

Adjourned Inquest Is Completed

A coroner's jury in the adjourned inquest into the death of the late Ewen MacKinnon whose body was found floating off Bunians and Bells Wharf on Monday, June 16, found that he came to his death by drowning in Charlottetown Harbour on June 6, 1947.

Coroner Dr. J.D. MacGowan presided at the inquest and the jury comprised: Messrs. Byron Brown, foreman, Harry Hardy, Aben MacLean, Howard McInnis, Hawley Crockett, Ernest Cudmore, and George Sutherland.

The only new evidence was that of Mr. Frank Lawlor who said he believed he had seen the deceased between 7 and 7.30 on Monday night, June 9. He felt sure of the date because it was a holiday. Witness did not notice particularly what MacKinnon was wearing but believed he had on a green felt hat and an overcoat. Witness felt certain it was MacKinnon he had seen and reported so to the police next morning.

Cst. Butler, City Police, told the jury that upon hearing Mr. Lawlor's story, the police had phoned Mrs. MacKinnon who stated that her husband was not wearing a hat but a cap and was dressed in brown clothes without an overcoat.

Other witnesses heard were Dr. Shaw, Messrs. Chester Shaw, W.P. MacLeod, Mrs. Percy Vail (who corroborated her husband's story of having seen the late Mr. MacKinnon on Friday morning, June 6, James Phillips, Clifford Keenan, Wallace MacDonald, Donald MacEachern, Lemuel McNeill, and Willard Prose.

$10,000 Fire At Murray River

The recent fire at Murray River resulted in damage approximating $10,000, it was learned yesterday. Originating in the lumber mill owned by Mr. Charles Hancock, the fire which began about 1 o'clock last Tuesday afternoon quickly destroyed the mill and a large quantity of lumber.

Local fire fighters headed by Mr. Alex Dunne worked heroically and were responsible for the saving of buildings and stock valued at more than $200,000. Before the fire was checked, however, it destroyed a nearby barn and other buildings as well as badly gutting the house occupied by Mr. Clarence Lowe.

The cause of the fire was not known.

Tuna Return Early To N. S. Waters

WEDGEPOR T N. S., June 26.—(CP)—The bluntnose are here again! Commercial fishermen today hurried into port with news that the first tuna of the season had been spotted off Soldiers' Rip, famous mecca of international sportsmen.

Normally, tuna, varying in size from 200 to 900 pounds, strike the southwestern tip of Nova Scotia about the first of July, and last year the first catch was made by an angler July 19.

Soldiers' Rip is the name of a tremendous tide at the mouth of Tusket River near here. It is on this tide that myriads of small fish, such as herring, ride in from the deep at this time of year.

In their wake come the mighty tuna, which feed on their smaller kin. Fishermen have been gathering a large harvest of herring here recently, and old-timers had forecast the early approach of tuna for that reason.

CENTRAL GUARDIAN Ch'town Couple Observe 50th Anniversary

Saturday, June 21, was a memorable day for Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Flynn of Charlottetown. Beginning early in the morning the highlight of their 50th Anniversary celebration was the Mass of Thanksgiving celebrated by Rev. Dr. McMahon in St. Dunstan's Basilica. The servers were Thomas and Maurice Flynn, nephews of Mr. Flynn. The organist for the occasion was Miss Marion Dougan. Mr. Frank McIntyre's beautiful tenor voice enriched the service as he sang several solos including Gounod's "Ave Maria". Mrs. W.J. Alan Cockeram, Progressive Catholics, sang with devotional feeling "Sweet Sacrament Divine". At the wedding breakfast served at the Queen Hotel, beside the bride and groom of 1897 were Rev. Dr. McMahon, Miss Dougan, Mr. McIntyre, Colonel and Mrs. W.J. MacDonald and their children, Inez Marie, Grace Joan, Stephanie, Lewis Valens, William David, Vernon Arnold. The oldest grandson, Douglas A.C., who is a medical student at Dalhousie University, is present attending a military course in Camp Boden. Mr. Flynn's only surviving sister, Mrs. Evelyn M. Rutch of California and Mr. and Mrs. F.E. Flynn of this city were present. Out of town guests were Mrs. W.A. Lewis, Misses Bernadette and Grace Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. MacDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Ronan G. MacDonald of Cardigan. A program of favorite folk songs and Irish and Scotch airs in which all joined, lent a happy note to the gathering.

