NO ELECTION NEWS RECEIVED

For some unaccountable reason no despatches were received by The Guardian respecting the Ontario and Quebec elections which took place yesterday. Other despatches came to hand from various points as usual.

UNDER TWO FLAGS AT OPERA HOUSE

It was an altogether delightful experience last night to go to the Opera House and find that the Coleman Stock Company were able to put on their play in a manner that was equal to the fondest expectation. Rarely indeed has Charlottetown been visited by such really talented and discriminating actors. In their hands "Under Two Flags" was rendered most faithfully, and the strong characters were personated with a most unusual power and accuracy that showed the work of accomplished men and women. It is agreeable to know that a well-filled house was a compliment to this clever company, thoroughly deserved, and that the fine performance of last night was recognized and appreciated by generous applause. Miss Coleman established a record mark in the Charlottetown Opera House, and she was well supported. May she come this way again.

SOCIALISTS AGAIN USE STRONG WORDS

LONDON, June 6.—Violent protests were made by the Socialists and Labor members in the House of Commons this afternoon against King Edward's approaching visit to Russia in language, the offensiveness of which no attempt was made to veil.

The speakers drew lurid pictures of the alleged conditions in the Muscovite empire, declaring that while they had no objection to King Edward privately visiting his relative, Emperor Nicholas, they had the greatest abhorence of the idea of a state visit to Russia, "with the horrors, tortures and presecutions."

"Fraternizing with the hangman of Liberty in Russia," they declared to be a shame and disgrace to Great Britain, "which could not avoid contamination if she mixed in evil company."

The Labor-Socialists suggested that the visit had been engineered by Russia with the view of rehabilitating her credit.

PENNY POSTAGE ENGLAND & U. S.

LONDON, June 6—Postmaster General Buxton's announcement of a penny post arrangement with the United States, which completes a long desired reform in the matter of penny postage with all English-speaking peoples, gives greater gratification to the British press and people than many of the weightier political reforms, and is especially greeted as an important stage on the road to a universal penny post. It is considered certain to have considerable effect on foreign opinion in this matter and little doubt is entertained that it will speedily be followed by the announcement that negotiations with France to the same end have been satisfactorily concluded.

The newspapers here are showering congratulations on Postmaster Buxton and Meyer and on Ambassadors Bryce and Reid and are especially generous in their good work for John Henniker Heaton, "the father of the imperial penny postage," whose efforts have thus been rewarded.

A BIG SCANDAL IN ELECTION

Alleged Offer to Sell Fifty Ballots to Liberal Ward Chairman For Fifty Dollars—Deputy Returning Officer Dismissed.

HAMILTON, June 8 —(Special)— What promises to be one of the greatest election scandals in the history of the country w as brought out tonight here.

On Saturday afternoon Wm. Stewart McLaughlin, Liberal ward chairman, reported to W. H. Wardrop, K. C. the Liberal candidate for West Hamilton, that he had been approached by a Conservative poll clerk named Harry Dillabaugh with an offer to sell a package of fifty ballots bearing the stamp of Returning Officer Colmore for $50.

McLaughlin agreed to see Dillabaugh to make arrangements on Sunday and at once notified Wardrop.

He also notified the police of the proposed interview and its purpose so that the law could be set in motion.

The chief of police appears to have notified Colmore who met McLaughlin and learned the details.

Subsequently he dismissed the Deputy Returning Officer as well as Dillabaugh and expressed regret to the Liberal leaders that the incident had occurred.

The affair has been laid before the Crown Attorney, who it is expected will take steps for the arrest of Dillabaugh.

ACADIA FOWARD MOVEMENT STARTS

WOLFVILLE, N. S., June 7— A third Acadia College forward movement asking for $500,000 was started at a meeting of influential Maritime Baptists, who had gathered here for the closing exercises.

One leading merchant of St. John has already subscribed $5,000 and an other merchant of the same place has put himself down for $1,000. The total amount raised last evening was $13,000.

