Ankara Confirms Rumania Occupied

LONDON, March 24th (AP)—The Rumanian legation at Ankara, Turkey, announced today that it had confirmed the German occupation of Rumania, and diplomatic quarters in London agreed that Hitler's Balkan grab had forestalled any effective peace move by the Nazis' nervous satellite nations.

The possibility that the Allies have been quick to stir up as much trouble for Hitler as possible in the disunion-torn Balkans was seen in Berlin radio reports that paratroopers in British uniforms had been dropped into Rumania and a Rumanian Jewish ring dealing with them had been caught.

There were numerous indications that the Nazi manoeuvre has not ended with the occupation of Hungary and Rumania. Turkish advisers reported that German reinforcements had been rushed to all points on the Danube. ### THE KIRK PULPIT

Preaching last evening on the text "But they made light of it" (St. Matt. 22:5) the Minister, the Rev. T. H. Russell Somers, said: For Christians there is another condemnation of frivolity. It is the fact that Jesus our Teacher and our Saviour has made light of the seriousness of life. I could understand an old pagan being frivolous, because for him there was no future in man. But the Saviour has come and God has tabernacled and tabernacles lifted in man; and meanings and swung out through death into eternal; and when our life means fellowship, kinship with God, eternally, then to be frivolous is antichrist. Christ does not want you to be solemn. He does not wish you to be dull. He wants your sky to be as bright as heaven. But as you have a life to live, and as you have a death to die, do not make light of duty. Do not make light of purity. Do not make light of sin. Do not make light of the Holy Spirit. Do not make light of Christ. To be Christ's is manhood, power, victory. To be without Him or make light of Him is death forever.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The service of morning worship was observed at 11 a. m. The sermon by the Rev. Ronald Noble was "The Power of the Gospel." Saint Paul in Romans 1:16 says "For I am proud of the gospel of Christ, it is God's saving power for everyone who has faith" (Moffatt). Jesus rejected all spectacular methods, he knew that all men are lost, not to be saved by understanding but by faith, a faith based on his life, his death, his resurrection. Saint Paul knew the place of law, it can enlighten but it cannot purify, it can guide, but it cannot bring life. Jesus put that which is primary in its foremost place, in this cross there is the promise that God is on our side, the good shepherd guardeth his life for his sheep. Can your codes make you clean, make you strong? God is in Christ, recelling the world unto himself. It is ours to accept, sinners "The Ninety and Nine" was sung impressively by the choir. The Church school met at 2.30 P. M. the Bible study period. Mr. Noble's sermon at the service of evening worship was "Plato's Choice" and Ours. Thompson's "Bread of the Word" was the evening anthem. At the opening of the evening service there was a brief period of congregational singing. John Inel, Mus. Bacc. organist and choir-master directed the music at all services.
