Boy, 13, Shoots Man and Runs

SALEM, Oct. 9.—While walking in the woods off Highland avenue near Barnes road, this morning, Sylvain Moulaison of 50 Rockaway street, Lynn, was shot through the groin with a charge of buckshot fired at close range by a 13-year old boy, the victim claims.

Moulaison, in a weakened condition crawled towards Highland avenue, where his cries were heard by David Murray of 40 Market st. and Joseph B. Hallery of 178 Marlborough street, Lynn, who took him to the Lynn Hospital. He is reported in a serious condition.

The story Moulaison tells the Salem police is that this morning he started for Boston, changed his mind and went for a walk in the Swampscott woods. He started to run for a while and came across the boy, carrying a shotgun and accompanied by a gray-haired dog. The boy, who was also running, turned suddenly and fired. The boy kept on running. Moulaison denied the police that he had ever seen the boy before or that he was acquainted with that section of the woods.

WEATHER DELAYS THRESHING IN WEST
WINNIPEG, Oct. 9.—Further interference with threshing occurred in all three prairie provinces last week due to heavy rains, according to the weekly crop report of the C. P. R. issued today. In some parts of Central Saskatchewan, considerable snowfall was experienced and several days of good drying weather will be necessary before work generally can be resumed. Continuation of excessively wet weather will mean heavy deterioration in the grades. Delays that have been experienced in harvesting and threshing will adversely affect the amount of fall plowing unless freeze up holds off unusually long. Some frost is reported from numerous parts, but additional damage to grain does not seem to be extensive nor serious.

New Order For Nation Organized

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 9.—With a view to fostering patriotic ideals and "a spirit of toleration in economics, politics and religion," 50 Protestants, nearly all members of the Masonic order, and a like number of Catholics, the majority affiliated with the Knights of Columbus, met tonight for formal organization of the Hamilton-Jefferson Association, announced as a "non-secret, non-secretarian and non-partisan" group.

Gathered at a dinner in a local hotel, the charter members, all leading business men of Utica, heard the aims and objects of the organization outlined by leaders in each of the two fraternal bodies, and summed up in the principal address of the evening by Ellhu Root, formerly United States Secretary of State.

Mr. Foot, who became a member of the association only after he had been assured of its non-sectarian character, expressed the belief that by having a membership drawn equally from the Protestant and Catholic faiths, the organization had gone a long way toward ultimate success. The membership list of the organization is limited to 100 men, it was explained at a dinner, of whom half must represent each religious faith to maintain the desired balance. New members will be admitted in pairs, one Protestant and one Catholic. At the monthly meetings of the association subjects will be discussed and acted upon, according to the purposes outlined at the dinner, and the United States Constitution will be held up as "an antidote for the evils of the day."

LA FOLLETTE OFF FOR MONTH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Senator La Follette, independent presidential candidate, who leaves Washington tomorrow night on a month's campaign tour, devoted today entirely to the preparation of the eight speeches he will deliver on the first leg of his journey. Throughout the afternoon he dictated to a stenographer, and after a brief dinner hour respite went back to the task of rounding the addresses into shape.

An announcement issued at the Senator's campaign headquarters in Chester, N. Y., where he will speak Monday night, "with the avowed intention of making an intensive campaign from coast to coast." His itinerary beyond his engagement in St. Louis on the night of Oct. 14 has not been determined but it was said that it probably would be made public by the time Mr. La Follette reaches Chicago Saturday. The Wisconsin Senator will travel in a private car accompanied by his sons Robert M. Jr., and Philip, who are expected to do some rear platform speaking. While the candidate also plans to make a limited number of brief talks from his train, he will devote his main energies to night meetings in designated cities.

ANGRY OVER LASCELLES CHRISTENING
GOLDSBOROUGH, Eng., Oct. 9.—The Lascelles family has courted some unpopularity locally through the mystery and secrecy with which it has surrounded the ceremony of christening Princess Mary's second child, their only object being apparently to totally exclude the public from any part in the ceremony.

Gleanings Here And There

Mr. Duncan Ferguson, Sr. of DeSable, arrived home on Saturday, the fourth from the Prince Edward Island Hospital, where he had been for the past five weeks. Mr. Ferguson had the misfortune of having his right hand very badly cut with a planing machine in his mill. He lost part of three fingers including his right thumb and had a narrow escape from having his whole hand taken off. He speaks highly of the kind treatment given him in the hospital, but is very glad to get home again and his friends welcome him.

Mr. Max MacVittie of Westmoreland, who had his shoulder badly dislocated while pole vaulting in school has also returned from the hospital. His many friends are glad to see him on the way to recovery and hope that he may soon be able to teach his pupils to vault with a pole, but be sure your pole is strong enough lest you may have another shoulder-breaking tumble.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Hicks came by car on Tuesday, the thirteenth from Newburyport, Massachusetts and are visiting Mr. MacWilliams of North Tryon. They planned to return home on Tuesday of this week after having a very delightful visit to this Province.

