WAR ON WAR IS MAE KEYNOTE OF PROTOCOL

The Amended Draft of Which is Now Before the League Assembly.

(Canadian Press) GENEVA, Oct. 1.—The amended draft protocol on arbitration and security was presented to the assembly of the League of Nations for its approval today accompanied by a general report, historical and analytical in nature, by M. Pothis of Greece and Dr. Benes, of Czechoslovakia, official reporters for the two commissions which jointly framed the document.

"Our purpose," says the report, "was to make war impossible, to kill it, to annihilate it." The plan drawn up leaves no loop hole. It prohibits wars of every description and lays down a rule that all disputes shall be settled by pacific means.

"The peace of the world is at stake," continues the report. "The fifth assembly has undertaken a work of world wide importance which if it succeeds, is destined to profoundly modify present political conditions. If we succeed the League of Nations will have rendered an indelible service to the whole modern world."

"Resolutions were presented to the assembly. One recommends acceptance of the protocol by member governments. Invites adhesion by non member states, and requests the council to arrange for a conference on the reduction of armaments next June at Geneva.

The second recommends that all states accept at the earliest possible moment the compulsory arbitration clause of the world court with such reservations as are deemed indispensable to "interests of progress of international justice."

EDWARDS COMPANY IN THREE ACT DRAMA

A capacity house at the Prince Edward last night enjoyed a fine exposition of the dramatic art when the Mae Edwards Players presented "The Final Settlement," a three act drama that held the unflinching interest of the audience. Another success was also scored by the vaudeville acts which in this company receive as much thought and attention as the play itself. Mr. Jack Farr gave a remarkably fine demonstration of ventriloquism. Not the least attraction of this act is Mr. Farr's wonderful control of the doll he uses and which gestures and speaks in a most natural manner. Fred Durand soloing in comic song and story and teaming with Miss Edna Durand in duets and dialogue that abounded in clever gags and kept the audience in roars of laughter and was invariably rewarded with uproarious applause. Mr. Chas. T. Smith in songs and monologues and performing with his African harp also got a warm hand.

HERRIOT REPLIES Want To Know Why TO GERMAN PROTEST Case Was Dropped

(Special to the Guardian) PARIS, Oct. 1.—Premier Herriot in a formal note dispatched to Germany today replying to the German protest against the imposition of a 26 percent import tax on all goods from Germany makes virtually the same explanation as he gave to the German Charge D'Affaires when he presented the protest last week namely that this way of collecting reparations is entirely legal and according to established precedent.

The premier, the Matin says points out in the note that the method of payment inflicts no new burden on the Reich and that France by employing it has no intention of getting around the transfer clauses provided by the Dawes reparation report.

ZR-3 TO START ATLANTIC TRIP OCT. 5 OR 6

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Oct. 1.—Preparations for the transatlantic flight of the ZR-3, the Zeppelin built dirigible which is to be turned over to the American Navy after its voyage across the sea to Lakehurst, N.J., are to begin immediately in anticipation of beginning the long air journey on October 5 or 6. One of the first tasks in equipping the airship for its history-making trip will be taking aboard of 30 tons of gasoline and 800 pounds of food for the crew and the Americans who will be aboard. The work of overhauling the dirigible will begin at once. One of the motors will be taken down and minutely inspected for flaws by the technicians.

During yesterday's rain, when the ZR-3 was returning to Friedrichshafen from her successful trial trip over Germany, the huge envelope absorbed several tons of water. Several days will be required for the envelope to dry out. By next Saturday Dr. Hugo Eckener, director of the Zeppelin Company, in charge, expects everything will be spick and span for the departure.

CANADIAN BANK FINANCES LIQUOR DEALS

Startling Disclosure in Phaff Piracy Case.

(Canadian Press) BREST, Oct. 1.—One of the strongest banks in Canada has been shown to be financing huge liquor deals negotiated in New York, according to a statement made to the press today by Magistrate Fournier. M. Fournier will preside over the trial of Max Jerome Phaff, German merchant who was charged with piracy on the high seas in connection with the looting of the French steamer Mulhouse off the Canadian coast last July. Investigation into the Mulhouse case has developed, Magistrate Fournier said, that huge liquor deals are closed daily in New York. Death sentence for Phaff will not be asked by the maritime court before which the defendant was given his first examination yesterday. M. Fournier announced today that the charge of piracy on the high seas will be dropped and instead Phaff will be tried for "complicity and organizing piracy on the high seas."

