FIRE SATURDAY—A slight fire at 54 King Street due to flying sparks igniting shingles on the roof necessitated the attention of the City Fire Brigade Saturday after- noon. No material damage re- sulted.

DIED IN LOWELL, MASS.—Word has been received of the very sud- den death in Lowell, Mass., of John MacEachern, son of Neil MacEach- ern of Rice Point. The remains are expected to arrive this even- ing. Funeral notice later.

CAR FERRY—The S. S. Prince Edward Island has just left the dry-dock at Halifax where she received her annual overhau- ling and cleaning. She will resume her route between the Capes to- day.

OFFICERS RESIGN.—The re- port of the annual meeting of the Protestant Orphanage Auxillary inadvertently omitted to state that Mrs. (Dr.) Bagnall resigned as Vice-President, and Mrs. Walter Grant as Treasurer. The Auxil- iary regret their resignations as they have done splendid work in these offices.

ELECTED RECTOR.—His many friends in the city and prov- ince will be pleased to hear that at a meeting of the parishons of the important parish of St. Marks, Halifax, Archdeacon Watson, M. A., was elected rector. Archdea- con Watson is a graduate of King's College and since his ordination in 1905 has labored in the diocese of Nova Scotia and P. E. I.

CONDITION IMPROVING.—His many friends will be pleased to learn that Dr. Carruthers of this city, who has been obliged to rest after too devoted to his duty, is improving in health. Yes- terday his condition was consider- ably improved and his physicians hope that a few weeks complete rest will set him on the way to re- covery.

North Teaches South Best Habits For Hot Weather

(United Press) RIO DE JANEIRO, June 13.—Al- though this has been a land of per- petual summer far beyond the mem- ory of the oldest inhabitant, it is only now that the Brazilian is learn- ing how to handle hot weather, and he is receiving some of his best tips from the American.

Up to very recently, the Brazilian dressed with great formality. Black was the prevailing color, black, heavy and hot. But now the Brazilian appears fresh and smiling in American "warm beach" whether he be senator, gambler or under- taker. Nowadays black is worn here only by foreigners.

A while ago the Brazilian re- freshed himself with coffee, from half a dozen to 20 small cups a day. The sidewalk tables with their coffee drinkers are historical in Rio. At frequent intervals he would take a tentative sip of lemonade or coconut milk.

But now the Brazilian is lining up on little stools before soda foun- tains, another American invasion of recent date. He is drinking ice cream sodas, sundaes and every- thing a regular American drug store has for sale.

The American soda fountain made its debut here during the Centennial Exposition. It was ac- cepted as a novelty and everybody tried it once. Then an adventure- some "Yankee" installed one in a small cafe on the outskirts of the business district of Rio. His suc- cess was so instant and enormous that the police were obliged to help handle the crowds. Soda fountains are now appearing in all parts of the city.