The special work on the Abolition Bridge, Tryon, which has been undergoing repairs for the past six weeks, was completed early this week. A very creditable job has been done and much needed improvements made. The current of this winding river had turned eastward from its usual course through the bridge and had cut a passage through the eastern approach to the bridge, undermining the earth-work and causing holes to form in the bridge.

A great work of broken stones and clay and mud had to be built out in front of this current and so turn its course to flow through the bridge. To accomplish this men had to work in about two feet of water when the tide was low and thus build up a break-water which would be strong enough to hold back the water and force it through where the bridge-builders intended it to go. About ten men with Mr. James Mullin as foreman, with teams have been engaged on this work and now it is quite strong and safe for travelling on it. Hall's ridge on the Westmoreland stream between Victoria and Crapaud has also received much needed repairs and attention. Wm. Arnet of Crapaud was foreman of this special work and a very satisfactory job has been accomplished.

Mrs. Emily MacNeil of Tryon and Mrs. Sarah MacKenzie purpose leaving early next week for Boston. They will remain for the winter. Mrs. MacNeil is in her eighty-ninth year and spent last winter visiting members of her family in the United States. This lady is quite well and active for her years and many hope to see "Aunt Emily" as she is familiarly known, return in the spring time to oversee her farm home which she has managed well for many years.

There are two vessels at Victoria awaiting cargoes and will begin loading produce in a few days. Capt. Johnson Lord of Victoria has his schooner Karmoe ready to take on of DeSable is ready with his schooner, Edward S. Falt, to do similar work. Those mariners are both well known, reliable traders, having sailed from this port for some time.

Mrs. Christine Wixen of Roslin, Mass., died rather suddenly on Wednesday morning, October the first at the home of her brother, Mr. John J. McLeod of Bonshaw. With her son, Jack she has been visiting relatives in Bonshaw for the past two months. They intended returning to their home in Massachusetts on Monday, the twenty-ninth but postponed their trip home for one week owing to the Charlottetown Exhibition, which they wished to attend. On Monday evening, Mrs. Wixen had been visiting some friends in Bonshaw. That night she became ill and Dr. John Murchison was called to attend her. On Tuesday she grew worse and Dr. A. J. Murchison of Clyde River, was summoned for a consultation. Nothing could be done to prolong life and the deceased passed peacefully away to her reward on Wednesday morning about five o'clock. Death was due to kidney trouble and diabetes. She was a native of Hopdale, near Hunter River and was sixty-three years of age. She is survived by one son, Jack who was with her at the time of her death and three brothers, Mr. John J. McLeod of Bonshaw, Mr. Murdoch McLeod of New Haven and Mr. Malcolm McLeod of the United States. Much sympathy is expressed for the mourners, especially the son who is heart-broken over the sudden death of his mother. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. M. J. MacPherson and interment was in Hartsville beside her kindred. The pallbearers were Messrs. Ernest Crosby, Clark Crosby, Geddie MacLeod, Stirling MacLeod, John Gordon and Harry Cudmore.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. Oct. 9.—Expressing the belief that in the near future there would be discovered a cure for cancer, Dr. W. J. Mayo, head of the famous Rochester clinic, stated that the trouble the specialist encountered was in not getting patients suffering from the disease in its early stages. He stated that a Liverpool surgeon had claimed to have found a lead might work, but a cure for cancer. Dr. Mayo paid a great tribute to Canadian doctors and spoke in glowing terms of the benefits to mankind by the discovery of insulin. He added that he was greatly interested in two young Australian doctors, Drs. Hunter and Rolfe, who landed in San Francisco yesterday. These two men working much on the Banting lines, claim to have a cure for paralysis, or at any rate that type of paralysis that affects young people.

LOYAL TO UNION JACK

BELFAST, Oct. 9.—"That is our flag," said Sir James Craig, Premier of Ulster, pointing to the Union Jack when he returned to Belfast. That sums up his attitude on the boundary question.

The news to-day points to a Government defeat in Parliament at Westminister and a general election the first week in November. Ulster is interested in this outcome to the extent of returning 13 members to the Imperial Parliament. It is understood that Alderman John Nixon will contest North Belfast as an Independent Conservative.

not been very severe and the young child is able to move her limbs, though the right leg and left arm are somewhat affected. Prospects for recovery are quite bright so far.

Mr. Thomas Bell, farmer of Victoria and his young daughter are still confined to their bed with paralysis; also, the young son of Mr. Miner MacNevin of the same place. Mr. MacNevin's son is now ill about seven weeks and while able with difficulty to move arms or legs is unable to sit up yet. Mr. Bell is unable to turn himself in bed, but is slowly recovering. He is a large farmer and his illness in this busy season is a great loss. To show the spirit of real brotherhood, his neighbors gathered and in two days put all his grain in his barns. He has fourteen acres of seed potatoes and some of his neighbors and friends are rallying to his assistance and will help him secure all his crop.

