Banks is very well known both in his home district and in Charlottetown where he attended Prince of Wales College.

—LEARN'S HUSBAND IS PRISONER—Mrs. Nora Williams of Misouche received a telegram Saturday from Ottawa notifying her that her husband Sigmund Thomas Brinsley Williams previously reported missing is now a prisoner of war in Germany. One of the events that will be eagerly looked forward to will be the concert party on Wednesday staged by Captain Alvin Murray of those old favorites "In the Dumbells" and boxing fans will be treated on Friday evening to a fine boxing card in which many members from the armed forces will take part. The Summerside girls band rendered a most enjoyable evening and from every indication a swell week's fun is in store for all.

—CHILD RESCUED FROM LOG—Quick thinking and prompt action on the part of Mr. Lucas B. Allen, a well-known Summerside business man, and former member of the Provincial Legislature resulted in saving the life of Reggie Elliott, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott, North Bedouque. Mr. Allen was returning in his car with members of his family from their cottage at Staver's. Some days ago when near Winton bridge they saw a child afloat in the channel on an object of some kind. Mr. Allen hastened to the north shore of the river and there met the little boy's father, who made it plain that he had been there for some time and was unable to do anything but watch the child in the water. Mr. Allen immediately jumped into the water and swam to the log. He was exhausted and had to be taken to the Prince County Hospital but he has since been discharged.

225,000 Canadian Motorists To Be Affected by Cut

OTTAWA, Sept. 28—(CP)—Reduction in the gasoline ration of some 225,000 Canadian motorists will begin this week when regional oil control offices mail the first notices to motorists who are to be placed in the new "AA" rationing category.

It may be late in the month before the re-categorization is complete but officials emphasize that the hopes any motorists may have of using their present "A" licences to obtain more gasoline before their ration is scaled down are futile.

Under the "AA" ration, owners of small cars will receive 16 units for the six months ending March 31, 1943, compared with the 60 units a year to which they were entitled under the "A" category.

Oil controller G. R. Cottrill has ruled that owners of small cars in the "A-1" group must have at least 16 coupons in their present books when they are turned in. There are fewer than 16 the number less will be removed from the new "AA" book before it is sent out. On the same basis owners of larger cars in the "A-2" group must have 18 units. "A-3" drivers must have 20 units.

Any motorist who uses all his original "A" coupons will be unable to buy gasoline until the new ration licences are issued next April 1.

In general the reduction applies to those who use a car for personal transportation and in driving to their homes or to non-essential factories. No hard and fast rule has been laid down and workers in war plants who drive other employees to work may be eligible to retain an "A" licence if there is no public transportation available.

Since the announcement of the Munitions Minister Howie Sept. 18 outlining the plan to institute the "AA" licence, a careful study has been under way of all "A" licence holders and it is on this information that letters ordering reductions are to be sent out.

Motorists who use their cars for business purposes and who have been reduced to an "A" category are not likely to be affected.

The letters calling for reductions, first of which will be mailed Oct. 1, will require the licence holder to mail or present his ration book to the nearest regional office within one week. Motorists who mail their books will receive a new one within about 48 hours while an immediate transfer will be made of books which are presented personally.
