MOVIES INVADE SCHOOL ROOMS

VANCOUVER, Dec. 2—Visual education, through the medium of motion pictures, may become a reality in Vancouver schools in 1937. A recommendation to this effect by H. N. MacCorkindale, superintendent of schools, has been adopted by the School Board.

Cost of the scheme would be between $3500 and $4000 each year. Two of the larger high schools in the city, the superintendent said, are prepared to purchase sound machines. A vast quantity of education material would be available to the students, he believed.

Starting as a salesman with the Kellogg Company at Battle Creek, Michigan, in 1894, he came to Canada in 1914 and established the Canadian Kellogg business. In 1920 he went to England and established the English Kellogg business. In the fall of 1925 he joined the Carnation Canadian organization, in charge of sales throughout Eastern Canada, and in 1934 was made Treasurer and a Director.

Early Settlers Hold A Reunion

ST. BONIFACE, Man., Dec. 2 — Mental pictures of pioneer days formed and re-formed here at a reunion of descendants of Jean Baptiste Lagimodiere and his wife, Marie Anne Gaboury. The gathering drew together 94 families of sturdy French-Canadian folk to commemorate the coming of the first white woman in the Canadian Northwest.

More than a century has passed since Marie travelled a primitive route to the valley of the Red river. She was tall, winsome and 23 when she married Baptiste, roving freeman and scout, at Three Rivers, in Quebec, on April 21, 1807. They were the first white settlers to make a home at the site of the present city of Winnipeg, across the river from this cathedral city.

Memories of third and fourth generation descendants went back to Jan. 6, 1808, when a child was named Reine Julie because it was the King's birthday. Ultimately, Reine, one of a large family, was to become the mother of Louis Riel, son of a miller on the Seine and Metis leader whose career of protest for a native Northwest ended in the rebellion of 1885.

It was Jean Baptiste who, on a November day in 1815, started out on foot, alone, from the Red river settlement with a letter for Lord Selkirk at Montreal. He carried word of the capture of Fort Douglas by rival fur traders and an appeal for help. The historic race across the miles of winter wilderness occupied two months on his traders at Fort William and held return he was captured by rival prisoner for two years.

Thriving communities and thickly populated farm lands have lifted the face of the old west across which Marie and Baptiste journeyed to Fort Edmonton. Seven Oaks, the Fenian raids, fall of Riel's provisional gooverment at Fort Garry and the failure of the Northwest rebellion were the birth pangs of a country of free men determined to have a part in the shaping of their destiny.

A sword hangs on the wall in the old home of Louis Riel, by the river in nearby St. Vital where his nephew, Honore, lives with his wife and four children. It is a treasured momento of Lork Selkirk's gifts to Baptiste. Freshly cut flowers grace the Lagimodiere burial plot in the cathedral cemetery where lie those who played a leading part in the shaping Red river history.

In Memoriam

MRS. FRANCES DAVIES

Mrs. Frances Ann Davies, 91 widow of Ben Davies, and resident of Vancouver 30 years, died Sunday at her home, 2414 Cornwall Street. Mrs. Davies, formerly Fanny Darby, was born at St. Eleanors, P. E. I. Her husband was a brother of Sir Louis Davies.

Until 1885 Mrs. Davies resided in Charlottetown, when the family moved to Nebraska and later to St. Paul, Minn., when Mr. Davies was Dominion Government land agent during the settlement of the Northwest Territories.

Bishop's Remarks Draw Press Comment

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

LONDON, Dec. 2—(Wednesday)—The Yorkshire Post in an editorial today spoke of the "deep disappointment" that would follow a "dispute between the King and his ministers such as must almost inevitably raise a constitutional issue of the gravest character."

The newspaper was commenting on the Bishop of Bradford's declaration yesterday that King Edward needs God's grace and "some of us wish he gave more positive signs" he is aware of this need.

The Yorkshire Post said: "It is proper to treat with contempt mere gossip such as frequently is associated with the names of European Royal persons. But certain statements which have appeared in reputable United States journals, even, we believe, in some Dominion newspapers, cannot be treated with quite so much indifference."

The Nottingham Journal also commented on the Bishop of Bradford's address, declaring that "never since the days of the unpopularity of the great Queen (Victoria) herself has anybody spoken so seriously in public to a British sovereign. Its imperial aspect is a problem which now outweighs all others."

The Yorkshire Post said the Bishop, Dr. A. W. F. Blunt, "must have had good reason for so pointed a remark."

"Most people by this time are aware a great deal of rumor regarding the King has been published of late in the more sensational American newspapers.

