

FASTERFAT WHITE FISH MEAL

It is important to realize that FASTERFAT White Fish Meal is made solely from the flesh and bones of such fish as are described in the trade as "White Fish", a category that includes cod, haddock, hake, whiting and other fish containing a low percentage of oil. All strongly flavored and oily material such as is derived from fish of the herring and mackerel types is rigidly excluded.

FASTERFAT White Fish Meal, therefore, is manufactured from those portions of white fish which are not used for human consumption. The gutting process is carried out at sea, the entrails being thrown overboard. From this it will be appreciated that these parts of the fish never appear in the raw material from which "FASTERFAT" is made.

We have just received a carload of the above feed for farm animals, which is guaranteed 70% protein — Try out a sample bag and be convinced of the high quality feeding value — Selling at lowest prices — Wholesale and Retail — by
