convenient time during the winter. Just before the meeting closed Forsythe gave an inspiring talk, pointing up the whole purpose of Young People's organizations which is a quest and finding of an enriching fellowship with fellow members and the ever present Heavenly Father. These were followed by prayer which closed the meeting.

MODERN SCHOOL PLAN—Yesterday morning the City School Board paid a visit of inspection to the new Dining Room opened in Queen Square. It shows a shop in 10.30 each morning about one hundred and fifty pupils march quietly to the basement of the new annex where on Monday and Wednesday they receive a half-pint bottle of fresh pasteurized milk, supplied by the Pure Milk Co. of this city. Each boy drinks through a straw and the used straws and

IS AMUSED AT RUMOUR OF RETIREMENT

Prime Minister Definitely States Intention of Contesting Next Election.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett's announcement in Calgary that he intended to contest the next general election confirmed what his close associates have known for some time, although lack of any previous public announcement had permitted numerous rumors to the contrary to gain considerable headway.

Ever since the Prime Minister returned from Geneva, six weeks ago, plans have been going forward quietly to lay the foundation of a political organization with which to meet the inevitable test of public opinion sometime next year.

On several occasions during this period the Prime Minister has privately expressed his determination to personally lead the party and to govern so long as his services are wanted.

Reluctant always to comment on newspaper rumors Mr. Bennett's favorite observation on such occasions is a quotation from the utterance of a great British statesman—"Deny a rumor and give it immortality."

Suggestions that he would resign before the general election, that he would accept a peerage, that he would retire to an English estate, have all been dismissed without official comment. But in the last few weeks he has made the definite statement, confirmed publicly in Calgary, that he is serving by the side of the party in the coming election.

So far as may be read from surface indications the incident of Minister of Trade and Commerce H. H. Stevens' resignation while it is a considerable sensation throughout the country, was an action viewed by his colleagues with sorrow rather than with alarm.

Apart from the published correspondence the Prime Minister has expressed any public comment on Mr. Stevens' action but it is known that he has felt particularly justified in the stand he took at that time because of the solidarity of cabinet opinion on the subject.

Questions from the Calgary interview gave the impression that Mr. Bennett would rely for success at the polls largely upon his confidence in the people's recognition of the good work accomplished by the government since the outbreak of the war, that legislation of a far-reaching and advanced character designed to aid the primary producer, protect the worker and expand Canada's trade connections.

Mr. Stevens' resignation, however, has not been mentioned in the main issues of the campaign. Last session saw the greatest bulk of legislation to be passed at any session since Confederation. It is believed therefore that the government's programme when Parliament assembles next January will be short but important, involving the British North America Act, unemployment insurance, legislation growing out of the work of the Royal Commission on the S. Rogers and Mr. James' original and humorous poetic composition, presented Mr. and Mrs. Michalchelle with a valuable and useful memento consisting of a leather bound writing case, various youth movements in Canada, also expressed regret at their guests' departure, saying how much they would be missed in the Kirk. During the evening group songs were sung, and the National Anthem brought a pleasant evening to a close.

Any determined opposition to these measures, and it would doubtless arise inevitably in view of the belief that the government is expected to result in dissolution at an early date with the government's programme carried to the larger arena of the election campaign.

Only ill-health would prevent the Prime Minister going with his party to the people in what will be probably the most vigorous campaign in years, and Mr. Bennett, in his belief, is notorious for his robust and active.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

CASH and CARRY Stores Big FOOD SALE Starts TODAY

Bargains will be Displayed all Over This Heavily Stocked Store. Prices are going up, buy all you can Now

Table listing various food items and their prices, including Oatmeal, Sugar, Flour, Butter, Eggs, Tea, etc.

Never before did the people of Charlottetown get CASH and CARRY PRICES on groceries and meats DELIVERED to your door promptly. We say all we can sell of the farmers' CHICKEN, DUCKS, GEESE, EGGS, BUTTER, VEGETABLES, PORK and BEEF and LAMB.

Since this business started we have bought hundreds of BEEF CATTLE on foot at higher prices. Farmers no longer appreciate this. We have orders for CHOICE DRESSED CHICKEN over 6 pounds WANTED AT ONCE. Bargains and new goods arriving daily. Come and see for yourself. See your own ISLAND HOME OWNED STORE which is today the largest Food Store on P. E. I.

CASH and CARRY STORES

187 GREAT GEORGE STREET Phone 747 W. R. DENNIS, Prop. Phone 748

SERVICE - QUALITY - PRICE SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

GOVT WILL NOT

(Continued from Page 1)

level. If we cannot get an unattainable ideal we must seek an agreement at the lowest level possible. We stand for regulated limitation as opposed to competition and unregulated armament.

