Happenings of the Week

Mrs. Spears of St. John, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. McCready.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. McLeod and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Morrison are enjoying a motor trip through Quebec stopping off at different points to visit friends.

Mrs. P. Pope, who has been spending the summer here, left Wednesday on return to her home in Stoneham, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. C. Campbell have left on a motor trip to Montreal.

Mr. Harry Hyndman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hyndman left last week for Queen University, Kingston, to complete his engineering course.

Mrs. J. A. Mathieson and Mrs. Pines motored to Halifax on Wednesday of this week on a short visit.

One of the most delightful of social affairs held in Summerside this week was the reception given by the ladies of St. Mary's Church in honor of Mrs. Major Small, a very valued member of the W. A. of St. Mary's Church. Bridge was played at several tables and afternoon tea was served at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Small was afterwards presented with a lovely silver basket as a memento of her association with the W. A. Ven. Archdeacon White, D. D., made the presentation in his usual delightful manner and in a few appropriate words assured Mrs. Small that the W. A. and congregation of St. Mary's would always follow with interest the future of herself and Major Small in their home on Anticosti Island. The prize winners for bridge were Mrs. W. Strong, Mrs. W. B. Mills and Mrs. Major Small.

It is with regret that the many friends of Mrs. G. D. Wright learned of her present illness.

Mrs. D. T. Fraser, Kingston, accompanied by Mrs. J. A. Fraser, left this week for Toronto where they will enjoy a short holiday with the former's daughter, Mrs. E. A. McAlonen.

Mrs. George McQuarrie entertained this week for a number of her friends at bridge at her lovely home on Green Street, Summerside.

Mrs. Duff entertained at bridge for her friends on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. James Frichard on Duke Street, Summerside.

The tea hostesses at the Golf Links this afternoon will be Mrs. W. A. McLaren, Mrs. G. H. Buntain, Mrs. H. A. C. Searth, Miss Aletha Laird, Miss Alva Mathieson.

Mrs. H. James Palmer is being warmly welcomed by her many friends on her return home this week after spending the summer in Montreal with her daughters, Mrs. John Reay and Mrs. H. K. S. Hemming.

Hon. George E. Hughes' many friends were pleased to see him out for a short drive during the week.

and are looking forward to his return to renewed health.

Now that the hem length of skirts is more or less settled as neither tralling the ground, nor exposing the legs, Paris stylists are concentrating their attention on the correct type of footwear to accompany new Fall clothes. The definite return of skirts that reach the ankles all the way around has brought about another revival—the return of jewelled shoe-buckles. Fashion dictators agree that the informal open-air sandal that has been the dance slipper for the last few seasons is incongruous with the formality of longer skirts. A plain satin opera pump is preferred with slightly pointed toe, decorated with a jeweled buckle placed low on the vamp.

ADD HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Frank Beales, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Heber R. Large, in West Virginia, has left on a motor trip with her son, Mr. Geoffrey James Beales. They will drive through Kentucky, Virginia and North Carolina, visiting White Sulphur Springs, Pinehurst, the famous Endless Caverns located in the beautiful Shenandoah Valley, and other places of interest including Washington, D. C., Harrisburg, Pa., New York and other American cities.

Mrs. (Dr.) Alex. McNeill of Summerside, spent a few days pleasantly this week with friends in Moncton.

Rev. Herman and Mrs. Campbell, of Pownal, who have been spending their holidays with relatives at Clarksville, N. S., visited Windsor last week guests at the home of Mr. Fred Campbell.

Members of the Eastern Star at Summerside entertained at an auction and bridge party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bell, Summerside, on Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Major Small, who are leaving shortly for Anticosti Island. During the evening an address and presentation was made to the guests of honor by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Douglas Gordon, on behalf of the Lodge. At the conclusion of play refreshments were served by the ladies, a dainty birthday cake being placed at Mr. Bell's table in honor of his birthday. The prize winners at bridge were Mr. and Mrs. T. H. S. Jackson. At auction Mrs. A. P. Jamieson carried off the consolation prize.

Mrs. Peterson and little daughter, who have been visiting with Mrs. Peterson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, are leaving this morning on return to Ottawa.

Among the many charming parties given this week in honor of Mr. Major and Mrs. Small was the bridge party given by Mr. and Mrs. Willis Warren at their home in Summerside.

Mrs. Chester Bowness entertained a number of her Summerside friends last week at bridge, at her lovely home in Bedeque.

The ladies of the Summerside Golf Club are entertaining this afternoon for Charlottetown members. Some friendly games will be arranged. The hostesses at the tea hour will be Mrs. Nell McLeod, Miss Ruth Murtart, Miss Edna Bradshaw and Miss Betty Robinson. They will be assisted by other members of the Club.

Mrs. Cobb entertained on Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Major Small, who leave early next month for Anticosti Island.

London west end shops are beginning to show advance fall and winter styles. The greatest changes noticed are in coats, evening dresses, sports clothes and shoes.

Practically every shop in the Mayfair district, especially in Bond St. and Regent St., is displaying long, bodice-fitting coats with deep, wide collars. Fur collars are the most popular.

The length of the coat is to the heel, and it is form-fitting all the way. Special tailoring is expected to assist plump, short women.

Evening dresses are even longer than last season and sweep the floor with full ruffles. There is some talk of old-fashioned bustles returning, although few dresses of this style are to be seen.

