

"In ye olden tyme" we went to the tailor, waited a fortnight, had a "try-on," and waited another week or so.

To-day you get "better than the best tailor's best" in Semi-ready Tailoring shops.

The saving you make is not half so attractive as the better craftsmanship which is in Semi-ready.

The cobbler shop, the tallow dip, and the tailor shop all fall by the wayside in the March of Modern Ingenuity

SEVEN-MONTHS-OLD BABE MARVEL OF STRENGTH

LANSING, Mich., May 4—Here is a story for every man or woman who loves children.

All Lansing is proud of little Hugh Macdonald, Jr., and without question the tiny seven-months-old lad is a marvel.

When this little boy was scarcely out of his swaddling cloths he began to display unusual strength.

Little Hugh was soon given opportunities to display his infantile muscles.

This baby would pull himself up, brimming over with health he began to do "stunts" now he is a little circus.

His prize "stunt" is to hang by his tiny, chubby hands, from a piece of clothes line, fastened horizontally to the tops of two uprights.

"He has not been reared in any unusual way," said Mrs. Macdonald.

"You may know this when I tell you that we live very very simply. There are four of us in the family and our expenses for food never exceed $3.75 per week.

"The explorers are credited with having excavated a passage from the Pool of Siloam which lies at the southern end of Jerusalem to the southern slope of the Mount of Olives overlooking the Valley of Kedron and the Pool of Siloam.

The Mosques has been closed and is closed and guarded pending the arrival from Constantinople of officials of the Government, who will make an investigation.

GREAT STRIKE TO MARK TRIAL OF LABOR HEADS

ST. LOUIS, May 1—Addressing a meeting of laboring men in Union headquarters yesterday, William D. Haywood, once tried and acquitted for complicity in the death of former Governor Steunenberg, of Idaho, advocated a general strike throughout the United States on the day the MacNamara brothers are brought to trial in Los Angeles for alleged complicity in the Times explosion.

The meeting was under the auspices of the Socialist-Labor party, and there was a large attendance.

Haywood explained that the idea of a demonstration with the National officers of the industrial workers of the world, with headquarters in Chicago, where, he said, the movement already had gained considerable headway.

Officers of the Socialist-Labor party, following the address of the former secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, discussed plans for gaining support for the movement, and appointed delegates to work to interest laborers in the proposed strike.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 1—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is here and immediately went into conference with forty labor leaders of national and state organizations.

After the conference Mr. Gompers said the McNamara case was discussed and that the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, would make a charge of a defence fund, which would be raised by contributions from the various labor organizations of the country.

LOS ANGELES, May 1—The dynamite suspects' defence has opened extensive headquarters. Andrew J. Gallagher and B.B. Rosenthal, the labor leaders of San Francisco, have come here to confer with union men of Los Angeles regarding charges against the McNamaras.

Ortie B. McManigal, who is said to have confessed, maintains his air of joviality. It is said his wife will be brought here as a witness for the prosecution.

James McNamara will be the first of the alleged dynamiters to be placed on trial. This has been announced by the office of District Attorney Frederick.

It is reported that the National Erectors' Association, which was largely responsible for running down the accused, will probably resign.

Ortie McManigal will be tried after James McNamara and John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, will be tried last, according to the present program.

From the elaborate arrangements made for the great legal battle, it is believed that the trial of the three men will cost $2,000,000. A big bulk of the State's expense will result from the expenses of out-of-town witnesses, most of whom will be brought from the East.

OGUNQUIT, Me., May 2—A fortunate shift of the wind and the arrival of 300 fire fighters from York, Kennebunk and Kennebunkport, saved the village of Ogunquit from destruction by fire today.

The fire, which started in the town of York, had burned over two miles of woodland and was heading directly for the village when the wind shifted.

Even then the flames continued to spread toward the residences, but the reinforcements were able to stop it. Tonight the fire was headed toward Cape Neddick, with a free sweep of four miles ahead without a building.

It is hoped to get the flames under control before that village is reached. The forest fire started from the burning of the home of John W. Freeman just across the line in York.

Firemen were unable to save the barn and other outbuildings, but they were directing their attention that way sparks set fire to the woods.

Andrew E. Welch, an elderly man, was trapped by the flames, but took refuge in a swamp and escaped. He was badly burned about the face and hands in making his escape, however.

WORK OF SCIENTISTS AROUSE JERUSALEM

JERUSALEM, Palestine, May 3.—The inhabitants have been aroused to the point of rioting by the operations of a party of English archaeologists, who are accused of having excavated beneath the inviolable mosque of Omar and removed relics reputed to include the ark of the covenant, the censor and other sacred vessels which belonged to the tribes of Israel.

A Sem Bey the Turkish Governor, was mobbed on the streets for supposed complicity in the profanation and looting of the mosque.

The Mosques has been closed and is closed and guarded pending the arrival from Constantinople of officials of the Government, who will make an investigation.

The expedition worked for two years on a large scale beginning at the village of Siloam which lies at the southern end of Jerusalem to the southern slope of the Mount of Olives overlooking the Valley of Kedron and the Pool of Siloam.

The explorers are credited with having excavated a passage from the Pool of Siloam which lies at the southern end of Jerusalem to the southern slope of the Mount of Olives overlooking the Valley of Kedron and the Pool of Siloam.

TO WED MAN SHE SAVED FROM SLUMS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 2.—After taking an address to the derelicts in a mission of "Hell's Half Acre" as evidence that George Long had "made good" his promise to "brace up," Miss Edna W. Calkins, of New York, daughter of the late Captain A. H. Calkins, at one time a sea captain, and wealthy in her own right, today announced that she would soon become his bride.

Long has been at the head of the mission for some time. Before that he was one of those intended to be reached by speeches such as the one of his which today won him a wife.

Long and Miss Calkins met in New York, Miss Calkins was engaged in slum work and at her earnest suggestion the man took a firm grip on life, and has proved a great aid in the settlement tasks.

After coming here Long became head of the mission, and Miss Calkins, on a special trip today heard his address to the unemployed and unemployable, which decided her.
