Give the Children

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" whenever the head aches, the stomach gets upset, or Constipation troubles them. Little folk may take them every day in the year without fear of ill-effects. It's just like giving them ripe apples, oranges, figs and prunes. That's what

Fruit-a-tives

or Fruit Liver Tablets

are. The fruit juices are so combined by our secret process, that the medicinal action is intensified many degrees. Nothing like them to keep the children plump and rosy—and free of the stomach and bowel troubles of childhood.

Equally effective with grown folk. 50 cents a box.

WHEN TEACHERS GO A-VISITING.

There's a knock! The air has seemed full of knocks for days. The fiat has gone forth that teachers must "visit," and to the faint-hearted the thud of snow off the roof, the adjustment of feet on the floor, the percussion of elbows on desks, the very punctuating of pencils have all been horribly suggestive.

And now there really is a knock, and after a feeble attempt at a bland smile, and a furtive, appealing glance at Johnny, who has risen in the back seat the better to be informed of the outcome or rather the income of the knock, the door is opened.

"Do you want to see visitors?"

"Why certainly, come right in," this in no spirit of untruth, but with an heroic effort to fulfil the law of love

And they come in, and sit down. If they only stood one would gain courage from the hope that they would soon—But it one will think naughty things, better never, never to give them utterance.

They sit down, always sit down, there is an unnatural quiescence of all physical activities save those of seeing and hearing. These are abnormally alert, that is the purport of their visit, the ostensible, authorized purport, to see and hear.

And then Maria is called upon to read. If Maria only knew the odds at stake! But she doesn't, neither does she care, moreover, being unaccustomed to performing before visitors she becomes nervous, and her vocal inflections fail to emphasize thought most hopelessly; and just as in reply to inquiry the method in vogue is being explained to be the "look-and-say" one, Maria comes to a standstill, nor does she resume her recital without the serious omission of "words," which calamity is accompanied by the dread assurance that no such lapses shall escape detection on the part of the visitors, who are of the "corresponding grade," and perfectly familiar with the classic contents of the reader.

Of course Maria has been properly taught, but like every one else she has to learn and forget and then learn again so many times before she really knows. If the visitors had only come at a time when she happened to remember!

And then an exhibition of language is asked for, and Tommy is called upon to describe in his best manner a rabbit. Now a fortnight ago Tommy did describe a rabbit with considerable enthusiasm and scientific accuracy, but there have been other "nature" lessons since then which have tended to confuse somewhat Tommy's ideas, the result being the description of a quadruped that always chews its food four times before swallowing it, that sleeps with its tail over its head, that leaps high in the air owing to the unusual length of its front legs, and whose eyes more straight up and down in its head in a bright light.

The visitors now rise to leave, just pausing for a moment to glance at the writing, that art which has baffled alike genius and pedagogue. They scrutinize pages eagerly in search of perfectly formed letters and crown-strokes that maintain an unerring rectitude, and express the hope that "in time" the children will make good writers, while there looms up the distracting vision of moments spent on that wonderful muscular art which in its initial stages sweeps along sublimely indifferent to the intricacies of form.

And when the visitors have gone and the children muffled and mittened and are scampering homeward, a head sinks on the desk with a suggestion of moist eyes and a tinge of pallor, and burdened with the consciousness that nothing fails like failure. And then the door opens, and Tommy returns in search of his school bag, and being struck with an unusual attitude queries, "Please, what's the matter?"—at which juvenile interrogation thought, as is happily its wont, springs up elastic in honest quest of what it is that is the matter, and there comes the conviction, the divinely consoling conviction, with just a happy suggestion of the ludicrous, that it is all vanity, vulnerable vanity, the cup-ball which furnishes childish sport for the pin pricks of fickle fortune, and by the time Tommy has strapped up his school-bag, and is prepared for his second exit, the answer awaits him, "Nothing's the matter, Tommy, I was just a bit lazy."

IS YOUR CATARRH REMEDY CURING YOU

If You Are Unconsciously Using An Alcoholic Liquid Remedy Stop At Once.

People soon learn that the true test of a catarrh remedy is whether it cures to stay cured. Have you ever inquired why a liquid catarrh remedy makes you feel better for a time? It is because the alcohol in the liquid remedy makes the mucous membrances drunk. It deprives them of sensation, it inspires false hopes and always leads to alcoholic deceits. A permanent cure by any liquid dyspepsia or catarrh remedy is simply impossible. The alcohol used in liquid preparations makes it almost a travesty to call them remedies. They incite the worst forms of catarrhal trouble rather than cure such troubles. Can a physician be found who will truthfully say that any liquid catarrh remedy is worthy of use? Every physician knows that it is an absurdity for anyone to claim that catarrh, dyspepsia or any form of blood disease can be cured by a so-called liquid catarrh cure. In this connection it is wise to consider carefully the best means for relief. Smith's Triple Cure, that grand old remedy, consisting of four separate preparations, three of which are in tablet form, and used internally and another in the form of a catarrh cream, contains no alcohol and never leads to false hopes. It makes you feel better the first day, and each day following is but a repetition of the first day's experience. It restores the mucous membranes in every part of the body. It positively cures catarrh, dyspepsia and all blood diseases. If you have long been a slave to a liquid catarrh remedy, break away from the habit. Use Smith's Triple Cure, and health, abundant, full and complete, will be yours. Four separate preparations, lasting a full two weeks for 50 cents, the greatest value for the money ever offered. If your druggist won't supply you, send us 25 two-cent stamps by mail today and we will send it, postpaid and guarantee safe delivery. Address W. F. Smith Co., 185 St. James St., Montreal.

Don't Let Chronic Bronchitis Run into Consumption.

It may unless you cure it now. The inflammation in the bronchial tubes may extend to the lungs. The hacking cough of bronchitis keeps the membranes of throat and lungs irritated. Weak cough mixtures and lozenges won't do, because they don't reach the diseased tissues.

CHESTER'S CURE

cures Bronchitis because it permeates every part of the bronchial tubes and lungs. It cures by inhalation. Simply ignite the herbs—breathe in the smoke. This vapor reaches the affected spot—heals the inflammation—stops the cough—and completely cures you of Bronchitis.

50c and $1. If your druggist is "out" of it, write the Canadian agents,

REASON No 6

WHY YOU SHOULD USE

Red Rose Tea

Because of the care in Selection and Blending.

My agents in the east are expert tea tasters, and every lot of tea that is sent down from the Gardens has to pass their inspection. They take samples from the chests and carefully taste them, then if the tea is fully up to the Red Rose standard, it is accepted and shipped; if not it is rejected.

The most important test of all, however, is when the tea arrives here, as during the passage through the Red Sea, the very great heat often affects the Tea very seriously. Immediately on arrival, samples are taken from each lot and subjected to the most rigid tests, and only those teas which have retained all their original flavor and strength are used for Red Rose (the balance is jobbed off in bulk).

When blended and ready to be put into sealed packages, it is tested again just to make sure no mistake has been made in the blending; nothing is left to chance.

Will you test us by ordering a package?
