—IN HOCKEY CIRCLES.—Both the Vics and Violet Hockey Clubs of Georgetown have completed their organization for the season and Georgetown will as in years past put one or more fast teams on the glossy surface. Both clubs have had several good workouts and no doubt are willing and ready to "face-off" with any of the other puck-chasing aggregations in the county.—A.

—SHOWERED.—The home of Mrs. Hudson Longphie, Souris Lane Road, was the scene of a most pleasant and entertaining reunion on Friday night when the members of the Glen Mere Women's Institute and their male friends gathered to spend the evening with loads of presents and felicitations on her approaching marriage next week to Mr. Hector McNevin of Fortune Bridge. The presents were particularly valuable as well as useful mostly for household purposes. After the presentations and felicitations dancing was indulged in and greatly enjoyed. Supper was served in fine style and it was almost the break of day before the visitors departed all wishing Mrs. Longphie and the groom-elect, Mr. McNevin the heartiest congratulations.

—THE EXODUS goes merrily on, notwithstanding the high price of potatoes at least in the Eastern parts. Mr. James McAulay, an apparently successful farmer of Souris Lane Road has sold out a few days ago and is going to the U.S.A. The auction sale which took place successfully at his place. Everything sold high except 30 tons of hay which failed to sell. Three horses fetched each over $100, cows sold at $40. Pigs up to $25 and everything else accordingly. The fact is that there is much misconception about the improved times amongst the Eastern farmers. Very few were prepared to take advantage of the high price of potatoes for the reason that the crop was a small one in Eastern Kings, and with the high price of potatoes pig-feeding is all and no dairying obtains. Mr. McAulay is a comparatively young man of good character and his place will be greatly missed in the community, particularly in Church work for St. Mary's Church, Souris, had few more attentive to duties and church services. Undoubtedly churches are the biggest sufferers by the Exodus. What becomes of the old farm home is a tragedy, but the loss of a farm family to the community is still more tragic, yet the greatest misfortune in this and many other cases is the change that is wrought in an honest-to-goodness farm family after they have changed their conditions and surroundings. The great centres of population have grown at the expense of the farm. This growth should mean greater prosperity for the farmer, yet changing conditions may mean the breaking down of many cherished ideals.

—FIRE-WOOD SCARCE AND HIGH ON THE ISLAND.—Appropriately of the cold weather of the past week the scarcity and high price of fire wood on the island has become evident. Old, mature hardwood is impossible to obtain in a great many parts of the island, and many—probably now the majority—are forced to burn soft wood. An owner of a hardwood woodlot has a gold mine on his farm. There is no difficulty for such owners to get $2 a cord for this kind of wood. Sales are being made of $15 to $20 for quarter acre lots, $40, $50 and $60 for the wood an acre is not uncommon. Even softwood is selling high. One man at Lot 49 is selling quarter-acre lots of softwood—spruce and fir—at $14 a lot and the demand cannot be supplied. Many are forced to haul softwood five and six miles. This soft wood is poor wood at best and unless coal is obtained to mix with it there is very poor satisfaction, and the women of the household must necessarily experience difficulty in baking and cooking with such fuel. While in this cold weather it is almost impossible to maintain a well-heated house. What people on this island are to do for good and efficient fuel in our cold winter season in the immediate future is hard to foresee, the present quantity of hardwood fuel being so limited while present prices, and probably future also, of coal is so high, as well as distant in so many cases. The question of winter fuel has therefore become a problem difficult to solve and overcome.

MALPEQUE

Mrs. Lee Owen of Hamilton left on Friday, January 8th to visit her sister Mrs. Charles Stewart of Montreal and her son Mr. Stewart Owen of Toronto. Mrs. Owen expects to be absent about a month.

Mrs. James A. Campbell, Burlington, has been the guest of Mrs. Chester Simpson, Malpeque during the week just ended.

Mr. Ralph Hustis of Charlottetown and Mr. Christopher Harper of Vancouver, B. C. were the guests of their aunt Mrs. L. D. MacNutt, Malpeque for several days.

