

E. D. MORGAN DENIES IT.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 23.—Former Commodore Edwin D. Morgan said today that private affairs would prevent his acting as manager of the next cup defender. W. Cutler Duncan, Jr., who had charge of the Constitution last year, is now mentioned as the new boat's manager. It was learned today that the Constitution will be used as a trial horse for the new cup defender, and the Columbia will be shelved.

The syndicate which will build the new boat will be named when the challenge from Sir Thomas Lipton is received.

The Sinful Brother.

It was at a certain church meeting, and the good bishop was calling for reports. He had a rather stern, sharp manner which sometimes jarred a little on the nerves of the more timid. By and by he came to Brother B., a lay delegate.

"Brother B., what is the spiritual condition of your church?" demanded the bishop, briskly.

"I consider it good," said the brother. "What makes you think it is good?" went on the bishop.

"Well, the people are religious. That's what makes me think so."

"What do you call religious? Do they have family prayer?"

"Some of them do and some do not."

"Do you mean to say that a man may be a Christian, and not hold family prayer?"

"Yes, sir; I think so."

"Do you hold family prayer?"

"Yes, sir," returned the brother, quietly.

"And yet you think a man may be a Christian and not hold family prayer?"

"I have a brother who is a better man than I am who does not hold family prayer."

"What makes you think he is a better man than you are?"

"Everybody says so, and I know he is."

"Why does not your brother, if he is such a good man, hold family prayer?" thundered the bishop.

"He has no family," me the brother.

A POSITIVE MAN,

He Seems Able to Prove the Truth of What He Says.

Mr. Chalker Makes Some Very Strong Statements—That He is Prepared to Prove the Truth of Every Assertion He Makes.

HOUSEY'S RAPIDS, Ont. Sept. 26.—(Special).—Mr. George C. Chalker, a well known resident of this place, has authorized the publication of a letter containing some very startling statements.

Those who know Mr. Chalker will not ask any proof of the truth of any statement he makes, but to convince those who do not know him, he has announced that he is prepared to substantiate in every detail, the truth of his public statement, which is as follows:—

"It is with pleasure that I certify to the merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills, 'I was laid up with Kidney Trouble and was so bad that I could not do a day's work. My back was very sore, I had heavy aching arms, dull bloated eyes. I was very much reduced in weight."

"After I had used six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I was ten pounds heavier. I often wonder about the powerful virtue of this medicine. I do not know anything about what Dodd's Kidney Pills are said to cure but I know a great deal about what they will actually do for Lame Back and Kidney Trouble, and I can prove it."

"They are worth their weight in gold to any one suffering as I suffered. The six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me completely and there has been no return of my old trouble. That is over three years ago, and I still enjoy good health."

This is, indeed a very strong testimonial for Dodd's Kidney Pills and one which will have very great weight with all who have the pleasure of Mr. Chalker's acquaintance or friendship.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have made many friends and are to-day, without doubt, the most popular family medicine.

Mainly About People.

"What can we do with Rosslyn?" Disraeli once asked of Salisbury. "Make him master of the backbones," his father was," suggested the latter. "No," replied the Premier, "he swears far too much for that. We will make him high commissioner to the Church of Scotland."

Senator Proctor of Vermont says the finest speech he ever made consisted of only four words. It was a retort to Senator Kern's sarcastic little thrust in a speech directed at the Green Mountain senator. He said: "No man in Vermont is allowed to vote unless he has made five thousand dollars trading with Massachusetts people." Whereat Proctor said: "And we all vote."

The principal of a high school tells the following anecdote: One day at school I gave a bright boy a sum in algebra, and, although the problem was comparatively easy, he couldn't do it. I remarked, "You ought to be ashamed of yourself. At your age George Washington was a surveyor." The boy looked me straight in the eyes and replied, "Yes, sir; and at your age he was President of the United States."

A good story comes from the Davidson Theater, in Chicago, and runs to the effect that a man from up the State went in to see the opera the other night, pulling his money from his pocket before he reached the box-office window. "I want ten tickets, a good seat," he said, loud enough to be heard all over the lobby of the theater, "and I want it right down the middle aisle, and close up to the exercises." He got it.

A hunting party of ladies and gentlemen were detained by a storm at the hut of a Virginia backwoodsman. Dinner being served, there was an embarrassing scarcity of knives. The mother wishing to impress her aristocratic guests, called in a commanding tone to her young daughter, "Fetch some more knives, Sairy; you know we've got thousands of 'em." "Law, no, ma'am; they're all that! That's 'Big Butch,' and 'Little Butch,' and 'Razor-Back,' and 'Buntz'."

David Lloyd-George, a member of Parliament from Wales, tells a good story on himself in connection with a Disestablishment meeting in which he has been taking part in Wales. A few days previous, it seems, there had been a Church Defence meeting held in the same place, at which a certain prominent dignitary of the Establishment had spoken, referring to whom Mr. Lloyd-George's chairman observed: "In my opinion that Churchman is one of the biggest liars in North Wales, but, thank goodness, we've got a match for him here to-night!"

