We congratulate those young ladies upon their success, and upon being among the first to receive this diploma, which is not only a guarantee of their practical knowledge of shorthand and typewriting, but is also a splendid specimen of the engraver's art.

On Friday evening last, the students of the Charlottetown Business College, in all departments, were granted their Xmas holidays till January 6th, 1904. At the opening of the session Principal Miller announced that, while he was aware this was essentially a students' session, yet, as they had all heard with much regret of the death today of Miss King's brother, he begged leave to embrace this first opportunity to assure her of our sympathy by a resolution which he then read. Mr. Trainor of the Shorthand Department, spoke feelingly in seconding the resolution, and the students gave expression to their feelings by a standing vote.

Mr. J. M. Hogg, one of the students, was called to the chair about 8 o'clock. He filled the position with much credit. The following addresses, splendidly written by Miss King, were read by Miss Mary C. McNevin:— To Mr. L. B. Miller, Principal, and to the Teaching Staff of the C. B. C.

ESTEEMED SIR,— On this, the termination of your 25th anniversary in the history of the C. B. C., it seems fitting to impress upon the minds of the Professional Staff, the regard and affection felt towards them by the students of this College.

We feel, Principal Miller, through your earnestness of effort, your common cohesion of principle and morality, that you have endeavored and succeeded to further to the greatest extent yet reached in the annals of our history, the bonds of sympathy and unity between the teachers and the pupils.

It is not necessary, at this time to enter into a detailed account of the rise and subsequent success of this institution, as that is already known, not only on our own little Island, but throughout the length and breadth of this great Empire and the neighboring Republic as well.

We can say great things for this College as a body, yet we do not fail to place, with deep sincerity and love, the emblem of success upon the brow of Mr. Miller, the honored principal for twenty-three years. Beginning almost with the founding of the College, you have, by your untiring zeal and study of the needs of each individual student, produced to the expectant business world, competent men and women for the various offices of commerce.

We cannot estimate in our feeble minds, the great good that has been done in the world at large by your help, yet we feel and know, that a mighty work has been accomplished, which has not only affected the past and present, but will go down to posterity, a living monument, more imperishable than the mighty pyramids of Egypt. From the Island Continent under the Southern Cross, from the New Island Empire of the East and from the mighty Republic to the South, there comes the heartfelt thanks of those, who in by-gone days, studied under your ever kind and thoughtful teaching. We can say in truth that your influence for good, your high standard of morality is waited over the earth by the winds of Heaven, which reverently caress its mortal coils.

It is known that the strenuous business life which you have set for an example, demands some change and recreation, but as you have taught us to take all duties in their season, we recognize and admire your foresight.

As a token of our love and esteem, we ask you to accept this offering, which, although small in earthly value has its priceless side. Before concluding, we must thank you for the interest you have shown in procuring for this College, physical as well as mental exercise, and also that you have ever shown your desire to improve the health of both mind and body of the students. In conclusion, we wish you and yours a joyous Yuletide, a continuance of health and success, so that when we reopen, you will be enabled to carry on the good work in the coming term.

While recognizing, that every institution depends upon its head, still it would be very ungrateful of us if we failed to recognize, that the co-workers have each a large share in the upbuilding of it.

How often in the years to come will we look back on our college days, and in reverie see the jovial face of our Professor of Penmanship, smiling over his latest production of the ever present oval exercise. In the teaching of Penmanship, you, Mr. Williams, have borne with patience our poor efforts to imitate you, and you have taught us clearly, honestly and well. We ask you to accept this remembrance, as a token of our regard towards you, and join in wishing you success and health in the vocation wherein you were called.

The legal fraternity also have a common interest in the commercial world in connection with every business institution. We fully realize, that in you, Mr. Trainor, we have a teacher competent to instruct us in the intricacies of commercial law.

In the competition of modern civilization, we know that a knowledge of the elements of the English tongue is essential to the extension of our business principles, we feel though you have been but a short time with us as teacher, that you, Prof. MacMillan, have shown yourself fully competent to instruct us in a fuller knowledge of our own tongue. We ask you to accept these gifts in the spirit in which they are given, and thus cement in loving ties, the hopes, the joys, and future success of your students and yourselves.

In conclusion let us join in thanks to Him who, along the rugged path of life, guides and instructs in the paths of all truth, and amid the festivities of life, let us not forget the serious side. May it be said of all of us, that we have handed down to a grateful people, the richest legacy that man can leave to man—the memory of a good name, of a great example.

Signed by the Committee in behalf of the Students.

To Mr. J. O. Trainor, KIND TEACHER,— On behalf of the students whose interest in your especial care, we feel that we cannot let this joyous season pass without some expression of the gratitude we feel towards you for the admirable way in which you have filled a position requiring so much patience and tact.

We cannot but feel proud and grateful to Mr. Miller for having procured a teacher, who, among others on the Island at the present time, is the only one holding an honorary licence—the highest granted—from the Phonographic Institute, and although only a short time in our midst, has won the respect and esteem of all.

Believe us, these expressions, though abounding in flowers of literature, are heart-felt, and we beg you to accept the accompanying gift, not indeed as a recompense, but as a sincere token of the appreciation we feel for your unflinching interest in our welfare. We know that the students of the other department, join in our good wishes towards you, amid the dim-pliances of life, we trust that the friendships formed here shall be cemented in bonds of honor and unity for ever. And to your assistant, MISS TRAINOR,— Your unwearied patience and zeal has won not only the respect and esteem, but also the love of all. Being with us almost every minute of the time taken up by the daily sessions, it seems as though you were not one placed in authority over the College, but as a co-worker in the success of the studies on hand.

Being at one time a student of the C. B. C. and having a well earned Diploma from this institution, you can the more readily sympathize with us in the ups and downs of our student life. You have ever shown yourself a true and devoted instructor in this difficult subject.

We of the Phonetic Department and of the other as well mingle our good wishes on a common ground, and hope that in the future you shall enjoy your present popularity and health, and when the roll is called we know you shall not be found wanting.

Signed by the Committee.

Principal Miller's reply was in substance as follows:— MR. Believe me—you can but little understand how much these things are appreciated by those who are trying to do their duty and to do it in such a manner as to promote the general welfare of those under their tuition. That throughout my long connection with this institution—which you have been pleased to refer to—the C. B. C. has found a wide space in the sphere of commerce, that she has sent into the commercial arena some of our most notable as well as successful men. While a source of much gratification to me, I am not unmindful of the fact that other heads and hands have largely assisted in bringing about this most pleasing and desirable state of affairs, and that we have had the very best material with which to mould these successes, for nowhere in the Maritime Provinces, the Dominion of Canada, the United States nor do I know of any place where better, purer or more plastic minds can be found than in the young men and women of this fair island Province. I need adduce no evidence for this statement. Look abroad. In glancing over our registers from year to year, I am struck with the steadily increasing attendance as time rolls on. Attendance always exceeding my expectations. I would be vain indeed to arrogate to myself more than a small

Have "eyes bigger than their stomachs," according to an old saying. They overeat themselves, and are tempted by all sorts of injurious and indigestible edibles. As a consequence the foundation of serious stomach trouble is often laid in childhood.

For children with "weak" digestion or whose stomachs are diseased, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery may be confidently recommended. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, so that the nourishment contained in food is perfectly assimilated and the puny child is built up by food into a condition of robust health.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains neither alcohol nor narcotics. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.

Mrs. Ella Gardner, of Waterville, Middlesex Co., Va., writes: "My little daughter is enjoying splendid health. I am glad I found a doctor who could cure my child. Whenever she feels badly I give her Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and she is soon all right.
