Says Free Europe Only Safeguard For Democracy

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (CP)—Liberation of Europe from "the night of Nazism" will depend upon the strength and will of the democracies that have survived.

"If we lack the vision to see the peril and the strength to meet it, we on the North American continent, like the nations of Europe, may come to disaster," the Prime Minister said.

Commenting with satisfaction on the cooperation on North American defence now underway between Canada and the United States, Mr. King said defence of the continent would not be enough.

Even if the continent is not invaded the continued domination of Europe by totalitarian states would, by economic pressure, force new world democracies to regimentation and make them "slaves of the economic masters of the world."

"Within the space of a single year we have witnessed the extinction of democracy on the continent of Europe. Beyond the confines of the British Commonwealth of Nations and the United States of America, democracy scarcely survives in the world today."

Whether Labor Day this year hence would see a free Europe "or the night of Nazism casting its gloom in deepening shadows over this North American continent," will depend, the Prime Minister said, upon the strength, the will, and the untiring work not only of one democracy but of all the democracies that have survived.

Lacking the vision to see the peril and the strength to meet it, the continent of Europe may come to disaster in one of two ways, he said.

This continent might be dominated through actual invasion and conquest. On the other hand, if we fail to carry on the struggle in Europe until tyranny is destroyed, disaster will follow no less surely even though not one Nazi soldier were to land upon our shores.

"The triumph of the Nazis in Europe would involve the peoples of this continent, a subsiding of fear for freedom and of economic domination for special protection. It would spell the doom of democracy in the new world."

While paying high tribute to those who daily offer their lives in defence of democracy Mr. King praised labor as "the partner and ally," giving freely of his skill to produce essentials required by the fighting forces.

Today the British Empire stood alone as champions of the rights of free men, aided by the loyal remnants of forces of those countries which have fallen under German domination.

It was significant, Mr. King said, that tomorrow's celebration of Labor Day—a day set apart by Parliament to honor labor—has gained and holds in our national life "could be celebrated peacefully in Canada after a year of war."

"Every Labor Day is a lighthouse of democracy. As its rays revolve we see beneath them the freedom and well-being which we have achieved. As its light flashes tonight we catch a glimpse of the land of our dreams."

"We believe in the right of men to enjoy the fruits of their honest labor. We believe in the sanctity of humanity and in man's progressive capacity to take upon himself more of the attributes of divinity . . ."

Sea View And Vicinity

The exceedingly heavy dry wind of the past week has been taking a bad effect on the potatoes, and turnips as they are becoming quite wilted in appearance.

Labor Day passed pleasantly the schools were closed and both pupils and teachers enjoyed the holiday.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. FRED JARDINE

On August 21st there passed away at the age of 66 after a lengthy illness, at her home at Head of Hillsborough, Mrs. Priscilla Jardine, widow of the late Frederick Jardine who passed her over nine years ago. The funeral, which was held on the 22nd, was an exceptionally large one, was conducted the Rev. L. J. C. Stewart, pastor of the Mount Stewart Church. The following hymns were joyfully sung: "Lord's My Shepherd," "O Think of the Home Over There," "O Think of the Home Over There." The minister spoke words of comfort from the text, "Ye sorrow not even as others which have no hope." (1 Thes. 4:1-3.) Touching reference was made to Mrs. Jardine's devotion as a mother and to her trust in God.

Mrs. Jardine leaves to mourn their loss the following sons and daughters: Frank M. of Head of Hillsborough; Melvin at home; Edith (Mrs. Addison Coffin) of Mount Stewart; Etta at home; Mable (Mrs. Wallace Blot), Pisiquid. There are also the following surviving brother and sisters: Joseph Affleck, Lawrence, Mass.; Alfred Affleck, Charlottetown; Mrs. Jerry Garland, Revere, Mass.; Mrs. Elizabeth Affleck, Malden, Mass.; and Robert Affleck in Florida.

Messrs. Merton Jardine, Vernon MacDonald, Thomas Baird, Geddie Douglas, Ralph Coffin and Lawson Douglas were the pall-bearers. A large cortege followed the remains to the Mount Stewart People's Cemetery when the service was conducted by the Rev. S.J. Boyce.

FISHING BOATS

Reflecting confidence in the future of the Pacific Coast fisheries, construction was started on 192 fishing craft in various British Columbia boat yards during the fiscal year 1939-40.

The new boats included 110 gill-net boats, 37 trolling boats, 20 seiners, 12 collecting boats, 2 fishing boats, 1 rafter fishing boat, 1 cod-fishing boat, 1 halibut boat, 1 ground dragger, 1 service boat. These ranged in size from 26-foot gill net boats to a large 80-foot cannery service boat.

The use of oil cans for food is considered to be very dangerous practice since they are made of most wholly lead, and very small amounts of lead are poisonous.

Cans made expressly for foods are entirely different and can be bought at a nominal price from hardware stores and mail order houses. Years of research have gone into the making of the new craft have already been launched, while others are nearing completion.

Power plants installed in the new fishing boats included both gas and Diesel engines, and range in horse-power rating from 12 h. p. to 230 h. p., the latter installed in the 80-foot cannery service boat.

Automobile engine conversions were used in some of the craft.
