A STILL BETTER NUMBER OF "THE MASTER KEY"

As the interest grows in the great serial "The Master Key," the crowds at the Prince Edward Theatre grow and last night the third episode of this entrancing play was seen by the biggest houses so far. The third chapter upholds the standard of its predecessors and then some. An excellent plot is developing in the play and it now is a magnetic force in increasing the patronage of the theatre. The personnel of the production is quite a noteworthy one as it includes the oldest actor on the "silent" stage and the youngest director. In the course of yesterday's instalment Gallon dies leaving his daughter as sole heir to the "Master Key" mine. Before his death Gallon appoints his old partner Wilkerson, Superintendent of the mine and on his death-bed recommends that his daughter, Ruth, retain him in that capacity until she is eighteen. He names John Dore, the mining engineer, executor of his estate. Before his death Dore finds in the desk a sealed envelope, addressed to him, which reads, "To be opened on Ruth's eighteenth birthday—sooner if her welfare is threatened." It is hard for Dore and Ruth to appreciate all that has and is happening; much of it is a mystery to them. Vaguely they realize that Gallon had a dread of Wilkerson, that he had evidently wronged him, and that Wilkerson, in his turn, has a mission of vengeance. At the "Master Key" mine matters come to a critical point when Wilkerson, now in full charge, posts a notice to the effect that "After this day all wages in this mine will be reduced 25 per cent." The man is after money—as much of it as he can get. He also sees that Dore is a stumbling block to his schemes. Of an afternoon Dore interferes when Wilkerson knocks a miner down. It is the excuse for Wilkerson firing him as the mine engineer. The miners strike and some real exciting times ensue. They are battering down Wilkerson's office in their frenzy when Dore interferes and subdues them when he tells them that in striking they will ruin Ruth. Wilkerson then comes out of his office and announces that the former wage schedule will be resumed and that Dore will be reinstated. This satisfies the miners who go back to their work. The picture concludes with the hero and heroine on still more appreciable terms with one another. Two excellent two-reel detective dramas and a sterling comedy completed a grand bill. To-day "The Master Key" will be shown again.

BAD COLD? TAKE CASCARETS FOR BOWELS TONIGHT

No Headache, Constipation, Bad Cold or sour stomach by morning.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels, or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congested and dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excessive bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels. A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10 cent. box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, and your liver and bowels regular for months.

MAGNIFICENT ENDING TO MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY

Last evening the large auditorium of the People's Theatre was taxed to its utmost to accommodate the hundreds of people seeking admission. At eight o'clock the sale of tickets for the first show had to be discontinued and the people forced to wait in the corridors for the second show.

The main attraction no doubt was the sensational episode of the great serial, "Runaway June," which is playing to capacity houses all over the country as well as in this city. The story has not as yet taken on the incidents that appeal to those who like a thrilling and sensational story (that is yet to come) but it develops into an interesting incidents that are bound to appeal to all classes. As the management have stated, it is different from anything yet shown in a serial offering to the theatre-goers of Charlottetown. It is so out of the ordinary that it is bound to elicit interest from all who appreciate something good. Few are favoured with the privilege of travelling with a celebrated actress, yet this is what is offered the patrons of this popular theatre. June Moore may have been somewhat odd in her notions as to the "blissful state" of life when she took unto herself a life partner, but it is yet to be shown in "how" she was wrong. "Runaway June" is indeed a great problem play—one that should interest every married woman, every husband, and every young lady contemplating the taking unto herself a life partner. The author, George Randolph Chester, it is needless for to state, is one of the cleverest writers in America to-day.

Another offering of exceptional merit was the solution to "The Million Dollar Mystery." It is needless to say that this is without doubt one of the greatest serials the citizens of Charlottetown have ever been treated to, and has been anxiously awaited the solution, which, open to the world—the party who happened to be lucky enough to solve same winning the magnificent sum of $1,000,000—was won by Miss Damon, of Missouri, who was fortunate enough to solve the mystery and have her version shown to millions all over the world.

Of no little interest was that one-reel serial, "Dolly of the Dalies," the sixth page of which was shown last night. "On the Heights" Dolly loses her old friend the managing editor of the paper, and dislikes the intrusion of his successor, who has no use for women reporters. But she manages to keep her dislike to herself, denounces the new manager as a man, and commends his evening admiration for her outspoken manner and ability as a reporter.

"Mrs Maloney's Fortune," a comedy drama by the Vitagraph Co., featuring Kate Price and William Shea, brought to a close one of the "classiest" programmes seen for some time, and all who failed to see it last evening should not fail to make an effort to attend one of the shows at the People's today, of which there are three: matinee at 2.15 and two shows in the evening, 7.15 and 9.45.

The management have arranged for some of the world's most colossal productions, produced by the largest manufacturers in the universe, and employing the best known stars of the "legitimate," who have forsaken their old love for the photo-play.

REGULAR MEETING CITY COUNCIL

laid, and about 4000 square yards of macadam work done. We have also laid about two miles of wooden sidewalks. A considerable amount of repairs have been effected on our streets during the past season, which kept them in good condition, reflecting great credit on the chairman of a hand Street Committee and our efficient City Engineer Nicholson.

A considerable amount of money was expended last season in preparation for the Confederation Celebration, which on account of the war had to be called off. However, the money thus spent has not by any means been wasted, as the improvements made are of a permanent nature and will add materially to the attractions of our already beautiful City. Worthy of mention is the lighting of the park roadway, and the building of a band stand in Victoria Park, where the citizens will be able to enjoy numerous band concerts during the summer evenings.