"They are too circumstantial and have plainly a foundation in fact. For this reason an increasing number of responsible persons are led to fear lest the King may not yet have perceived how complete in our day must be the self dedication of which Dr. Blunt spoke, if the coronation to bring a blessing to all peoples of the Empire is not on the contrary to prove a stumbling block.

"When King Edward succeeded King George 'the well beloved,' the nation acclaimed him with glad conviction he would indeed, as he himself promised, follow in his father's footsteps.

"Deep disappointment must necessarily result if instead of this continuity of example there should develop dispute between the King and his ministers, such as must almost inevitably raise the constitutional issue of the gravest character."

The Yorkshire Observer, published at Bradford, also commented:

"The Bishop was right in his assertion and the issues now raised extend far beyond definition of coronation formalities," this paper said. "They directly concern the public and the private lives of not only the King but of all British subjects —."

The Observer added that "representatives of all churches will desire that in considering the coronation as in all else affecting the King, nothing shall be done that will affront the conscience of the nation or undermine moral authority which the churches collectively represent."

Addressing the Bradford Diocesan Conference, the Bishop of Bradford said of the King:

"His personal views and opinion are his own, and he has the right of all of us to be the keeper of his private conscience."

"But in his public capacity at his coronation, he stands for the English people's idea of kingship.

"It has for long centuries been, and I hope still is, an essential part of that idea that the king needs the grace of God for his office.

"Whatever it may mean to the individual who is crowned, to the people as a whole it means their dedication of the English monarchy to the care of God."

The Bishop went on to say:

"It would be improper for me to say anything except to commend him and to ask you to commend him to God's grace, which he will so abundantly need, as we all need it (for the King is a man like ourselves), if he is to do his duty faithfully."

Then he concluded:

"We hope he is aware of his need.

"Some of us wish he gave more positive signs of such awareness."

Ice Blocks Shipping In Upper Canada

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

MONTREAL, Dec. 1—Continued cold weather raised the possibility tonight that a number of ships enroute to Montreal from the Great Lakes would become ice bound unless warmer temperatures come to their aid.

In the Soulanges Canal and at Cote St. Paul in the Lachine Canal shipping scarcely moved.

Tugs went to work on the ice but marine officials said they need the aid of warmer weather if a complete freeze-up in canal shipping between the lakes and Montreal is to be avoided.

On the St. Lawrence River ice conditions showed little change. Five ocean ships cleared Montreal and the majority of them anchored in the vicinity of Sorel, some 80 miles south of here, for the night. The icebreakers, Saurel and Lady Grey remained in Lake St. Peter, escorting ships in both directions.

The British freighter, Penale, and the Norwegian ship Lovland, both with cargoes of coal, reached Montreal, leaving the Avon Valley, Sedgepool and Alma Dawson to come. The Avon Valley remained at Quebec today. The Sedgepool was reported passing Little Metis and the Alma Dawson was signalled off Cape Whittle, about 500 miles below Quebec.

TORONTO, Dec. 1—(CP)—While Ontario remained gripped in near-zero weather tonight, the threat of a costly shipping tie-up at Sault Ste. Marie, where 17 vessels were ice-locked, had passed.

The ice blockade was broken early today, allowing the stranded boats to move slowly downward into Lake Huron and head for home ports, most of them on their last voyages of the season.

There remained one dark spot in the marine picture at the Sault and that was the possibility, with continued freezing weather, the channel would again be blocked with ice, trapping some 70 other vessels that remain in Lake Superior.

..*MCCARRON — GALLANT — St. Paul's Church, Sturgeon, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday morning, Oct. 21, when Rosella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCarron, St. Mary's Road, became the bride of Vincent, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gallant, Russtico. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Owen Kiggins, Georgetown, who also celebrated the nuptial mass. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. The wedding march was delightfully rendered by Mr. Wm. Farrell. The bride was charmingly attired in a dress of brown velvet and accessories to match and carried a bouquet of roses and maiden hair fern. She was attended by the groom's sister Regina Gallant who wore green velvet and brown accessories and carried a bouquet of roses and maiden hair fern. The groom was ably supported by the bride's brother Alphonsus McCarron. After the ceremony a delicious wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents to about 100 guests, after which the bridal party left on a motor trip to various parts of the Island returning in the evening to receive the congratulations and best wishes of a host of relatives and friends. Dancing was indulged in till the "wee sma" hours of the morning when all departed to their homes wishing Mr. and Mrs. Gallant many years of happiness.
