UNDER CANVAS AT THE BRIGHTON CAMP

Militiamen from all Over This Province are Now Encamped. The Daily Routine and Order. Further Particulars of General Interest.

On Tuesday the militia men from all over the province, who are to undergo the annual training this year arrived at Victoria Park and Brighton Barracks, where the tents had already been erected for their accommodation.

The Light Horse are quartered at the Charlottetown Driving Park as usual, but all the other troops are at Victoria Park and Brighton.

The troops assembled comprise:—

The Prince Edward Island Light Horse.

No. 3 Co. 4th Regt., C. A. 82 Regiment.

No. 9 Field Ambulance.

No. 12 Signalling Section.

The Camp Staff Comprises:—

Camp Commander, Col. F. S. Moore, D. O. C.

Brigade Major, Capt. W. Harry Watts, R. O.

Perm. Meed. Officer, Lt. Col. H. D. Johnson, P. M. O., 12.

Musketry Instructor, Capt. R. H. Campbell, 82nd Regt.

Intelligence Officer, Major W. A. Weeks, D. O., 12.

The following warrant and N. C. officers are attached for officers, and attached for duty.

Conductor J. A. Villard, Acting Ordnance Officer.

Sergt. D. C. Harvey, Clerk, Brigade Officer.

The unmentioned drill instructors having reported for duty are detailed as follows:—

Sergt. Major W. Drenand, W. O., Sergt. instructor of Musketry.

A gun will be fired from Fort Edward daily by the Artillery at reveille, 5.30 a. m. daily during Camp and at first post 9.30 p. m. each day while in Camp.

Guards will be mounted daily by the 4th Regt. C. A., and 82nd Regt., one bugler and three men. A sentry will be posted by the artillery on the front of their lines, and by the infantry on the main gate at Victoria Barracks. These guards will remain on duty till relieved and replaced by a flying sentry who will remain on duty till gun mounting.

A field officer of the day and a medical officer of the day will be detailed daily in Camp orders. The field officer of the day inspects guard mounting and inspects the guard and picnic. He is responsible for the general cleanliness, good order and control of the camp. He attends the inspection of rations before issue.

A captain of the day and a subaltern of the day also assist in everything conducing to the good management of the Camp and the comfort of the troops.

Yesterday the men in camp were inspected by the Camp Commander Lt. Col. Moore, and the Medical Officer Col. Johnson. They discovered a most gratifying state of affairs—every unit in camp over strength and the physique and appearance of the men is marvellously good.

Twenty-eight men of the Royal Canadian Regiment from Halifax, have been added to the strength of the Camp to assist the militia in their duties.

Yesterday one of the men while riding on horseback was thrown but was not injured. At first it was reported as a casualty, but the man was found not to be "hors de combat." Orders have been issued that the men must be clean shaven and have hair properly cut. Mustaches are not barred, but whiskers will be taken prisoner.

One of the features of the present training of the artillery will be the operation of the gun teams consisting of two teams of eight horses each.

It is amazing how quickly camp routine has been established. This speaks well for the local establishment and the efficiency of the Brigade Staff, and shows that the D. O. C. has got things splendidly in hand.

Everything is now in full swing, with an ample staff of competent instructors.

Adjutant General Lessard will arrive tonight and inspect the camp tomorrow. This inspection will not interfere with the regular work.

A salute was fired yesterday in honor of Dominion Day from Fort Edward by a detachment from No. 3 Company of artillery.

The men who are to represent this Province at the Quebec Tercentenary celebration will be chosen from the troops now in camp. This matter is now being deliberated.

Advertisers say that there is no better medium than the Rural Daily (formerly the Weekly Guardian). The reason is that it circulates everywhere throughout the country, districts of the Province, reaching an entirely different class of readers from that of the Morning Daily.

A BAD SCOW IS DEATH TRAP

Three Children Perish When the Craft They Were in Breaks.

EGANVILLE, Ont., June 30.—A tragedy which occurred on Bonaventure, above Golden Lake the three daughters of John Jeffrey lost their lives. The girls had gone with their mother and little brother to visit their grandmother, Mrs. Thomas, across the river, and in the evening were returning home. Their aunt, Mrs. John Thomas, undertook to ferry them over the river in an old scow, five feet wide, which was kept for the purpose. She took Mrs. Jeffrey and a little boy over safely and was about mid-stream with the three girls when the side of the scow suddenly gave way, letting in the water. Mrs. Thomas managed to climb to the scow but the girls went down.