QUICK-WITTED CUBAN Cost of Crime at Highest Point—As Much as Annual Budget in U. S.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kirsch, after an evening at the Winter Garden, reached their apartment on the tenth floor of No. 832 West End avenue at a little after 11 o'clock last night. Mrs. Kirsch, who is a brilliantly beautiful young woman, wore jewelry worth about $50,000. Mr. Kirsch, earlier in the evening, in the course of a business transaction, found himself in possession of about $75,000 in cash which he could not take to a bank before this morning, and put it in a safe place in the apartment.

About ten minutes after Mr. and Mrs. Kirsch had gone to the apartment, four masked men appeared in the downstairs lobby. They ran to the elevators and, presenting revolvers at Rodewick Blewfield, Cuban elevator boy who was about to start upstairs with three passengers, ordered him to hold his car. Two of the men stood guard over Blewfield and the passengers. The other waited until Aubrey Myers, running the elevator, came down from a trip upstairs, seized him, and with a revolver held against his chest, compelled the boy to take him to the tenth floor.

Arriving there, the boy ordered to ring the bell of the Kirsch apartment and to call out, when answered, that there was a man there with a package who insisted on making a personal delivery to Mr. Kirsch.

The quick-witted boy led him to the service door of the apartment, feeling that Mr. Kirsch might answer at the front door himself and the robber might thus get the drop on him without warning. A maid, Connie Binns, answered at the service door. She opened the door a crack and caught a glimpse of a man with his face masked at the elevator boy's side. Before the man could get his foot in the crack of the door, she slammed it, locking him out, and screamed to Mrs. Kirsch.

The robber dragged Myers to the elevator and ordered him to shoot "he" down to the first floor.

SURPRISED AT CONCESSION TO JAPANESE

(Special to Guardian) LONDON, Oct. 1.—There is astonishment and misgiving here among all parties at the concession to Japan whereby a country which feels itself aggrieved by the domestic legislation of another country can have its dispute submitted to the League of Nations. Mr. Hofmeyer of South Africa speaking on behalf of the British dominions said the plan is the same as was originally proposed by Mr. Adachi of Japan when it was opposed by Sir Cecil Hurst for Great Britain. Hurst justifies his change of attitude by saying that alterations have been made to other clauses which mitigate the effect of the Japanese amendment.

DISAPPOINTED

(Special to Guardian) LONDON, Ont., Oct. 1.—Because H. R. Shook, of Toronto, preferred his oysters fried rather than raw he is poorer by $300. While eating his oysters at a local cafe seven beautiful pearls rolled into his mouth. Mr. Shook thought for a while that fortune was smiling upon him, but disappointment awaited him. On finishing his dinner he took them to a jeweller to discover their value. The jeweller declared that while they were real pearls of all excellent quality they had lost their value because they had been subjected to heat. If they had not been heated they would have been worth at least $300.

RAIN FAILS TO SPOIL SECOND DAY OF PROVINCIAL FAIR

Large Attendance During Day And Evening.—Judging Nearing Completion.—Postponement Of Horse Races Makes Main Building Popular.

Despite the heavy showers of the early afternoon causing the postponement of the day's racing program, there was a very good attendance at the Provincial Exhibition all day yesterday many visitors having arrived from the mainland by train and boat.

The judging of the various classes of horses, live stock and poultry was keenly followed by many interested spectators. Up to yesterday evening judging of light horses, poultry, butter and cheese, eggs, art and fancy work, woolen and cotton goods had been entirely finished. Judging of draft horses was about half completed, likewise with dairy cows and beef cattle. Sheep had not been touched and the judging of swine was almost finished.

DROWNED AT SUMMERSIDE

A fatality occurred last night at Summerside about 9 p. m. when Fireman Smith whose home is in Gaspe and who was employed on the Customs Cruiser Margaret met death by drowning.

The steamer which had only recently left Charlottetown was lying at the railway wharf. A number of the crew including the deceased had obtained leave to spend the evening ashore and took their departure from the ship. The remainder of the party had only proceeded a short distance from the wharf when they discovered the absence of Smith. They immediately returned and with the aid of the remainder of the crew organized a search. This they carried on for about an hour when the dead body was discovered floating near the stern of the ship. Dr. Taver, was summoned and after examination decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The body was conveyed to Compton's undertaking parlors where it will remain awaiting funeral arrangements.