At the home of their son-in-law, Colonel W.J. MacDonald, 263 Rhyon road, Mr. and Mrs. Flynn received from four to six. The door was opened by little Miss Mary Clare and Mary Patricia Smith, daughters of Dr. G.L. and Mrs. Smith. A grand daughter, Inez Marie ushered the numerous guests into the living-room where bouquets of American beauty and golden hued roses harmonized with the color scheme of the setting. Mr. D.J. Riley, and Mrs. W.J.P. MacMillan introduced the guests, and Mrs. F.E. Croken ushered them into the dining-room, which was also beautifully arranged in a color scheme of heaven-blue and gold.

The dining-room table centered with the artistically decorated three-tier wedding cake made by Mrs. W.J. MacDonald, was resplendent with flowers, gold tapers, silver, cut glass and blue china. Tea was graciously poured by Mrs. T.M. McMillan, Mrs. L.B. McMillan, Mrs. S.G. Pippin, Mrs. P.E. Christopher. The general servers were Mrs. Mark R. McGuigan, Mrs. S. Paoli, Mrs. Donald, Mrs. J.F. MacMillan, Mrs. F.A. Coyle, Miss Jean MacDonald, Miss Stella Morrissey and Miss Grace Bryant. Assisting and replenishing were Mrs. J.T. Revell, Mrs. Andrew S. MacDonald, Miss Bernadette and Grace Lewis. A second grand daughter, Grace Joan capably directed the servers.

During the social evening which followed many events, reminiscences of the past were recalled by appearance and still so youthful in appearance of favorite old friends brought the day, so rich in golden memories, to a happy close.

Accompanists in the evening were Mr. Andrew S. MacDonald, Mrs. Ronan G. MacDonald and Miss Grace Bryant. The honored couple accepted the kind invitation of the Sisters Adorers of the Precious Blood and assisted at Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the Monastery chapel at 2.30 P.M.

Mrs. Flynn is a daughter of late W.P. Lewis, skilled sculptor of Dumfries, Scotland, and Agnes Smith of Edinburgh, graduate of the conservatory of music. Of this family of ten, only two sisters survive. Mrs. Flynn, formerly Katherine Clementine O'Leary and Grace Patterson Lewis, now Mrs. F.J. Reylock of Montreal. Mr. Flynn retired in 1926 from his position in the service of the C.N.R. in this province. He is the son of the late Thomas E. Flynn, former Imperial Army officer who was transferred from Malta to Halifax, then to Charlottetown, and Rose Riley, daughter of the late Michael Riley and Mrs. Riley of this city.

Many telegrams, letters, beautiful cards, checks and gifts, other expressions of good wishes poured in during the day from relatives and friends of the highly respected couple whose lives of devotion to each other and to church and community are an inspiration to all who know them. "Just as God blessed them long ago. When first they pledged their vow. To face the future hand in hand So may He bless them now. And just as He has granted them His joys along life's way. May He reward their loyal hearts With happiness for aye."

Retiring Railway Employee Honored

Mr. George H. Douglas who retired recently from the Canadian National Railways blacksmith shop in Charlottetown after 42 years service, was the recipient of a purse as a mark of appreciation from fellow employees. The purse was accompanied by an address, read by Mr. H.E. Moore, the Master Mechanic. It said the gift was "in remembrance of the aays spent in the shops". Mr. Douglas is a native of Heald of Hillsboro and during his 42 years and five months with the railway worked in Charlottetown.

The annual inspection of the Sea Cadet Corps of H. M. C. S. Queen Charlotte was held last night at the local barracks on Kent St. The inspecting officer was Lieut. Douglas Saunders acting for the Area Commanding Officer, Lieut. Commander D. Baker. The cadets were inspected in squad drill, platoon drill, physical training, rifle drill, signalling, seamanship, and bends and hitches. The Commanding Officer of the Cadet Corps was Lieut. Commander Jack Kenney. The annual camp this summer will be held near St. John, N.B., with some 40 cadets from here expected to attend.

