Sheep's Clothing.

Once there was a bad man who was good-looking. Bad men are not always good-looking; but good-looking men are often bad. Perhaps they are bad because they are good-looking. At any rate, that is why our bad man was bad. He was always falling in with women and falling out with men. Men and women would not let him be good. They would only let him be good-looking. He was big and strong, and his legs were straight and his shoulders were broad. His face was the face of a Greek god. His complexion was a rich, clear olive; his eyes brown and bright; his hair short and black; his mouth full-lipped, yet firm.

There was a good-looking girl who lived opposite the good-looking man. The girl was small and dainty and flower-like. Her face was pink-and-white and lovely; her eyes big and blue; her hair light and soft and wavy; her mouth small and red. And the good-looking girl was good. The good-looking man soon found that out. He smirked at the good-looking girl. But she only smiled back, sadly.

And the man became intensely interested in the good-looking girl, and, finally, he spoke to her.

"Let me talk to you," he whispered; "I know everything."

"Then I cannot let you talk to me," answered the girl, quietly, "for I know nothing." She paused, and then went on: "But I suspect a lot. I suspect that men are either wolves or sheep; and I suspect that they are mostly wolves; I like sheep."

And the girl walked away. But the man stood still. He was dumfounded. The girl had not fallen in love with him! Instead, he had fallen in love with her!

"And she doesn't like wolves!" he mused; "and she does like sheep!" Then he went and donned sheep's clothing.

The good-looking man ceased to smirk at the good-looking girl. But he smiled at her, sadly, even as she had smiled at him. And he loved her with all his heart and soul. Finally, he spoke to her again.

"I respect and revere you," he whispered.

"And I respect you," said the girl.

After that, the good-looking man and the good-looking girl were often together. The man was always courteous and devoted, and the girl was always gentle and kind. They loved each other, dearly.

One day a good-looking woman, who was bad, came to see the good-looking girl, who was good. And the good-looking woman, who was bad, said to the good-looking girl, who was good, "The good-looking man who comes to see you is not good; he is bad. I, too, am bad. But I will not let him be bad with you."

"Oh!" moaned the good girl, "is he then a wolf?"

"Yes," snickered the bad woman, "he is a wolf!"

"A wolf in sheep's clothing!" sobbed the good girl.

"Yes, a wolf in sheep's clothing!" sneered the bad woman.

Before the bad woman left, the good-looking man came. The good-looking man gasped. The bad woman laughed. But the good girl cried.

"So you wear sheep's clothing, eh?" jeered the bad woman.

"Do you?" wailed the good girl. "Is it true?"

"Yes; it is true," answered the good-looking man; "and I always shall wear it!"

"No, you shall not!" snarled the bad woman. "You shall not wear sheep's clothing. You are a wolf!" And she sprang at him and tore off his sheep's clothing.

But lo! no wolf was revealed—only a sheep!—Harold Melbourne in "Smart Set."

Toronto Citizen—That's a bum light.

"Ah, that is better."

House Mottoes.

Tourists of the contemplative kind are often surprised and sometimes delighted at the unexpected discovery of quaint house mottoes and inscriptions during their wanderings from place to place. Perhaps one of the most curious collections of mural inscriptions mentioned by Miss S. F. A. Caulfield, the author of a work on the subject, is to be found in the ancient city of Galway.

"It has four gates, facing respectively north, south, east and west, and on each was a precatory motto. That facing north bore the words:

From the ferocious O'Flahertys,
Good Lord, deliver us!

"On the south gate:

From the devilish O'Dalys,
Good Lord, defend us!

"On the east gate:

From the cut-throat O'Kellys,
Good Lord, save and keep us!

"And on the west gate:

From the murderous O'Maddens,
Good Lord, preserve us!"

What a very undesirable collection of neighbors the poor folk of Galway appear to have had!

THE CANADIAN STEEL AND COAL COMPANY Limited, was organized to mine and manufacture iron and coal, coke and steel in Canada, at Atlantic tide water.

The raw materials for these manufacturers are:—

1, COAL. 2. IRON. 3. LIMESTONE.

All these materials we have at hand.

2.—Iron.

The Company has acquired by purchase, immense iron deposits on the North Shore of the Gulf of St Lawrence, about 350 miles from Sydney. The deposits are estimated to contain 20,000,000 tons of ore above sea level with probably as much more below that line. The iron can be handled for $1.00 per ton or less. Quantities of this ore have been shipped to Great Britain and United States where it has given great satisfaction, and we can sell large quantities f. o. b. at the properties, netting us a profit of $2.00, per ton. This ore makes the finest steel.

Output.

When in full operation the output is expected to be about as follows:

1. IRON.—200,000 tons iron ore shipped direct from property, showing net profit of $2.00 per ton, total		$400,000 00
200,000 tons fine iron ore shipped in briquettes, showing net profit of $4.00 per ton total		$800,000 00
100,000 tons steel blooms showing net profit of $3.00 per ton total		$300,000 00
2. COAL,—600,000 tons coal, showing net profit, at least, $1.00 per ton, total		$600,000 00
3. AIDS.—Government bounties (averaged) added to above per year for 6 years		$100,000 00
Total yearly revenue		$2,200,000 00

Net Revenue.

Total net annual profits,		$ 200,000 00
LESS FIXED CHARGES:
5 per cent interest on bonds	$37,500 00
7 " " " on preferred stock	70,000 00
Sinking Fund	67,500 00
Incidentals	25,000 00
		200,000 00
Net yearly profits		2,000,000 00

Equivalent to yearly diqidends of 30 per cent., or 15 per cent, half-yearly on total capitalization.

If the capitalization was increased to $20,000,000 00
this estimate would still show a dividend-earning capacity of 10 per cent, per annum.

The capitalization of the Dominion Coal Co., is $20,000,000.00 earning fully 12 percent., and is paying 8 per cent, guaranteed dividends on this enormous sum.

The capitalizatiod of the Dominion Iron and Steel Comyany is $28,000,000.00 on which it is believed 6 per cent dlvidends will be earned,

The capitelization of the Canadian Steel and Coal Company is only $6,000,000.00 ntrol ing, it is believed, equally valuable properties, and it is reasonable to expect much larger dividends.

Within the last few months Dominion Coal shares common rose in market value from $40 to $144 per share, and Dominion Iron and Steel Company's shares common rose over $30 per share in market value

With such low capitalization The Canadian Steel and Coal Co's shares would show tremendous profits; and it is confidently believed they will.