"Chums" tells of a certain wild beast tamer who had been on bad terms for some time with one of his neighbors, and the other day, as the result of a violent quarrel, the latter, with a friend, attacked the former just before he was timed to give his performance. The tamer, unwilling to make a scene, took refuge in the lion's den. Judge of the amusement of the spectators when they beheld the two men standing in front of the cage and shouting through the bars at regular intervals: "Come out of that, you big coward; come out of that!"

Some little while ago a rather eccentric cotton manufacturer, owning large mills not a score of miles from Halifax, England, and who was familiarly known in the district round about as "Owd H—", overheard one of the lads in his employ remark to somebody: "Aw wish Aw hed 'Owd H—'s brass, an' he wor 't' warkhouse." Quickly retiring, "Owd H—" sent for the offender into his office, and asked him what he would do with the money, supposing his wish were to be fulfilled. The youngster was quite equal to the occasion, promptly replying: "Whoy, th' furst thing Aw'd do wud be ta fetch yo' oat (out), maister."

This clever reply so appeased the old gentleman that the boy was sent back to his work with half a sovereign in his pocket.

The other afternoon, says the New York "Tribune," when President Roosevelt reached Dupont Circle, a "seeing Washington" electric car hove in sight, and the guide continued his lecture through a megaphone in this way: "On the left we see the elegant residence of Mr. George Westinghouse, the millionaire inventor and electrician, formerly the home of the late James G. Blaine; a little to the left of front we perceive the palatial mansion of Mr. L. Z. Leiter, the Chicago millionaire, and father of the famous beauty, Miss Mary Leiter, now Lady Curzon, the wife of the Governor-General of India; in the park in front we are confronted by the statue of Admiral Dupont, and also in front we see the President of the United States on horseback." The crowd looked, and one woman said, "Whose statue is it, McKinley's?" "It's Roosevelt," the guide responded. "He ain't a statue yet."

Something Wrong With the Shammy.

There is a prominent doctor in Germantown who is busy telling a little joke on himself, says the Philadelphia "Evening Telegraph." It appears that he employed an Irish servant who had just arrived from the "ould sod." Starting out one morning he noticed his office windows were rather dirty, and calling Bridget, he instructed her to clean them before he returned. At the same time he told her that he would stop and purchase a new chamois skin and send it home, and with this she was to clean the windows. After he had gone his rounds he found them thickly streaked with grease. He called Bridget, and the following colloquy took place:

"Bridget, didn't I tell you to clean the windows?"

"Yes, sor."

"And didn't I tell you to use the new chamois?"

"Yes, sor."

"Well, did you use it?"

"Sure I did, sor."

"Let me see the chamois," said the doctor, and Bridget promptly brought it. Then for the first time he learned that his wife had left the house a half hour before he did in the morning and had sent home some tripe. The doctor declines to say what happened to the chamois skin.

Nervous Prostration

A Common Trouble at This Trying Season—An Example of How This Ailment is Cured by

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The first indication of nervous exhaustion and prostration is a tendency to neglect your daily work and to lose interest in the affairs of every-day life. Nervousness is becoming exhausted, and it seems too much trouble to concentrate the mind and to set about the task before you. When you feel your energy and ambition waning it is time to take action to restore your vitality. The evidence of many of the most reliable people in Canada points to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as the most effective means of restoring exhausted nerves.

Mrs. Willis Taylor, Hensley Street, Charlottetown, P. E. I., states:—"I suffered from nervous prostration, could not sleep and frequently had attacks of nervous headache, in fact, my whole system was run down and my health was in anything but a satisfactory condition. Since having used three boxes of Chase's Nerve Food I can say that I never tried any medicine that did me so much good. It has built up my system, strengthened the nerves, and enabled me to sleep and rest well. It is now a considerable time since I had a headache, and I can truthfully recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a splendid preparation."

Saved Her Husband.

An English newspaper is responsible for the statement that a prominent business man of Vienna two years ago was on the brink of ruin. His wife, a young and beautiful woman of twenty-four, found a way out of the difficulty.

She left a purposely overheated room one night and walked up and down a stone-floored passage barefooted and scantily clad till she caught a serious chill, which she aggravated by a series of reckless acts. Inflammation of the lungs set in; she died and her husband received the large sum for which her life was insured. This enabled him to pull through the crisis successfully, and within a very short time he was a rich man again. He married a second time within two months of his first wife's death. Now a servant in his employ at the time has informed the police of the facts of the case, stating that she overheard the conversation in which the heroic wife told her husband of her intention to die for his sake. The insurance company contends that it was a case of suicide, and demands the return of the money from the husband, who may also have to answer to the charge of having been an accessory to the crime.

A WONDERFUL TONIC AND STRENGTHENER.

Said a druggist today, "No doubt about it, the tonic that gives best results is the biggest seller, and that is Ferrozone. It enriches and purifies the blood, restores strength and energy to the feeble, and is a scientific reconstructer that was always popular. In Cholera, Anæmia, Tiredness, Languor, Brain Fog, Insigestion and Dyspepsia its action is prompt, and satisfactory cures always follow. Yes, I recommend Ferrozone to my customers because I believe it is the best tonic and strengthening medicine that money can buy." Large boxes cost 50c.
