KILLED WOULD-BE ROBBER; HID BODY

Shot One Of Men Who Attacked Him, Then Became Afraid

NEW YORK, March 2.—In a desperate battle with four men who attempted to rob him as he was about to close his saloon in East Twenty-Fourth Street, early to-day, Thomas Craven shot one of the robbers and put the others to flight. Then fearing the killing might mean a long term of imprisonment for him Craven concealed the body of the dead robber in a hallway outside the saloon and hurried to his home without notifying the police.

When the officers took him into custody, less than an hour later, he at first denied all knowledge of the killing, but finally made his full statement. The three men who escaped from the saloon after their companion had been killed also are under arrest. The man who was killed was known only as "Scar" Reilly. Those who were later arrested gave their names as John Kenny, Frank Reilly and Albert Dodson.

Reilly is said to have been the leader of the gang known to the police as "The forty thieves," the members of which are believed to have been responsible for much crime on the East Side.

ANOTHER UNION OF GREAT CHURCHES

American Episcopal and Eastern Orthodox May Merge; Organization Perfect—As Result Of Trip To Russia And The East

NEW YORK, March 2.—Closely following the announcement some days ago of an organization of high ecclesiastics of the Roman Catholic and Episcopal, or Anglican, churches in America, having for its purpose the union of the church of Rome and the Anglican Church, comes news of the formation of a similar organization of other high ecclesiastics of the Anglican Church in America, and of the Russian and Greek Orthodox churches, to work for the unity of the American Episcopal, Russian Orthodox and Greek Orthodox Churches.

The first organization of the Anglican and Eastern Orthodox Union in this country was perfected at an enthusiastic meeting held this afternoon at the parish house of the Transfiguration and attended by many well known Episcopal and Greek Catholic churchmen and laymen, and has, it is understood, the entire sympathy of Bishop Potter and other high church officials, and is said to be the culmination of a movement which originated in the house of the Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church. It follows closely upon the return to this country of the Rev. Dr. Charles C. Gratton, Bishop of Fond du Lac, Wis., who made an extended trip through Russia and the East, carrying the greetings and kindly expressions of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America. The church at large, which is not advised of the deliberations of the House of Bishops, has always understood that Bishop Gratton was sent abroad to learn the attitude of the Eastern Orthodox churches toward closer union with the Protestant Episcopal or Anglican Church. Since Bishop Gratton's return he had made it plain that his reception from the high officials of the Russian and Greek Catholic churches was most cordial, and that their sentiment was in favor of closer union.

VAUDEVILLE WITH A CAPITAL V AT FAIRYLAND

Two Big Distinct Acts By Mr. Lynch And Miss Hunter—Three Reels of Pictures And Three Songs

At Fairyland last night the performance by the two vaudeville artists was received with round after round of applause. Mr. Lynch, the world's most sensational upside down swinging wire artist and ladder balancer, is certainly a wonder. Miss Eloida Hunter lyric soprano, who sings High C, as easily as middle C, also made a great hit. She does a single singing specialty of ten minutes. These two will again present distinct and separate acts tonight.

CRUSHING DEFEAT OF THE N. BRUNSWICK GOVERNMENT

THIS NEW DISEASE CAUSED BY AUTOS

Physician Discovers that Gasoline Fumes Foster Germs which Decay Throat

NEW YORK, March 2.—The gasoline driven automobile has added a new disease to the woes of civilization—a disease which may cut ten years of the life of the persons afflicted. I would call it "automobile disease" and have discovered that not only in New York, in streets frequented by such motor cars, but in Paris, London and Berlin, it also exists.

"About a year ago," Dr. Becker said, "a man whom I later found to be a member of the traffic squad stationed on 5th avenue at a point where the gasoline fumes from the cars often choked him, came to me complaining of chronic sore throat. His case baffled me. Examinations showed it was no ordinary disease and I conducted an investigation. I found that one week after the blue coat had been transferred to a district not haunted by motor cars he got well.

