Meetings will be held every second and fourth Thursday.

—ANNUAL MEETING—The annual meeting of the Evening Auxiliary of Trinity United Church was held this week at the home of Mrs. Fred Watton. Miss Zilpha MacQuarrie occupied the chair and conducted the devotional period. As this was the Christmas meeting a very nicely arranged Christmas program was put on by some of the members. Mrs. MacQuarrie read a paper on "The Unending Christmas." A quartette of Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Hockin, Mrs. Dewar and Mrs. Phillips sang very acceptably "Silent Night." Packing a box for the Mission field took up part of the evening. After that the business part of the meeting was undertaken and the election of officers took place. President, Mrs. L. E. G. Davies; vice-pres., Mrs. Hazen Phillips; secretary, Mrs. Robert Dewar; treasurer, Mrs. Borden Dewar; secretary Christian Stewardship, Mrs. Albert Linkletter; secretary of temperance, Mrs. George Melkie; strangers secretary, Mrs. William Cannon; chairman of lunch committee, Mrs. Erskine Haywood. A vote of thanks moved by Mrs. Harold Milligan seconded by Mrs. Albert Linkletter was tendered to the retiring officers for their faithful service during the year, and particularly to Miss MacQuarrie for her three years as president. General regret was expressed that Miss MacQuarrie felt she could not take another year in office. Miss MacQuarrie thanked the Auxiliary for their support during her three years as president, and assured them of her continued interest in the Society. Lunch was served by the hostess at the conclusion of the meeting.

Fox Educational Week Proved Big Success

The concluding day of Fox Educational Week was just as successful as the preceding days. The committee can congratulate themselves on the success of their tremendous undertaking which was one of the biggest things ever attempted in the fur world. Over 600 entries were received and the foxes were well cared for and housed without a single mishap.

The value of the educational features of the show have been tremendous and ranchers, big and little, declared they had learned much from their attendance. On Wednesday afternoon and Friday afternoon there was a display of some of the best foxes to be seen in North America. At one time on the table was a herd comprising six generations, as near perfect as it would be possible to get foxes and was a wonderful collection.

The committee and everyone who assisted are to be most heartily congratulated on the success of their enterprise and it is hoped it will become an annual event.—S

Laurel and Hardy Capitol, Summerside

Those inimitable mirth provokers Laurel and Hardy appeared in a new role last night at the Capitol Theatre, Summerside, in "Way Out West" the most hilariously funny and brilliant entertainment this secular team of comics have presented in their ten years together on the screen.

Their laugh-lending lustre is enhanced by a singing duet with variations, preceded by a swing dance of the gay nineties vintage.

Sad-faced Gian and Pomposity Ollie are a riot of fun from the moment they enter the picture across a desert stream with their trick donkey until they fade out crossing the stream on the way back. It's their first Western and the boys whoop it up as a pair of "cenderless" prospectors trying to do a good deed in delivering a gold mine deed, only to end up in a series of misdeeds.

"Way Out West" has been given an excellent physical mounting of the color and glamour of the wild and woolly west, and the characterizations of Sharon Lynne, James Finlayson, Rosina Lawrence, The Avalon Four and Stanley Fields are outstanding.

Under the direction of the veteran James W. Horne, bright new gags are well-spotted and are spontaneous in bringing out the laugh. Charles Rogers, Jimmy Farrot, Jack Jevne and Felix Adler were the staff of writers and gag-men. You have to hear Laurel and Hardy sing and see them do the light fantastic to appreciate the most merry round of mirth they have ever started.

Tormentine

Mr. and Mrs. Angus McVicar and two children of Glace Bay were recent guests of Mrs. McVicar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Artemas Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. George Spence and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Spence motored to Sackville on Monday.

Mr. Palmer Trenholm spent several days in Montreal recently.

Quite a number from here attended the dance in Base Verle on Wednesday night held under the auspices of the Eastern Star Lodge. The Rainbow Orchestra from here furnished the music.

On Thursday night a reception was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McLaughlin whose marriage was solemnized recently. A large number attended and enjoyed an evening of dancing and cards.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Holman spent a few days in Montreal recently visiting friends.

Mr. Blake Oulton, student at Mt. Allison University spent Sunday here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Oulton.

On Thursday evening the Ladies of the Bayfield United Church held a Goose Supper at the Seaside Hotel. A large number attended and a good sum was raised for church purposes.

Mrs. W. E. Oulton is spending a few days in Amherst, a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Alex. Cameron, and Mr. Cameron.

THINGS OF BEAUTY A JOY FOREVER

Floral Gift, 39 Years Ago, Of Late R. T. Holman a Source Of Perennial Pleasure.

A news item taken from the Examiner, Charlottetown, Nov. 9, 1898, will be of interest to residents of Charlottetown who enjoy the lovely flowers in the Queen Square Gardens.

The item reads as follows: "A Gift Appreciated—Mr. R. T. Holman, of Summerside, has kindly given some thousands of hyacinths, crocuses, jonquils and tulips to be planted in Queen Square Gardens, Charlottetown. He has the thanks of the Gardens Committee and citizens generally for his gift."

The late Mr. Holman was exceptionally fond of flowers and liked other people to enjoy them too.

The beautiful garden beside the residence of the Holman family at Summerside is a lasting memorial to his love of flowers.

Mrs. Holman and her family take great pleasure in showing visitors over the gardens and many lovely blossoms, jonquils and tulips to many sick and elderly persons who are not able to go out.—S

Gas Tax Is Easy To Collect

In the 18-year period since the gasoline tax was first levied, gas has become a necessary part of the variety of reasons for jumping it to its present levels.

In 1919 it was imposed by North Dakota, New Mexico, Colorado, and Oregon. All four states adopted it for the logical purpose of constructing highways and maintaining them. On this ground there never was any great objection.