It is believed that $100,000 will be raised by the Baptists of the three provinces, and that the remaining $400,000 will be found at a certain city in the state of Ohio.

SIX MEN KILLED ON BATTLES P

SAN PEDRO, Cal., June 7—A terrible accident occured on board the United States armored cruiser Tennessee at 11.08 o'clock this morning while the ship was steaming at 19 knots on a speed trial off Point Hueneme, Cal., a steam pipe in the starboard engine room bursting under 235 pounds pressure, killing six men and injured eight others, all the men in the compartment at the time.

The explosion, the cause of which is unknown, occured only a few minutes after Admiral Uriel Sebree, Captain F. B. Howard and Chief Engineer Robertson had left the engine room on a tour of inspection. Four of the men were killed instantly and two more died at San Pedro after the arrival of the Tennessee.

WANTS $100,000 FOR HIS AIRSHIP

PARIS, June 7—Lazare Weiller has confirmed the report that Wilbur Wright is here with the intention of selling his airship for $100,000.

Weiller offers that amount to the Wright brothers if they succeed in making two flights each of fifty kilometres within one week. The machine must carry two persons and gasoline sufficient for a flight of 200 kilometres or its equivalent in ballast.

The trials, it is expected, will take place within a month.

PAID $150 FOR WASTE PAPER

TRURO, N. S., June 7—Blair Hurd and Charlie Quinn were found guilty before Judge Russell here in the Supreme Court yesterday of obtaining $150 under false pretences from a farmer named Maynard. The victimized farmer said the men made him believe they would sell him real bank notes that had been made by a printer off plates in the Banknote Printing Office by working at night and when the boss was out and did not know. They put a thousand dollars' worth of the money, which he himself counted and examined, into a box and offered it to him for $150. He acceped and paid out his cash, but when he got home with the box he found nothing but waste paper in it.

AN ANTI-SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION

LONDON, June 3—Prominent opponents of woman suffrage have formed the National Woman's Anti-Suffrage association, to combat the suffragettes' campaign. A circular will be issued tomorrow morning setting forth the principles and objects of the association. It will have numerous signatories, including the Marchioness of Tweedale, the Countess of Jersey, Mrs. Humphrey Ward, Lord Dunraven and Lord Rothschild. The promoters say they wish to combat the spirit of sex antagonism which the woman suffrage propaganda is arousing, and they want the fact recognised that men and woman are not antagonistic, but complementary. They believe that the woman's sphere is the home, and while granting that the woman's work in municipal and local bodies has been valuable, and should be continued, they protest against bestowing the parliamentary franchise upon them. They contend that the effectiveness of woman's legislative power could not exceed the limits of the moral force exercised by their influence on men. This influence is immense without a vote, and it would naturally be lessened proportionately as women attempted to become the competitors and rulers of men. The promoters add: "Not a few women object to having the franchise forced upon them. They are well aware that in a majority of cases women would simply echo the view of their male relatives, in which case the franchise would be useless, and that in others discord might result from their opposition, in which case it would be pernicious."

ERIE CAR SHOPS ON FULL TIME.

NEW YORK, June 6.—President Underwood of the Erie Railroad, issued instructions yesterday to place all the locomotive and car shops on a ten-hour day basis. It is the intention of the company immediately to begin repairing all equipment which has been idle by reason of lack of business.

SIX MEN DEAD THIRTY SHUT UP

SILVERTON, June 8—(Special)— Six men are dead and eight others in a critical condition from breathing foul air and thirty more are temporarily confined to their homes by gas poisoning suffered in the Gold King mine at Gladstone.

Thursday night fire destroyed the engine house of the mine and also the shaft house, two buildings which were near the doors of the main shaft and to prevent the speed of the flames and smoke to the workings of the mines these doors were closed temporarily,

The men working the night shift in the mine were informed of the conditions of the surface and instructed to withdraw when the flames had been extinguished.

Three men failed to come out of the mine.