Dorothy Dix' Letter Box

"Of course, personality counts as much in business as it does in society and in employing girls who have to be brought in contact with strangers, as a private secretary does, I select young women who have charm and who 'sell' themselves, as the phrase goes, to me when they apply for the job by the way they approach me, by their tact in what they say to me and by their having that indefinable quality that attracts us to a woman without our knowing why.

"To sum it all up, I should say that when a girl goes to apply for a job she should look neat and well dressed and intelligent and dignified and lady-like. She shouldn't be too much dolled up or have on too much paint and lipstick. She shouldn't giggle, nor roll her eyes, nor try out her sex attraction on the man who is hiring her. She should try to give the impression of being a competent business woman, for that is what he is after. A girl who can hold down a job, not a playmate."
DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—Just listen to the trials of a girl: If she goes with all the boys, she is a flapper. If she doesn't go with them, they say she can't get a date. If she speaks to every boy, she is a flirt. If she doesn't speak to them, she is a high-hatter. If she goes to school just to study, she is left out of all the parties. If she doesn't study at school, she is a dumbbell. What is a poor girl to do?
SALLY.

Answer:
It is worse than that, Sally. As long as you live, you will always be caught between the two horns of a dilemma. For when you are out of school you will find out that if a woman studies and reads and tries to improve her mind, men call her a highbrow and flee from her, and that if she doesn't study and read and improve herself, they will have nothing to do with her because she is stupid and bores them.

If she goes to work and supports herself, they say she is taking a man's job away from him. And if she sits down on the do-nothing stool and lets her father and her brothers feed and clothe her, they call her a parasite. If she pursues a man and tries to catch him for a husband, he runs away from her. If she modestly hides her feelings and stays put and waits for him to discover her, he never knows that she is alive.

If she is domestic, her husband bats her for smelling of bread and butter, and if she doesn't stay at home he knocks her for a gadabout. If she looks like a daily hint from Paris, he walks over her extravagance, and if she cares nothing for clothes, he berates her for being dowdy.

So what can a poor woman do? And the answer is: Nothing.
DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—We are two girls who are planning to get married shortly. The men whom we intend to marry are the best of friends and the four of us have planned to live together after we are married. Do you think our plan will be successful?
DELL AND SYLVIA.

Answer:
Not a chance on earth of its ending in anything but failure. Within six months you will have fought like cats and dogs and will hate each other the balance of your lives.

Living together is one test that friendship won't stand, so don't try it. Set up your separate homes, not too close together, and you may maintain a beautiful friendship that will be a pleasure to you all your days, but too much intimacy is sure to breed discord and make people get on each other's nerves. You will have all you can do getting along with your individual husbands and wives. Don't superimpose a couple of friends on that.
DOROTHY DIX.

form-fitting. The dresses and skirts the low prices are prevalent this fall, are expected to reveal about two more inches of leg, coming just below the knee. Pleats are popular and predominate in all advance displays. Long narrow-pointed shoes are staging a comeback. As yet the issue is still in favor of the short French toes with the short vamp, high instep, and spike heels. Pointed toes, always popular in England, are expected to gain ground as the season progresses.

Python and lizard skin shoes are still prime favorites for street and afternoon wear. Patent leathers, trimmed with delicate shades of kid and suede, are advocated for evening wear, especially for informal functions such as bridge, cinema and theatre parties.

Cut-out and lattice work is noticed in many of the new styles of footwear. Ornaments and artificial bows and laces are now established.

Sports shoes continue to be color combinations, mostly oxfords. Sports pumps have either spike or high Cuban heels.

MURRAY HARBOR NORTH AND VICINITY

Several of the members of our Women's Institute were guests of the Gaopereux Institute which held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Reynolds.

The Pembroke Women's Institute held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Hicken. A large attendance was present on Thursday evening the 18th. inst.

The Murray Harbor North Institute met on Tuesday the 16th. inst. at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Clow. A number of visitors added the total considerably. The meeting was quite inspiring and enthusiastic.

The Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church here held a sewing bee on Friday evening the 19th. inst. to finish up their contribution to the Charlottetown Orphanage, there being 19 present. While all their articles were not completed the members took some to their homes and will finish them there. This is a deserving cause and we are glad that our women can contribute their part to it.

Public meetings in aid of the P. E. I. Hospital in Charlottetown are being held the one in Murray Harbor on Monday evening the 22nd. inst. Mr. George Clow is the representative in those parts, and no doubt the required amount will be raised, although Allston. May he have a pleasant visit.

A number of our farmers have some of their fall plowing but report that the ground is too dry to make satisfactory progress or results. Those of our farmers who are done (threshing are reporting good yields of grain per acre and the sample is far above the average weight. Corn is a great crop though the amount of land given to it is very slight. It would pay to grow more.

The welcome rain of Monday morning made the land in good condition for potato digging.
Rev Alastair Murray of Caledonia gave a splendid discourse in the Church here last sabbath morning, to a large and appreciative congregation. Mr. Murray will be welcome at any time he can return to conduct the services here. Several of our elderly people who are shut in were pleased with a call from him and appreciated the privilege of a talk in the Gaelic language, so dear to every Highland heart.

Our oyster fishermen who left last week on the season's duty returned Saturday as the season does not open till October 1st. Their services will be utilised in good fashion digging potatoes which are as plentiful in the ground as the oysters will ever be in their beds. M.

Two women were discussing at the Club the sad case of a financier who had failed.
"Poor George!" said the first woman. "Did he accept his failure like a man?"
"Exactly like a man," said the second woman. "He blamed it on his wife's extravagance."