The regular monthly meeting of the Charlottetown Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. was held last night at the Legion Home, Grafton St. The President, Major A. W. Rogers presided. Various reports by committee chairmen were given and adopted. Lieut.-Col. G. K. Peake spoke of the membership campaign now on, and expressed the hope that all ex-servicemen would see their way clear to enroll in the Legion. Delegates to the Provincial Command convention next September were named as follows: H. R. Vessey, J. J. Connolly, W. J. MacDonald, J. A. McGuigan, D. J. Matheson, Muriel Weeks, A. J. Campbell, Ira Brown, W. B. Peters, P. E. Palmer, Keith Johnson, T. G. Irlam, Reginald Mahon, and Roy MacGillivray. A Resolutions Committee in connection with the command meeting was appointed as follows: P. E. Palmer, Chairman, J. A. McGuigan, H. R. Vessey, Charles MacKenzie.

Two resolutions were passed. One favored the branch paying an increase of 50 cents per member to the Provincial Command without increasing the present dues. Another concerned the adoption of a beret to be worn on parade by all members. A program of entertainment which was much enjoyed included tap dancing by Miss Teresa Costello, violin selections by Alf McKearney and a duet by the Misses Joan and Teresa Murnaghan. The Legionaires Orchestra, under "Ding" Connolly rendered several numbers.

The following letter from Mr. J. P. Johnson, vice president and general manager of the Atlantic Region, Canadian National Railways, was received recently by Mr. W. Chester S. McLure, M.P., at Ottawa. The letter was occasioned by Mr. McLure's many inquiries regarding ex-servicemen and their employment with the C.N.R. "Dear Mr. McLure: "I wish you to know what a pleasure it was for me to receive your kind letter of the 16th instant. Indeed, it is such a kindly acknowledgment as such which gives a man pleasure for doing the things he ought to do even though, as you say, it becomes necessary sometimes to go far afield to get the proper information. "I have never seen such unanimity of opinion on any matter by such a large number of men as is actually existent among all the officers of the Railway in their desire to go to the very limit in the way of being helpful to our ex-servicemen. And it would give all of us great pain if peradventure any one of them was deprived of the very best that we can do for them. "Indeed, I know that you get an enormous amount of correspondence and that you must attend to it. I have been connected with the Government-owned Railways for a great many years and my work has brought me to Ottawa on occasions and I sometimes think it is really too bad that the public do not know what a really heavy burden their Members have to carry. "You may always feel at liberty to write me on any subject that comes before you when you are in need of information, and I would like you to feel that it will be just a pleasure for me to get you the needed facts. "I do regard the enquiries I get from our Members as being something helpful to me because of any misunderstandings are cleared away and everybody becomes happy. "I hope I may have the opportunity of seeing you at an early date. With many kind regards, "Yours very truly,"

New Turbine For Electric Plant Is Due

The new turbine generator for the Charlottetown plant of the Maritime Electric Company arrived in Halifax two days ago and is expected in the City today, Mr. V. A. Ainsworth, local manager of the Company, informed the Guardian yesterday. The turbine, manufactured by C. A. Parsons and Company, Ltd., Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, was ordered in the spring of 1945. Filling four freight cars, the strongly-cased and highly complicated equipment will be unloaded immediately upon its arrival but, Mr. Ainsworth said, no attempt will be made to assemble the turbine until the arrival next week of the English Company's expert technicians.

The task of assembling the turbine and putting it into operation will require about three months. Mr. Ainsworth said yesterday that the arrival of the turbine is only another of many concrete illustrations of England's grim determination to honour her export-trade commitments even to the extent of depriving her own people of many much-needed industrial replacements. The great power shortage in England last winter brought impressively to the world's attention by the abnormal English weather conditions—has by no means been remedied. Mr. Ainsworth said, and it is unlikely that any permit for the export of this turbine would have been granted were it not that England is in desperate need of American and Canadian dollars with which to pay for her imports.

Mr. Ainsworth said yesterday that the arrival of the turbine is only another of many concrete illustrations of England's grim determination to honour her export-trade commitments even to the extent of depriving her own people of many much-needed industrial replacements. The great power shortage in England last winter brought impressively to the world's attention by the abnormal English weather conditions—has by no means been remedied. Mr. Ainsworth said, and it is unlikely that any permit for the export of this turbine would have been granted were it not that England is in desperate need of American and Canadian dollars with which to pay for her imports.