BELLBOY SAVES $50,000 FROM

CHICAGO, June 7—Frank Lawler is the Stratford Hotel bellboy who has saved $50,000 from the business and service "tips" of an extravagant public. He has $20,000 in bank and real estate valued at $30,000.

He says "I never take tips on the races or on the stock market. I noticed years ago that the bookmakers' checks for dinners ran from $5 to $10 while the fellows who made bets with them were sitting on a stool in a fifteen cent joint.

"I once went into stocks with a rich friend who knew it all—we both lost, and I said I would never touch them again unless I bought outright for investment."

PRESENT CLAIMS TO EARL GREY

OTTAWA, Ont., June 7. — The deputation of twenty-five Indians from British Columbia, who arrived in Ottawa on Wednesday to present their protest to the government against any restrictions of their fishing or hunting privileges on the reserves and against any attempts to exploit their timber rights by the whites, are still here, and although they have seen the Minister of the Interion and the Superintendent General of Indian affairs, declare they will not leave until they have presented their case before the representative of the King. Lord Grey is now in Toronto, but the Indians say they will remain here until he returns.

THEY LOVE LORD,S THE REPUBLICANS

LONDON, June 6—It would not vastly astonish the world if one day the great democratic Republic of the West developed into a full-blown empire, with a court and a brand-new aristocracy of its own,' observes the London 'World' in its social column following the Court Announcements This weekly chronicle of British big society doings was moved to make that comment by 'the naive confession of Mme. Anna Gould in behalf her countrywomen that "We love the aristocracy because we do not possess one in America."

REV. DR. MURPHY'S ADDRESS

Gentlemen Graduates.—

"Eheu ! fugaces, Posthume, Posthume, labuntur anni ! Ah ! Posthumus, my worthy friend, the year run on apace." These words of Horace bring home to us all a truth we are loath to realize; but they are especially applicable to yourselves on this occasion. Even for you,—young though you are,—"Fugaces labuntur anni," the years glide swiftly by. You have quite unconsciously outlived your adolescence and stand today on the threshold of your manhood. That happy disregard for the march of events and the stern realities of life which was your habit of mind during College Days, must now be changed for a disposition to measure time's movement, coupled with an anxious desire to study and understand the spirit of the world in which you are soon to become actors.

You have successfully passed through the formative stages intended to shape your ethic and intellectual nature after the mold of a recognized standard, and you are now fitted for your life work;—prepared morally and mentally to judge and act for yourselves in whatever capacity circumstances or your proper talents may place you.

Full of gratitude, then, for this formation you now await the last in junction of your Alma Mater. In the years that are gone SHE was no forgetful of their passing. Quite keeping with the title "Alma Mater" she was ever mindful of her duty supply the deficiencies of youth, and ience availed herself of each fleeting iour to labour in your behoof, s you should be worthy of the sanction she today pronounces on you. But before you quit her maternal care to mingle with this selfish world she has a parting word to say to you; and she has been pleased to make me the conveyer of her advisory farewell.

The personal pleasure arising from the honour thus bestowed fully compensates for the anxiety which the privilege entails; but it does not lessen the responsibility that naturally attaches to a discourse of this kind,—neither does it furnish ever so little of the WISDOM supposed to be contained in an ADDRESS TO THE GRADUATES. Left to my own resources with a peremptory order to deliver this "Academic Charge," and unable to bring the "experience of grey hairs" to my assistance, I had no scruples whatever in casting about for help; and I make no apology for distrusting my own originality in the endeavour to express in the compass of a few minutes back the minimum of what is implied b my theme.

We have it on the eminent authority of Matthew Arnold that "Conduct is three-fourths of life." A goodly portion of your future indeed, and one that offers a large margin for comment. I remark upon it as follows,—You have already received your diplomas: Now these documents predicate scholarship of their owners, and the world will henceforth hold you answerable for the attainments they declare you to possess.