Since then government ingenuity has gone to absurd limits in proposing other reasons, some of which have necessarily increased the price to the consumer. The tax has been variously classified as an excise, a commercial charge for the privilege of using vehicles on the public roads, a license tax, and sometimes an occupation or privilege tax.

The simple truth is that gasoline has been an easy mark for revenue purposes and the tax on it has shown a steady increase. Were the taxing jurisdictions frank about it, they would admit this was the reason which appeals to them most. It is easy to collect and it brings in big returns.

As late as 1922 the rate in 17 of the United States was only one cent a gallon, only two charging as much as 2 cents. Now 17 cents is a fair average. In one Province of Canada it is 10 cents. In two provinces it is 8 cents. In four others it is 7 cents. Only in two, Ontario and Quebec, is it as low as 6 cents.

Was up visiting the Boss' house the other day and heard his wife telling the maid: "Marie, when you wait at table tonight for my guests, please don't spill anything." Marie answered: "Don't you worry, ma'am; I'll keep my mouth shut."

COMMISSION ENDS HEARING IN MANITOBA

Premier Bracken Calls For Debt Adjustment To Prevent Default.

(By Carl Reinke, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

WINNIPEG, Dec. 3.—Premier John Bracken today told the Rowell Commission that default was Manitoba's alternative to adoption of some plan of debt adjustment and reallocation of social services along the lines suggested in the Manitoba's brief.

His statement came at termination of the presentation of Manitoba's case to the Commission which has occupied the last five days.

The scheme proposed by Manitoba involved Dominion assumption of part of the provincial debt all relief costs and half the responsibility for social services, as well as refunding the rest of the provincial debt. There undoubtedly would be difficulties in carrying it out, he said.

"If we were looking for an easy way out, though not the most satisfactory, we would just suspend interest on our debt," Premier Bracken said. "We think, looked at from all angles, the plan we have proposed is the most reasonable solution for everyone concerned."

Manitoba proposed that the Dominion Government cancel its relief loans (about $22,000,000) to the province and capitalize at 3 1/4 per cent the annual provincial subsidies, which would mean assuming $52,000,000 of the provincial debt. Then the remainder of the provincial debt would be refunded at 3 1/4 per cent, with the cooperation of the Dominion.

The Province proposed, as a reallocation of social services, that the Dominion assume full responsibility for unemployment relief and old age pensions and contribute half the cost of mothers' allowances, hospitalization and health services, highways and technical education.

Premier Bracken declared the province had faced "almost insuperable difficulties" for the past seven years and could continue that way no longer.

Commissioner J. W. D'Almeida asked what course the province proposed if a conference of bondholders with the Dominion ran into obstacles.

The Premier said the Government had not considered its plan in full detail, but in the first place the Dominion could say yes or no to taking over the relief debt. Then the Dominion could give a definite answer on the proposal that it take over $52,000,000 provincial debt and retain the annual subsidy previously paid the province.

Induction Of Rev. Verwolf Last Night

The Presbyterian Church at Summerside was the scene of a very impressive service last evening when Rev. Verwolf was inducted to the ministry of the church. Rev. T. O. Hughes, B.A., moderator, Montague, presided over the induction ceremony.

After a short devotional period Rev. Dr. Thompson, Hunter River, preached a very impressive sermon. Rev. Mr. Williamson, Malpasque, then narrated the steps leading up to the call after which the impressive induction ceremony took place. Rev. Carlyle Webster of Charlottetown in a very eloquent address charged the newly inducted minister on his duties in new new parish. Rev. Edwin White of Tyne Valley gave the charge to the congregation. The service concluded with the benediction by Rev. Wm. Verwolf. During the service the choir sang appropriate hymns and a quartette of Messrs. Forbes, Bentley, Mill and Mounttain also sang most acceptably.

After the service Rev. and Mrs. Verwolf were personally introduced to the congregation. A social hour followed in the hall with refreshments. The ministers of the other churches were invited to attend.

During the afternoon a meeting of the Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church on Prince Edward Island was held and after the induction service a short business session of the Presbytery and officers of the church was held.

Rev. Mr. Verwolf was formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Durham, N.S.

MOTHER

And in a few moments her other children followed, as the crumbling timbers of the house toppled inward. In a matter of minutes, the tiny frame building was a mass of blazing debris.

The husband and father of the woman had to be restrained from attempting to get back in the house after they had escaped on the first alarm. The flames, neighbors said, would have meant certain death.

Shivering in their night clothes on the snow-flecked ground outside, the trio of survivors could hear, momentarily, the cries of the trapped five. Then, as they watched helplessly, the outcries trailed off.

Two of the men—The father and brother of Mrs. Miron—had been sleeping on a mattress in the large upstairs room that covered the whole upper part of the house. The woman and her husband and youngsters were distributed about the same room when the fire burst out.

Coroner Joseph Dion convened an inquest a few hours after the tragedy, and the jury returned a verdict of accidental death in each of the five cases.

Tonight, the men who survived the fire were given shelter at the home of J. Blane, on a neighboring farm. They were without clothes or belongings of any kind.

Brazil Political Parties Banned

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 3.—President Getulio Vargas today ordered all political parties in Brazil, including the Fascist Integralist Party, to disband at once.

Vargas already had banned Communism in a broadcast in January, 1936, he said he would do his utmost to exterminate Communism and since then has declared a state of war several times to combat it.

Today's decree, one of a series issued by the President since Brazil's new constitution was promulgated Nov. 10, was understood at the Ministry of Justice and Interior to have been aimed directly at the Integralist movement, said to include 1,000,000 men, women and children.

The party closed its national headquarters and removed its files. Plinio Salgado, its head, left for Sao Paulo.
