ENGLISH COAST BECOMES FRONT

Allies Speed Withdrawal From Flanders Front First Of Battle-weary Troops Reach England From History-making Battle—Inflict Heavy Enemy Losses.

FRENCH REAR GUARDS FIGHT WAY TO COAST PARIS, May 30—(AP)—French rear guards of the Allied northern armies were reported late tonight to be fighting their way, step by step, toward the sea after holding off the Germans in Flanders to permit the mass of their comrades to escape.

Canadian Airmen Are Honored For Their Heroic Feats Names of three young Canadians were inscribed on the roll of honor of the new generation of aces that is defending the Empire.

R. A. F. HAS BIGGEST BAG OF WARPLANES LONDON, May 30—(CP)—The Air Ministry announced today the Royal Air Force's largest bag of enemy bombers and fighting craft since the war's start—77 downed Wednesday in fierce air fighting covering the withdrawal of Allied troops from Flanders.

Nation Ready If Hitler's Hordes Attempt Invasion Prepare To Evacuate Children From Fifteen Towns On Southeast Coast.

(By J. F. Sanderson, Canadian Press Staff Writer) LONDON, May 30—(CP Cable)—The vanguard of Allied troops who escaped from the clutches of Hitler's legions in Flanders landed in Britain today while the Admiralty announced that the navy's part of the price paid for their lives was the loss of three destroyers, some small auxiliary craft and one small transport.

ARGENTINE PEOPLE RESENT NAZI ACTION

BUENOS AIRES, May 30—(AP)—Resentful crowds of Argentines surged through the streets of Buenos Aires tonight following a long interview between President Riquelme and the German Ambassador, Edmund Von Thiermann, over the U-boat sinking of the merchant ship Uruguay off the Spanish coast.

Military dispatches said the French troops, under General Jacques Adolphe Prioux, had left their positions along the south wall of the Allied escape corridor and were pushing along the 40-mile road to Dunkerque, where warships and transports are taking aboard the armies of the north.

The Germans attacked across Flanders halfway between Lille and Dunkerque in an effort to cut off the retreat but reports late tonight said the rear guard was squeezing through, anyway.

warfare of the last few weeks. Flying Officer Campbell, the announcement said, on one occasion, while in possession of a group of Blenheim bombers, showed great personal gallantry in leading his squadron to the attack against 40 enemy aircraft.

A few days ago, Angus while on patrol intercepted and shot down in flames a Heinkel III, a bomber. On the same patrol he took part in shooting down a second aircraft of the same type.

On Wednesday 12 Defiants shot down 37 Nazi planes. On morning patrol this night squadron downed 17 fighters and a dive bomber and in the afternoon it added 19 and possibly 21 bombers to its bag.

Observers pointed out that the Allies have bagged more than 100 Nazi planes in one day, but that today was the first time the R.A.F. alone was credited with downing so large a number.

LONDON, May 30—(CP)—The entire southeast coast of England became a front line in effect today as women and children were ordered evacuated and belief was expressed the Government would remove all civilians from the area.

Grimly, Britain prepared for what may come. Should Hitler decide to attempt an invasion, the nation was ready to repel him.

British South of Somme "British troops are operating with the French in the sector south of the Somme," the ministry of information announced.

Argentine officials refused to disclose any details of the interview with the German Ambassador but said "the entire situation brought about by the war" was discussed.

The German air force launched violent bombing attacks against the fleeing Allies and against the R.A.F. at Dunkerque, but was itself suffering heavy losses.

The new "roll of honor"—just a terse bulletin from the Air Ministry—contained the names of 54 officers and men awarded either the D. F. C. or the D. F. M. It reflected the intensified air war.

Italy Goes On With War Preparations ROME, May 30—(CP)—Italy was ahead with implementing its war machine today out east little light on the time it will start operating.

EXPECT EARLY DECISION Home Secretary Sir John Anderson issued a warning that "there is every prospect of early call upon the civil defence." He urged all units to keep "fully manned and in a state of readiness and efficiency."

It did not amplify the remark. There, along territory stained by British blood in the last war, and further east along the Aisne river, General Weygand has assembled the force that guards Paris and threatens the German flank should Hitler decide to hit at Britain.

Complete details of the plan were not given, but it was generally accepted it would cover forces destined for overseas service similar to those called up late in 1916. Prior to that date, all New Zealand forces in the first Great War were composed of volunteers.