CELEBRATION OF DOMINION DAY

Dominion Day was thoroughly enjoyed in Charlottetown yesterday. The holiday was general and the glorious weather which lasted throughout the day enabled pleasure seekers to have their fill of enjoyment.

All of the many pastimes so easily obtainable in this favored Province were enjoyed by those who took the day off. Many went out of the City to fish, or drive, or sail on the river. The excursion in the comfortable str. Northumberland to Pictou took many, and the str. Harland had a lot of passengers.

Summerside claimed a number who went to see the horse races there.

Those who stayed in Charlottetown found much to enjoy. Victoria Park was the centre of attraction, where of interest. Cricket and tennis in the troops in camp afforded plenty of amusement for the devotees of those games, and the bathing houses at the Park, as many as were graciously opened, 300 people on 500 ft. long pool. To those who were unable to go to the beach, the locked-up houses and enjoy a swim as if they were committing a crime.

It was a day to be remembered and every one seemed to be happy.

USE OF VILE WORDS DOUBLED HIS FINE

Angus Crawford Pays $50 and Costs—Behaved Improperly and Swore.

TORONTO, June 30.—In the Police court Angus Crawford, was charged with improper conduct in High Park. He pleaded not guilty, and said that he had been under the influence of liquor.

"Well a man who gets drunk should pay the consequences. That sort of conduct has got to stop around Toronto."

"He used very bad language in the station," said an inspector.

"Twenty-five dollars and costs on thirty days," his worship said.

Crawford muttered a filthy word below his breath, but the court attorney heard it. He repeated it to the magistrate.

"I'll just make that $50 and costs or thirty days," remarked his worship, and waited to hear whether Crawford had anything else to say.

But that was all, and the fine for Crawford. He raised the $50, but kept quiet.

PARTICULARS OF THE ACCIDENT

Which Caused The Death of Cobalt, of Shorey Hayden.

Cobalt newspapers to hand contain particulars of the sad and sudden death of Shorey Hayden, son of Crawford Hayden, of St. Peter's Bay, to which short reference has already been made in this Guardian.

It will be remembered that Mr. Hayden went to Cobalt and brought home the body of his son, and the funeral took place at St. Peter's on the 24th June.

The account as published is as follows:—

"Another of the periodical fatal accidents, which occur in Cobalt vicinity took place last Monday at the Paterson Mine, when Shorey Hayden aged 28, one of a trio of contractors having the work at the mine in hand was killed by a blasting explosion.

"But a singular feature of the affair, and one which in the opinion of those acquainted with the details, was that a miner named Henri, did not meet a similar fate, for he was in the shaft at the time of the explosion, but succeeded in reaching the top. His condition, however was such on the following day that he could not attend the inquest owing to nervous prostration and general shock.

"At Coroner Hare's inquiry on Tuesday the jury returned a verdict to the effect that Hayden met his death 'by a dynamite explosion from cause unknown.' The chief evidence was that read over by the coroner to the jury and was a statement by Henri. It was given entirely independently, said the coroner, and would be found to corroborate the evidence given by witnesses personally."

Henri's testimony was that he and Hayden and a helper had been working 60 feet deep in the mine and had loaded two holes and set a fuse about 54 feet in length. Deceased then got in the bucket and gave the signal to hoist. Witness started to leave the mine by the ladder and the helper went to the head of the shaft. Witness had just started to ascend the ladder when he heard the explosion.

DOMINION DAY AT SUMMERSIDE

Dominion Day passed off quietly in Summerside, the town being full of visitors. The regular morning races from 8 a. m. and onwards of 800 people came in on the special from Charlottetown. A large number took advantage of the holiday to take a sail on the steamer Empress, there being over 800 excursionists making the round trip. The principal attraction in Summerside was the horse races on the Summerside Driving Park, there being over 2000 people present. The gathering was an orderly one and the crowd thoroughly enjoyed the races which were fairly well contested, especially the three minute class. It took five heats to decide. The free for all and 2.23 classes were finished in three straight heats each. The only accident in the races was a collision in the second heat of the free for all, between Nellie Bangs and Mabel T., but not much damage was done.

MARY EMERSON AT OPERA HOUSE

In "His Majesty and the Maid" Gave A Brilliant and Charming Performance.

