OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Two Grateful Letters from Women Who Avoided Serious Operations.—Many Women Suffering from Like Conditions Will Be Interested.

When a physician tells a woman, suffering from female trouble, that an operation is necessary it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart. As one woman expressed it, when told by her physician that she must undergo an operation she felt that her death knell had sounded.

Our hospitals are full of women who are there for just such operations!

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but such cases are much rarer than is generally supposed, because a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after the doctors had said an operation must be performed. In fact, up to the point where the knife must be used to secure instant relief, this medicine is certain to help.

The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who, by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, have escaped serious operations.

Mrs. Robert Glenn of 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation, but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in its favor. I have suffered untold agonies from a serious female trouble for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation, but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound, and I am only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same. Pray accept my hearty thanks and best wishes."

Miss Margaret Merkley of 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, severe shooting pains through the pelvic organs, cramps, bearing-down pains, and an irritable disposition compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said that I had a serious female trouble and ulceration, and advised an operation as my only hope. To this I strongly objected—and I decided as a last resort to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"To my surprise the ulceration healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared, and I am once more strong, vigorous and well; and I cannot express my thanks for what it has done for me."

Serious feminine troubles are steadily on the increase among women—and before submitting to an operation every woman should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been curing the worst forms of female complaints, all functional troubles, inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement, weakness, irregularities, indigestion and nervous prostration. Any woman who could read the many grateful letters on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office would be convinced of the efficiency of her advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

HAD A SPORTY TIME OFF CAPE GOOD HOPE

Skipper and Crew Caught Sharks and Albatrosses, and Marked Them With Red Ink.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Should any deep sea skipper off the Cape of Good Hope, run foul of a flock of Albatrosses which look as if they had been used for models in a school for writing "Ads," he will confer a favor upon Capt. Jarvis, of the British fourmasted bark Lawhill, now at New Pier 14, East River, by noting the date and position, says the World.

On his trip from Hong Kong, Capt. Jarvis, and his crew took pains to decorate such stray sharks and birds as came aboard and turn them loose again. In the China sea a fourteen foot shark was landed on deck. With indelible red ink, Capt Jarvis had the man-eater inscribed with the following: "Submarine No. 1990, H. B. M., shark," followed by the date of launching and the ship's position. After the monster had been properly christened, it was dropped overboard again. While the vessel was running around the Cape of Good Hope an excellent opportunity presented itself to invite a large number of Albatrosses and Cape Hens aboard. The Albatrosses were enticed aboard with a bait of pork upon a hook which caught in their bills. With the red ink a dozen or so of them were appropriately labelled and set adrift. Across the smooth pure breast which is so compact, and well oiled that it has a solid, impervious front, the name of the ship and her position, with the date were inscribed.

A motto was generally added. The birds were let go with the tie conspicuously displayed: "I am the Queen of the air." Another bore: "I am a high flyer," "Cape Aero Club No. 1," "I'm always scoffing" and not the eagle bird," were other designations. The Albatrosses protested against this branding with loud squaks. As they were thrown into the air again their fellows flew close to them and inspected the mottoes critically.

A LETTER THROWING LIGHT ON CONDITIONS IN SUMATRA

LONDON, Eng., 21.—Many things have recently been said about the Dutch rule in Sumatra, and the long war that has been carried on in that island. A letter we have just received from a Dutch correspondent throws a flood of light upon the subject, and disposes of many of the criticisms. Our correspondent says: "Nothing of the interior of Sumatra is unexplored, and with the exception of a very small part governed by Indian princes with Dutch advisers all is under the direct government of our Civil Servants. The Long War in the most northern part of the island has been long only because the friends of peace in Holland have prohibited any fighting, and ordered the stations on the coast to be garrisoned. During twenty-five years it was a war without fighting, and now fighting has practically finished. The inhabitants of the village are registered, and only in the maiden woods and in the hills small bands of robbers are being chased by the police, who move in numbers never exceeding twenty." The story that the Dutch ruthlessly slaughtered women and children is disposed of thus. The last independent state was subjected two years ago. The Dutch troops, numbering one hundred and twenty rank and file, found the principal village fortified, and held by some one thousand well armed men. Before the village was attacked the Dutch commander warned all women and children to leave it. This was apparently taken no notice of. So when the village was taken amongst the five hundred dead were a hundred women and children. The attacking force lost about twenty per cent. of their number. Under the circumstances the killing of the women and children would seem to be unavoidable, though most regrettable, incident of savage warfare.