"We ask the House to help us treat this as constituting a new opportunity, aiming at promoting for Europe a policy of peace based on the principles of the post-war period, but a new effort to establish more firmly and securely the peace of the world."

Reports Exaggerated

Accusations of German rearmament and inadequacy of existing defence forces found the government unperturbed, however, Stanley Baldwin, speaking for the Government in reply to the charges, declared most reports of German rearmament were exaggerated. He specifically denied the German air force would be larger than Britain's by 1936 and stated the huge expansion programme for the British Air Force was well in hand.

Former Prime Minister David Lloyd George, making his first speech in Parliament in many months, agreed with Mr. Baldwin there was no danger from Germany for two years at least, but disagreed with Mr. Baldwin's plea that Germany reveal how far she is rearming. That would be a direct challenge that France could not ignore, he declared.

He assured the House the Government was closely watching all developments and should an emergency develop—of which he could see no signs at present—the Government would not be caught unprepared. Further, he declared, the Government was determined that it would not under any conditions would Britain accept any position of inferiority in regard to any forces raised in Germany in the future.

He said most serious however on the need for Germany herself removing the attitude of fear and distrust that had arisen among her neighbors since the advent of the Nazi regime. "Situations where Germany is the very center of the world, when she will recognize it," he exclaimed.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Britain's Air Strength

Mr. Baldwin disputed Mr. Churchill's assertions, Germany's real strength in the air today was not that of 7,000, he said. It was 3,000, and would still have a margin of nearly 50 percent, in Europe alone.

He recalled the Government's announcement last July it would virtually double the British air strength by a long-range building and restoration programme. He indicated this has been speeded up so that it will be practically complete within two years.

In 1935 and 1936, Mr. Baldwin informed the House, 22 squadrons would be added to the home defence, and three squadrons to the fleet air arm. The whole 25 would be additional to the four already being formed in the current year.

First-line air strength would thus be increased by 300 aircraft plus the necessary reserves which the Royal Air Force considers should be ample. He mentioned that Britain's latest types of military aircraft have a speed of more than 320 miles an hour.

Since the plan was announced in July, he continued, 90 new aerodrome sites have been inspected and 11 have already been approved. The new flying training school will open in April. Short-service officers will be increased and more civilian pilots will be added to the reserve.

The first-line strength of the Royal Air Force, home and overseas, at present is 890 aircraft. There are also auxiliary aircraft and special reserve squadrons with a total of 127 aircraft. In Europe the R. A. F. had altogether 690 machines available for the first line with sufficient in reserve to replace current losses.

Building plants, increasing or altering old stations, furthermore are "well in hand," he told the House.

Lloyd George speaks Situation Mr. Lloyd George spoke at length reviewing the world-wide situation. He urged that Britain should make an attempt to persuade the nations to carry out the obligations of the peace treaty and disarm, France in particular. He asked Britain to give a lead to the world, away from the shame of swaddling it, "inevitable, at the end of the journey it is travelling blindly today."

Lord Winterton, supporting the Churchillian amendment, asked Lloyd George how Britain could give a lead in a question between Japan and the United States, or between France and Germany, when the latter was clamoring for equality which France would never give.

Mr. Churchill interjected a question to Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, as to what was his information in regard to the German army. Sir John replied his information was that a short-service army of 500,000 men was being organized in 21 divisions with mechanized information and cavalry.

He was unaware, as Lord Winterton had suggested, that Germany was equipped with 6-inch guns. (The Versailles Treaty limits the Reichswehr to 100,000 men).

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

Mr. Baldwin admitted "there has grown a condition of nervous apprehension which hinders all progress." He would ask Germany whether they thought it was worth while, if she would tear away her secrecy in regard to armaments, light would be brought on many things that are alarming Europe.

FARMERS OF KINKORA ADOPT SCHEME

The potato marketing scheme was again unanimously adopted at a largely attended meeting at Kinkora last evening. The 175 people who attended the meeting displayed the keenest interest and took part in a most intelligent discussion on the proposed scheme.

Mr. W. J. Rold presided. Mr. L. W. Roper, cattle promoter, spoke on cattle improvement, and gave an outline of the departmental policies in connection with Bore and Cattle Clubs work. He also outlined bull loaning policies and other matters in connection with sheep and swine work.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O'Neil spoke on co-operative organization in relation to the Natural Products Marketing Act. Mr. J. J. Trainor presented the details of the proposed potato marketing scheme. He went into details exhaustively and answered clearly and satisfactorily all enquiries.

Mr. J. A. O