An order was placed last spring with the Gramma Motor Truck Company of Canada, Limited, for an up-to-date motor sprinker, to be delivered during August, but when the war broke out, we were notified by the Company, that owing to a rush order for motor trucks for war purposes, they would be unable to complete our order in the time specified. I am pleased to report to you that since that time the contract has been renewed with these same people at a reduction of five hundred dollars on the original contract price, delivery to be made early in May of the present year. So that by the City the city is effecting quite a saving. I may add that we are getting the same machine as they agreed to supply last season, and the reduction in price is really a forfeit which they agreed to allow on account of non-delivery.

It is pleasing to note that the finances of our city are in such a healthy condition, the ready sale of our debentures, notwithstanding the stringency in the money market, bears out this fact.

While I believe in strict economy, yet we must not lose sight of the fact, that we must keep abreast of the times, and in order to do so each year there are certain improvements to be made. We have been placed here by the votes of the people, and we have demonstrated their confidence in us, and we must use our every effort to give a good account of our stewardship.

Yours respectfully,

R. H. STERNS, Mayor of the City of Charlottetown.

On motion of Councillor Riley the accounts were ordered to be distributed. The Mayor informed the Council that he had received a "wire" with reference to the sprinker. The Company was ready to deliver it on installation of the Council.

The meeting thereafter adjourned.

HAIR COMING OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out. To stop falling hair at once and get rid of every particle of dandruff, get a 25c. bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

PLUCKY WOMEN DEFEY BANDITS.

TORONTO, April 10.—Undismayed by revolvers in the hands of two bandits, and despite the fact that the male employees of the Sterling Actions and Keys Company, Limited, of Noble St., were ignominiously herded under the muzzles, two stenographers employed in the office of the company put up a plucky fight to prevent the looting of the company's pay envelopes. Their resistance saved their employers several hundred dollars.

Twenty-three hundred dollars, the amount of the pay roll, was in two baskets in the factory office when a couple of armed men entered, and warned the two stenographers to keep quiet and hand over the money. Both women screamed loudly, and the male employees rushed to the office, but a pistol in the hands of one of the bandits drove them back into the factory. The women were then ordered to make no resistance, but Miss May Halespott refused to give up the money and was brutally choked. Miss Alice Robertson, disregarding the pistols, ran to her companion's aid, and met with similar treatment. During the scuffle the two baskets fell to the floor and one turned bottom up, its contents escaping the notice of the robbers. Miss Robertson broke away and ran to the door leading to the factory, and one of the men fired at her, the bullet passing close over her head. The men then gathered fifteen hundred dollars into a bag and made their way to the street. A third man, who had been keeping watch outside, joined them and the trio disappeared along the railroad tracks at the back of the factory. There is no clue yet to their identity. The robbery had evidently been carefully planned.

EXPRESS ADMINISTRATION FOR THE RUSSIANS.

LONDON, April 10.—The British military critics express the greatest admiration for the manner in which the Russians have handled the Carpathians campaign. Their advance between Polianka and Barfeldt, they say, squeezed the Austrians out of the Dukla Pass, that from Dukla squeezed them out of Mezalaborez, and from west to east this process has continued until all the passes are in the hands of the Russian Emperor's troops. The critics contend that the Austro-Germans must now return from East Galicia and Bukowina, or they will find themselves cut off.

Just as fierce a battle, but on a smaller scale, is going on in the west, between the Meuse and the Moselle. There the French are persisting in their offensive against the Germans, and according to the Paris reports, continue to make progress. The French report, however, is at direct variance with the report from Berlin, which announces that all the French attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses.

The French are incessantly bombarding St. Mihiel, the point of the wedge which they are trying to force

REWARDED FOR RESISTING AN ATTACK.

LONDON, April 10.—The Government's intention to encourage merchantmen to resist or dodge submarine attacks is emphasized by an official announcement yesterday that Captain John Richard Green, of the steamer "Vogues," which was sunk off the Cornish coast on March 27 by the shell fire of a German submarine, has been granted a commission as lieutenant in the Royal Naval Reserve and awarded the Distinguished Service Cross.

The other officers of the steamer have been given gold watches and each member of the crew has received three pounds ($15). The "Vogues" was under fire for more than two hours before she was sunk, her chief engineer being killed and two other officers and two members of the crew, as well as a woman passenger being wounded. By skilful handling of his ship Captain Green prevented the torpedoing of the steamer and the submarine opened fire on the ship with her guns. The steamer was getting away from the submarine when a shell hit her funnel and her speed was reduced. As the "Vogues" was making water the captain ordered his passengers and crew into the boats. Captain Green stated later that the submarine kept up its fire, riddling the boat, and did not disappear until a patrol vessel came on the scene. Soon afterwards the "Vogues" sank.

A NEW USE FOR CORONATION BRAID.

Do you want to work that large dog-wood centrepiece with the least possible effort and the greatest effect? Here is a suggestion that will save your time and nerves and will, moreover, result in a very attractive piece of needlework. Use a heavy thick outline stitch for the stems. Fill the leaves with a darning stitch or one of the new skeleton stitches, that give the solid stitch without the time or effort of the slow-working satin stitch. Now, for the flowers, use the long-and-short Kensington stitch or a long-and-short buttonhole stitch. The centre will be filled in with French knots and a few long-and-short stitches radiating from the knots. Now you are ready to apply the braid, which is sewed on directly below the long-and-short stitches of the petals, and in such a way that the thick part of the braid comes at the rounded portion of the petal and the thin parts follow the sides of the petal. This braid fills up the empty spaces of the flowers beautifully, giving a raised, padded effect and relieving the flat, "I-don't-believe-in-much-work" appearance of the rest of the centrepiece.