I observe, then, first, that the long-cherished adage "Knowledge is its own reward" must be discarded with as little concern as you would use in whisking the dust from your book-shelves. It is not true,—that is, it is true in a remote and lofty sense only,—that knowledge is its own reward; but if you try to realize this high sense you will run the risk of being overcome by the truth of Spinoza's maxim that "The two greatest banes of humanity are self-coaceit, and the laziness born of self-conceit." To make my meaning unmistakable I ask you to consider the parallel case of physical good health. There is a sense in which it is truly said to be its own reward; but surely it is intended for other purposes than the mere enjoyment of it ! The same may be averred of education. This world universally, and rightly, attaches responsibility to knowledge. It will judge you by what it understands you to know. It will take your final measurement, and pass opinion on you, by comparing your conduct with your antecedent opportunities for culture. The great law of your life should therefore be, NOT to increase in knowledge daily, (though I am aware that it is customary on such occasions to emphasize this,) but daily, even hourly, to colour your behaviour with the hues of the knowledge you already possess, —to reflect in your conduct that nobility and perfection which MAY be yours by nature, but MUST be yours as a result of the training you have received. Knowledge should be expressed in action, otherwise it is a rude and unprofitable heap. To be conscious of a duty and neglect it is to be disloyal to the inner and enlightened self; to know, and yet transgress, is craven and ignoble. These sound like truisms: They are truisms; nevertheless we incline to misguidance in their application. We fail to appreciate, or we affect not to realize the restraint that knowledge places on our actions; but the world does not. We neglect,—we refuse to make it the standard by which we would have our conduct judged, while those about us are prompt to canvas that THREE-FOURTHS OF OUR EXISTENCE and to observe whether it tallies with the knowledge that they know us to possess. Indeed another "Bane" might be added to the two above-cited and called "Self-deception,"—the bane born of the misbelief that knowledge is its own re-

TRAINED NURSE SHOOTS DOCTOR

Who Had Betrayed Her—Says She Shot Him But Did Not Murder Him.

NEW YORK, June 8 —(Special)— Sarah Koten a young trained nurse brought Dr. Martin Auspitz, to a house in Harlem, last night with a false sick call by telephone and shot him dead after he had lain in wait for many hours.

She declared today that she had no regret for her act.

"I shot him but did not murder him" she said in a cell at the police station.

"I killed him because wronged me and then refused to help me."

I tried to push him in the courts but found myself powerless.

"My father and mother are dead, so I had to protect myself."

Thre seems little doubt that when the case against the girl goes to trial, a jury once more will have an opportunity to pass upon the unwritten law or justification of murder under certain circumstances.

SERENADERS GET CHARGE OF SHOT

PETERBORO, Ont., June 7. — Five or six young men in the village of Bailisboro are suffering from gunshot wounds received during a charivarie on Wednesday night at the home of Jas. Byers, whose son, Weight Byers, recently married.

A rattle of tin pans brought out the occupants with shot guns. A few shots were fired at random but several grains lodged in the faces of a number of the party.

Three of those injured who have had their wounds dressed by Dr. Ribsell of Brillsboro are Wellington Bateman, Ernest Anderson and Gibson.

NEW WONDERLAN

Two Excellent Reels Of Pictures. A New Illustrated Song By Miss McKinnon. Good Music.

The picture entitled Remorse, is certainly one of the finest ones shown at New Wonderland since the new management took the house over. It will be shown again tonight, with the balance of the program of last night, for the final showing, as tomorrow evening the list is changed. Miss McKinnon will sing for the first time here, the exquisite ballad "Maybe Sometime." The illustrations are beautiful, and the song a gem.

New Wonderland is now in almost perfect working order, and the appearance of the hall and surroundings are so much improved, that it is hard to imagine it the same hall.

Further improvements are under consideration, and when Summer is fairly here, there will also be an up to date theatre in the Market Hall, one to which any one can go feeling sure of an hour of clean, good amusement.

The program for this evening is well worth any one going out solely to see, and there should be a good house at New Wonderland tonight.