CHAINED TO A CORPSE.

Doleful Punishment of the Ancients Duplicated in Our Modern Life.

The Romans used to punish a murderer by chaining to his body the corpse of his victim. Wherever he went he dragged behind him the debris of his crime, the slimy cadaver, revolting thing that was once a man.

Every day you see people dragging around with them the corpse of their sins. They can't get away from them. And many of them have become so intimate with these corpses that they become corpses themselves. The misery of these poor unfortunates has become constitutional with them. It fits them like an old shoe. They have become accustomed to it.

And there are thousands of humans who are wa king the earth to-day with corpses attached to them,—dyspeptic stomachs they can't get rid of. They have to get along the best they can with the stomachs they have. And the owners of said dyspeptic stomachs are to be found in every walk in life, suffering from some form of indigestion, first cousin to dyspepsia.

They wear that forlorn appearance, their energy is at zero, nothing interests them, and they interest no one, their faces are shrunk, their nerves are wilted and their shoulders sag. Are you one of the myriads who dandle and gratify their palates at the sacrifice of their stomachs? Are you one of those who allow their senses to run riot, eating too much, drinking too much, eating at the wrong time, eating the half-cooked, the queer and the impossible?

Are you bloated after eating, and imagine that it is your food that fills you? Do you have nausea when you look upon this or that, rebel at one thing and be hungry for it, too, at the same time? And have you got a whole lot of other things the matter with your stomach that you know about but nobody else does, and can't explain? If so, you have dyspepsia, real dyspepsia. And the chances are you have had it a long time.

Your stomach is overworked, abused, fagged out. The gastric and digestive juices are weak, the muscles of the stomach are jaded, and the whole business needs new life. It needs something which will take hold of the food as it comes in and do the digesting, and let your stomach take a rest.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do that very thing. They contain a most powerful ingredient which helps the stomach in the process of digestion, cures dyspepsia, sour stomach, indigestion, heartburn, eructations, acidity or fermentation. They invigorate the stomach, increase the flow of gastric juice, and do two-thirds of what the stomach would have to do without them. That gives the stomach some rest, and a chance to get right again.

You will feel the change first in your mind and heart and then over your whole body. You'll feel rosy and sweet. That's the object. You can get these effective little tablets almost anywhere on earth, for 50c a package.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the name.

$50,000 ORGAN FOR CATHEDRAL

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Authorities of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in Morningside Heights, yesterday awarded to the Earnest M. Skinner Company, of Boston, the contract for the great organ to be erected in the choir at a cost of $50,000. Mr. Levi P. Morton's gift of $150,000, for the reredos, organ and choir stalls of the new Cathedral provides the funds for building this instrument, which when completed will, it is said, surpass in power and effectiveness any organ in America and will be equalled by only one or two in the Old World. Work on it will be begun at once. The huge size of the building rendered the problem of determining what the specifications of the organ should be and who should build it a very difficult one, and the committee in charge of the matter has been deliberating for more than a year. Mr. Robert Hope Jones, now associated with the Skinner Company, was the designer and builder of the famous organ of Worcester Cathedral, England, one of the largest instruments in the world, and certain of his inventions for producing powerful tone determined the awarding of the contract. The organ will be operated throughout by electricity.

DEFENCE AND CONFEDERATION

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—Rupert E. Kingsford addressed the Canadian Institute upon 'Imperial defence and Confederation.' Mr. Kingsford some time ago delivered an address to the British Empire League that attracted attention in England. He insists upon the necessity of drawing into a real empire the British isles and the self-governing dependencies of Britain. Mr. Kingsford called attention to Canada's continued neglect to contribute to Imperial defence; he doubted if the Canadian people would ever give money to another to spend without any accountability. But Canada would freely contribute her share, if allowed a voice in the expenditure of it. He advocated a closer union, resembling that of the German states, or of the United States, thus forming a truly Imperial Parliament, and allowing each country to retain complete autonomy in domestic affairs. He also advocated inter-Empire trade preference, pointing out from statistics that the United States were selling too much in Great Britain and Canada.

IT'S GETTING DEARER

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Three years ago one fifty-thousand of a pound of radium could be had in London for $25, but now that the Austrian government had prohibited exportation of radium, that amount—a mere speck—would cost $350.

Common Colds are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug and has thirty years of reputation back of it, gained by its cures under every condition. For sale by all druggists.