PATHOS AND PEPPER MADE THEM WEEP

PORT JARVIS, N.Y., March 2.—Armed with blow pipes and red pepper, boys in various parts in the loft of the opera house broke up for a time a performance of "A Fatal Mistake." The house was packed with an audience which had come to see if the play was as good as the lithographs which have adorned the fences and store windows for the past two weeks. As the hero was telling the prosecuted heroine how easy it would be for them to live on bread and water if she should get the bread, and the woman in the audience wren trying to stifle the sobs, the spice was wafted from above. When the pepper began to circulate there wasn't a dry eye or nose in the house. The actors in the touching scene accepted this as a tribute to their act. Then a man in one of the orchestra seats opened up the sneezeiest with a kerchief that tore his collar from its fastenings. Everybody had been trying to hold back and it only took one to start it. In about seven seconds the whole lower floor was indulging in all kinds of nasal music. A dozen women last their rats out of their hair in the contest and one stout lady released a wnooze which sent the buttons off the back of her waist rolling around the floor. "Go on, girl, your story interests me strangely," shouted the hero trying to save the scene. He got no farther for he sneezed out the kerosene footlights. The heroine gave him a receipt for it and the other members of the company joined the grand chorus. Manager Kadel says if it takes his curtain to denounce the miscreants responsible for the disaster and sneeze so hard he blew his derby off. Between sneezes he begged the orchestra to play an overture, but the musicians were too busy blowing their own horns. Then he called the police to investigate and the coppers arrived in time to show they were not immune from the effects of red pepper. It was half an hour before the actors were allowed to proceed and every now and then the sneezing would break out afresh in different parts of the house. Manager Madel says if it takes his whole season's profits he'll find out who did the trick. He is inclined to think that the laundry trust was back of it.

MOROCCAN QUESTION DEBATED

Face To Face With Necessity Of Sending Large Army Says One Speaker

PARIS, March.—Reports of numerous recent severe battles in Morocco, which have been printed in the newspapers here, with the accompanying rumors that Gen'd'Amade's army is really in serious straits through reverses at the hands of tribesmen, led to a lengthy discussion of the Moroccan question in the senate which finally adopted a vote of confidence in the government's course. Senator Caudin de Villaine contended that the recent marauding attacks upon the French troops at close quarters indicated that the government should increase the army and end the intolerable situation in Morocco. "You are face to face," he said, "with the dilemma of evacuating Morocco or despatching an army of 100,000 troops to that country. While we are debating, Spain is taking all she pleases on the coast, and one day Great Britain will take Tangier." Comte de Trevenenc favored a wider action on the part of the government. Gen. Picquart, the minister of war, responded at some length. He denounced as false the sensational reports which were coming out of Morocco and claimed that Gen. d'Amade was succeeding in his mission, which always must be carried out in accordance with the delicate restrictions of the Algeiras Act. The general situation, he said, in Morocco is excellent.

The Legislature met yesterday afternoon, when the debate on the address was continued by Hon. Mr. Clark and Mr. Mathieson. The address then went into committee of the whole House for consideration, and at 6 p.m. adjournment was made for 10 this morning.

THE RUNNING OF AUTOMOBILES

Discussed At A largely Attended Meeting Held Last Night

A very largely attended meeting was held last night in the Board of Trade Rooms to consider the automobile question. Citizens of every class were present, the merchants being well represented. Premier Hazard and many of the members of the Legislature were present. F H Beer was appointed to the chair.

The restriction of the running of automobiles was debated, Revs Fullerton Sinclair and Stratia spoke as a delegation from the Presbytery, and asked that the motors be not run on Sundays, many people staying away from church from fear of encountering the motors. A number of speakers charged that the autos were an injury to the trade of the City. The owners of cars present and some others argued contra. At the close of a long discussion, resolution was passed, recommending that legislation be procured to prohibit automobiles using the roads on market days and on the Lord's and to otherwise regulate their operation in this Province.

KING LEOPOLD ASKS $660,000

Sir Edward Grey's Speech in British Commons Causes Deep Impression.

BRUSSELS, Mar. 2.—The recent debate in the British House of Commons and the speech of Sir Edward Grey, relative to the Congo situation, has caused a deep impression in political circles here. The difference between King Leopold and the Belgian Parliament still continues over the question of the annexation of the Congo Independent State. It is reported King Leopold now demands a civil list of $660,000 from the Congo and the various parties are showing signs of impatience. It is even considered probable that the Belgian Parliament will abandon the Congo Free State altogether unless a prompt decision is reached.

SOLOMON'S SONG MADE INTO PLAY

Will Be Staged—Text Will Be Taken From Bible—Three Principal Characters And Chorus Will Take Part

LONDON, March 1.—A novel, not to say daring, experiment is about to be attempted by a stage production of Solomon's "Song of Songs," the greatest love poem ever written. A number of actors and actresses will present it at Queen's Gate Hall, London, under the auspices of the English Drama Society. Nugent Monk, the originator of the scheme, considers "The Song of Songs" originally a dramatic poem if not strictly a stage drama. "I believe," he said, "it only needs the names of characters to make it a play and this is all I intend to do."

Mr. Monk, in arranging the Biblical book for the stage, has endeavored to treat it exclusively as an eastern love poem, without accentuating the mystic interpretation given it by various commentators. The text to be used is from the revised version of the Bible, the work being divided into chorus representing the daughters of Jerusalem and the three principal characters, King Solomon being attired in gold and white and the Shulamite in the second part of the play, in the seven veils of brilliant colors used by Oriental dancers. There will be some incidental music taken from traditional Hebrew melodies, but only three fragments of the text will be sung, the rest being given in the usual poetic diction.