A very successful Rally Day service was held in Hampton Church on the evening of the fifth, when a programme of recitations, scripture readings, singing by Sunday children and others was suitably rendered. The church was well filled with an appreciative audience. Much credit is due those who assisted in the training of the children and showed their interest by attending the practices and giving all possible help.

Potato picking is now the common occupation and pickers are in demand. Adults who are good pickers are getting by high as two dollars per day, while youth not full grown often receive one dollar and a half per day. It is to be hoped the seed potato growers may realize a fair price as they are under considerable expense for seed, fertilizer and work in putting in and taking out their crop as well as shipping. Prices are not likely to be as good as last year. Some predict that they may be between seventy-five and ninety cents per bushel. The crop in most places is proving a very heavy one. There is no danger of famine on P. E. Island. A kind Providence has given attached a cord that caused the good time to boost P. E. I., where can one find better crops? Recent visitors to Charlottetown Exhibition could easily see the high quality of our farm products.

The official photographer for the C. N. R., Mr. Austin, has been visiting this Province during the past week and securing pictures of fox ranches, farm scenery and different views of interest which will Fred Ince of Hampton.

MISS FLORA MACDONALD

She departed this life at Head of Montague, Lot 96, on Sept. 4th, 1924. Flora Macdonald aged 53 years, fourth daughter of the late Donald and Euphemia Macdonald. She was of a remarkably loving, kind and gentle disposition and many can testify of her true Christian virtues. Her patient endurance during her last illness was a beautiful example of the unflinching love of the Good Shepherd to a faithful follower. The funeral was held on the 7th and was very largely attended. The pastor, the Rev. J. A. MacLellan conducted religious services at the house and graveside and gave a very impressive funeral address. Her remains were laid to rest in the family plot at the Valleyfield Cemetery besides loved ones gone before.

MRS. LIZZIE L. PHILPOT

The following clipping is taken from the Boston Post of September 12. Mrs. Lizzie L. Philpot wife of Albert M. Philpot passed away Thursday morning, September 11th, at her home 10 Dell Street, where she had lived for thirty-one years. She had been in poor health for the past four years and though a great sufferer she radiated cheer to the last. She was devoted to her home, and her life was marked by constant thoughtfulness for others. Her bright and happy presence will be greatly missed. Mrs. Philpot was born at Hunter River, Prince Edward Island, August 13, 1866 being a daughter of the late Samuel Siliphent. She is survived by her husband and one son Harry. A short prayer service was held Sunday afternoon at her late home followed by impressive funeral service in the Fillet Street Methodist Church of which she was a member. Rev. Willard Kilmer officiated, and spoke of her unselfish devotion and the comfort and cheer she gave to others. Mrs. Willard, soprano, sang "Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown and in the Garden." The many beautiful floral tributes were expressions of sincere sympathy from many friends. Interment was in Forest Hill Cemetery.

MR. ANGUS DARRACH

It was on the night of August the 25th that Mr. Angus Darrach of New Haven passed on into the fulness of that richer life. For some time he had not been feeling any too well, but he belonged to a rugged race of people so it was thought that he would continue active for many years. But such was not to be. About two weeks before his death a severe attack of, and, McDougall, Argyle Short, and Mrs.

THE CARE OF YOUR CAR.

Already it has been necessary to dig under the seats or in the door pockets for the side curtains. Now is the time to see that the celluloid lights in curtains and back curtains are intact and that all clips and catches are on them and in working condition. The left hand front curtain should have a slit made, so that it is possible for the driver to give a signal when turning corners. This will be found very handy when the side curtains are up. Be sure to have your spare tires in working shape. It is easier to repair them at home than on the road on a wet day. Any holes in the top should be repaired now and doors fitted properly and a general checking of the body interior, for winter comfort.

QUES—What is the correct way to adjust brakes on a car?
B. J., Georgetown.

ANS—Begin by checking up the car leaving both wheels off the ground. Set the brake band at the rear anchor bar so that there is .020 clearance between drum and adjusting band—this first is very important. Release the lower nuts on adjusting post at the front of brake bands so that the lower half of the band is within .020 of the drum, then tighten down on the top nut until the upper half is also .020 from the drum. Then adjust so that both wheels brake with equality. Never adjust brakes by shortening the pulley rods between cross-axles beams and the pedal, only as a last resource. The first thing to do is to see that the pulley levers on the cross-axle brake drum drive tube and back as far as they can possibly go. This is done by lengthening the brake pulley rods to the correct amount, with the pedal back to the floor.

almost before friends knew that he was sick, the end came. He sank without pain. Some years before two children, whom he held dear, had passed away and, as he came to the banks of that river, it was with a heavy heart that he held on the 27th, conducted by his pastor the Rev. Colin MacNevin, and the very large gathering was a silent tribute to the respect in which he was held by all.
