BELGIUM'S HANDICAP

OTTAWA, June 7.—Before Mr. Fielding leaves for England on the Virginia Friday it is probable that trade agreements will be included with Italy, Belgium and the Netherlands, removing the disadvantages under which the trade of these countries with Canada has been placed by the Free-Trade Canadian treaty. The chief difficulty confronting Belgium is the fact that the goods of France and the twelve "most favored nations" enjoying immediate tariff rates, must be shipped direct to Canada. Antwerp hitherto has enjoyed a profitable transshipping trade. This disadvantage will be corrected. Belgium's tariff policy has been most friendly to Canada. Official details of the prospective agreement are still withheld.

LAWN TENNIS

HORSE NOTE

Daniel McDonald, Clyde River, was in Charlottetown yesterday completing the sale of his carriage mare which he has sold to Mr. Foster, a horse buyer from Nova Scotia, realizing a splendid figure. The mare is five years old and is a thoroughbred carriage mare, beautiful in appearance, stylish in action and with all necessary speed for carriage purposes. Mr. McDonald, who bred this mare, is to be congratulated on the splendid manner in which he has raised and developed this handsome animal. She is being shipped to Nova Scotia by her new owner this morning.

IM MEMORIAM

Entered into rest at her home at South Shore, May 29th, 1910, in the 44th year of her age, Harriet Laidler, beloved wife of George Corvett and daughter of the late Edmund Laidler, Nine Mile Creek. Mrs. Corvett was in the best of health until three weeks ago, when she was attacked with bronchial pneumonia, which proved fatal. She being of a kind and sympathetic nature, always cheerful, will be greatly missed, especially in her home, where she loved to be. Her remains were laid to rest in the churchyard of the Presbyterian Church, of which she was a member, for twenty five years. She leaves to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother, five daughters, namely: Silas, of the Hillsboro, Bridgeville; Josiah, at home; George, settled nearby; Martha J., Mrs. Thomas Morrow, St. Catharines, Lot 65; Celestine, Mrs. Dan McPhee, South Shore; Emma, Mrs. Dan Taylor, Nine Mile Creek; Harriet S., and Ruth J., at home; besides a large circle of friends, to whom all extend sincere sympathy in their sad bereavement. The funeral, which took place on the 31st, was largely attended. The pall-bearers were Edward Foley, James Taylor, James Hagen, Thomas Murphy, Hector McLean, John McMillan. Yes soon our worn and weary feet will reach the golden strand where those we love are longing wait. A few more days, a few more years, by storm and tempest, driven thro' faith in Jesus' precious blood, we all shall meet in Heaven.

CANE WAS FULL OF STOLEN SOVEREIGNS

LONDON, June 4.—Sir Robert Anderson, formerly head of the criminal investigation department at Scotland Yard, in his reminiscences tells the following story: A genius claimed to have discovered the secret of making gold and he offered to sell it to a great city firm—a house whose name is in high repute not only in England, but in all the capitals of Europe. By means of a process which he had discovered the bulk of any quantity of gold could be increased by one-half at trifling expense. "His dupes accepted his terms, subject to his giving proof of the value of his discovery, and to test it they proposed to supply him with 100 sovereigns and the needed plant.

Profits Staring the Farmer Through Fertilizer

The superiority of these unmixed fertilizers will be well known in a few months hence—the increasing demand for these fertilizers will tell the tale and the farmers with foresight enough to benefit will be a lasting advertisement for them.

You've only got yourself to please, but since you are at all planning don't you think it would sound sensible to supply the land with the lacking elements of plant foods and enormously increase your crops from the same amount of seed sown, it's only a matter of a little business foresight in farming.

A Profitable Investment

Men in all kinds of business have to step aside for 20th Century ideas, and those who persistently stick to antiquated ideas will have to step "down and out". It's the same in farming—the agricultural business needs just as much brain energy as any other line, and you've only to look through the farmer with the 20th Century ideas to see a good "fat bank account."

Let these unmixed fertilizers make money for you. Send your name and address and we'll mail you some real instructive literature giving pointers to farmers—send today, it's absolutely free.

AULD BROS Lower Queen Street Charlottetown.

He 'thought scorn' of working on such a petty sum as that; it would be waste of time, for the process was a tedious one. "Finally it was arranged that he should have $100,000 in sovereigns and a house was taken in Leman Street, Whitechapel, and there a laboratory was fitted up for his use. The gold was piled in tanks provided for the purpose; the needed chemicals were supplied and the experiment proceeded with elaborate precautions against larceny or fraud. "The man was emphatic in insisting on two points, no one but himself was to enter the laboratory and he was to be rigorously searched every time he passed out. After many weeks during which his visits were frequent he disappeared and when eventually the floor was forced the tanks which had contained the gold were empty and the bottles which contained the chemicals were full. What had become of the $100,000? "The fullest inquiry only served to elicit proof that the man had been searched with exemplary care at every visit. "The mystery would have remained forever unsolved if the criminal had not himself supplied the solution to it. In sheer bravado and pride in his achievement he wrote to the firm he had swindled, telling them of his appreciation of the money and of his confidence that they would rather lose twice as much than incur ridicule on every exchange in Europe by a prosecution which would disclose their folly. "And then he revealed his method. Every time he left the laboratory the gold-headed cane he carried was packed with sovereigns."

PRISON LABOR WILL BUILD ROADS

TORONTO, June 4.—Prison labor will build the colonization road from Matheson to Porepine. Arrangements have been made so that the work can begin on Monday under the direction of the Department of Public Works. R. P. Fairbairn, Deputy Minister of Public Works, leaves on Saturday night for the North. At North Bay a guard and three prisoners from the jail there will be taken on. At Matheson there will be collected about twenty prisoners, twenty "trusties" from the various jails and lockups in the North, and the work will begin. "The man will be housed in construction camps provided by the Public Works Department. The prisoners will be subject to the same discipline as that in force on the new prison farm at Guelph.