Mr. Douglas Ramsay, Hamilton, left Monday morning to resume his studies at the Summerside business college.

Miss Ruth Dennis, Marshfield, who has been the guest of her sister Mrs. Chester Simpson for several weeks left for her home on Friday, January 8th.

Among other anniversary days worthy of more than passing notice may be mentioned Tuesday, January 5th which was one of special interest to the company which assembled at the home of Miss Christina K. Owen to mark another milestone in this good lady's life. The day was an ideal one, the atmosphere of the home was congenial and friendly and the supper was daintily prepared and served. Hospitality was the key note of the afternoon enjoyment and good wishes for many happy returns of the day especially to Miss Owen were general and were freely expressed.

About seventy-five of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. James Donald joined in the festivities that attended the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage on Tuesday, January 5th. The large gathering and the whole-heartedness with which all responded to the evening's enjoyment was truly an evidence of the large number of friends who hold in high esteem the duties of a good chairman were capably performed by Mr. Arch. Woodside and an address which was read by Mrs. Chester Simpson was accompanied with a silver tea service presented by Mr. Wilbert Delaney. Extempore speeches were given by Rev. A. N. Gillis, Messrs. F. J. Lockery, John and Robert Crafer, G. Wm. Ramsay, Herbert Donald and Wilbert Delaney. All of whom made kind references to Mr. and Mrs. Donald and their splendid family and appeared truly glad for the opportunity afforded them of expressing their appreciation of their life and work in the community. The evening was principally occupied in the singing of old songs. Mrs. James A. Campbell presiding at the organ. Supper was served and a good time was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem. The evening's pleasure was one of glad surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Donald and it is earnestly hoped that this anniversary may prove a doorway to greater happiness and success for them. The following is the address: To Mr. and Mrs. James Donald— On this the 25th anniversary of your marriage, your friends, neighbors and relatives, have assembled here to offer you our congratulations and fully express the wish that you have many more years of happy married life. (Time flies); looking back over a quarter of a century, you have much reason to be thankful for the measure of health, happiness and prosperity which you both have enjoyed. You have been a lifelong member of the settlement and always ready and willing to do your best, to further the social and educational interests of the District. As a Church officer, you have faithfully discharged your official duties and truly manifested your interest, by generous giving and strict attendance. In your esteemed wife, you have an efficient help mate and have reared an excellent family. Please accept this small present, not for its value but as a token of the respect which you hold in the community. In behalf of your friends, neighbors and relatives.

small token of remembrance as an expression of the high esteem in which you are held. What is our loss will be the Royal Victoria's gain. Wishing you God-speed and every success in life, we are your old pupils and chums. The presentation of a beautiful grey moleskin hand bag was made by Miss Louise Ramsay, the hostess. Mrs. Simpson made some kind reference to Miss Donald and many others of the company expressed their good will and good wishes. These all, including the address and gift were gratefully acknowledged by the recipient and it is believed that these and other associations will be always cherished by her. Music in abundance was given by Mrs. Campbell. Mrs. Simpson acted as accompanist at the organ for Mr. Wallace Adams, Sea View, whose violin selections were much appreciated. It is assured that the good wishes of the community will follow Mrs. Donald in her new venture and it is believed that Malpeque and vicinity is losing one who has displayed in her childhood and young womanhood all the traits of character that make for true success.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crozier of Kelvin, Mrs. Samuel Carruthers and son of Carleton, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cousins of Burlington, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Davison and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davison of Kensington were in attendance at the anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. James Donald which was held on Tuesday evening, January 5th.

Mr. Frank Hillman, Baltic, who has been in failing health for the past two months passed away on Thursday, January 7th. Mr. Hillman was engaged in carpentry for some years he conducted a saw mill and was always regarded as an industrious and honest workman. Rev. A. N. Gillis conducted the funeral service which was held on Saturday afternoon. The remains were laid to rest in Malpeque cemetery.

Practise makes perfect. A barber reported to work two hours late. "What's the big idea?" demanded the boss. "I'm sorry," replied the barber, "but while I was shaving I talked myself in to a shampoo, haircut and massage."—Good Hardware.