Not a few regular theatre goers were out of town last evening because of holiday excursions, and so regrettably missed the prettiest and most engaging play that has been presented here in a long time. Many of our readers have read the story, or at least an outline of the plot, and all of these will realize how varied and difficult are the emotions which must find expression in the character of Alicia the Maid. In this role Mary Emerson made her first appearance before a Charlottetown audience last evening and speedily won all hearts by her charm and cleverness.

Special scenery gave splendid setting to the performance and graceful and fitting surroundings to the fair heroine. The opening scene at her humble home in the forest, amid the rich coloring of the autumn tinted trees and falling leaves, was especially delightful in its naturalness and coloring. The stately minut at court, and successive tableaux, notably at the end of each act were superb. Through it all, in the humble dwelling of the lordly palace overlooking the sea, queen, princess, and magnates, now in tender trust with her lover, now learning that the king is her father, then suspected by her betrothed and hated by the queen under the vile suspicion that she has become the king's mistress, overthrowing the murderous plot against her father in which her lover became strangely involved—to what conflicting passions her love and fidelity subjected her. But in all she was pleasing, natural, graceful and queenly.

The support throughout was excellent. Space will not permit par-

EXCITED GIRL CAUSES DEATH

Brother and Sister Perish in Boating Accident on St. Lawrence.

MONTREAL, July 30.—Two people were drowned at Bout D'Ile, near here, after clinging desperately to an overturned boat within sight of hundreds of Sunday school picnickers on shore. The victims were Frank Reno, colored, cigar maker, of St. Dominique street, and his sister, Carmen Reno. Six people in all—four men and two women—had gone out for a row in the boat which ran against a sunken log and upset. Two of the men helped the boat and helped the women into it, but the young girl, Carmen Reno, in her excitement, again upset it, and sank, just as a boat was sent out to rescue the party was rowed up. The brother had, in the meantime, drifted down the river and disappeared below the surface.

THE KAISER WARNS BACHELORS

BUNSBUETTEL, June 30.—In replying to a speech by the burgomaster at a dinner on board the Ocean Tuesday, the Kaiser said that a reform in the imperial finances had been proposed which would be rational and sound and suitable to the needs of the empire.

He said he could not at present reveal the chancellor's plans, "but," he added, "if I may lift the veil somewhat, I may loom up before you a married man, though it had not been decided.

Particular mention of the many, but Mr. Ray who played the king right royally will be welcome when he appears again, as will also George Sylvester, who played the queen, and those who impersonated General Chantry, Count Hoerig (a strong and finished piece of work) Prince Ivan and the rest not omitting Martha and Michael. The delighted audience gave repeated curtain calls to Miss Emerson at the end of each act, her chief support sharing the honors.

Tonight this fine company will appear in 'The Will O' the Wisp' when they may expect a bumper house. At least they will deserve it.

S. S. HALIFAX QUARTETTE

Special Engagement of This Superb Musical Combination by New Wonderland's Management Solos, Choruses etc. Up to Date Music.

Along with one of the finest and most select motion picture programs obtainable—New Wonderland offers this evening a special attraction in the musical line—quartettes, solos and choruses by the men of the S.S. Halifax. The combination consists of magnificent voices, and the selections to be given will be the most popular and sweetest songs of the day. Every body should hear them, and the boys will be in for the nine o'clock show, as the ship arrives in the evening. This is something new again for New Wonderland, so give the boys a bumper house.

The picture list is superb. The Princess in a Vase—is a grandly historical picture of the old, old days when love ran riot and many a good man considered the world well lost for it. The ancient costumes, the rites and ceremonies of those times—the sudden ending to the dream so all absorbing—the cremation of the Princess and the subsequent finding of the jar wherein her ashes reposed for three thousand years, all go to make a most interesting story, capably told. Then the effect of the finding of the treasure by the professor, and the dream occasioned, is simply past telling except by the pictures which grasp every detail.—Come and see this picture, it will more than amply interest and please. In Ireland—is an other splendid film, taking the viewer through this most picturesque part of the world, through the Lakes of Killarney, and depicting the bridges, streams and lakes which are world famous. This, of itself is worth paying a big price for.

The Batman Man—is a comedy film, and certainly has a laugh for every inch of film in it.

Miss McKinnon's illustrated song is a new one "How would you like to see my Wife?" The slides are splendid and the song more than popular.

Get a ticket for the Limerick Contest at the box office too—it goes with the price of admission, and may bring in $5.00. Come to New Wonderland tonight.
