RUINS FALL.—A portion of the walls of the Cathedral ruins fell Sunday afternoon, with a loud crash.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.—Without the usual parade St. Patrick's Day passed off quietly in Charlottetown. The "Dear Little Shamrock," however was much in evidence.

FUNERAL TODAY.—The funeral of the late W. W. Forbes, Longworth Ave., whose death was referred to yesterday, takes place this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. Z. L. Pash and the pall bearers will be Messrs John Mahar, Archibald McLean, Norman McLeod, Robert VanDerstine, Horace McEwen and A. W. Sterns.

JOHN McDONALD.—Harmony lost one of its most respected citizens in the person of John D. McDonald who passed to his reward on February 28th being ill a few months. The deceased was a prominent farmer and was worthy of being called one of the most honourable and respected citizens of that community and it is safe to say as for honesty his equals were few, as he was a man that was true, leading to error. He leaves to mourn their loss two sons and three daughters—H. H. McDonald in New Hampshire, George at home, Belle, Mrs. Professor McDonald, out West, and Perpetua in Boston and Mary T. at home.

(From Yesterday's Evening Guardian)
POLICE COURT.—There were no cases before the Charlottetown Police Court today.

HARKINS AS PANAMA.—Under date of Feb. 23, W. S. Harkins, who is well known in Charlottetown, writes that he was then in Colon, and would play in Panama City next. He was doing a big business and reported all well. The Harkins Company is the first dramatic company that ever appeared in the canal zone.

BOSTON, March 12.—The Canadian brand of hockey now being served up to metropolitan fans in New York is too tame for Boston consumption. Managers Lougee and Norfolk, of the Arena, returned from New York today after witnessing two contests between the Wanderers, of Montreal, and Ottawa. The purpose of their visit was to arrange for a series here with the Wanderers, opposed to Quebec or Ottawa. After witnessing both New York matches the Boston magnates declared that the Canadians appeared to regard the trip as a sort of vacation. In the games they did not over exert themselves, in fact, their play was too gentle and lady-like, too much so for Boston fans, who admire rugged hockey, with no illegal roughness, New Glasgow, N. S., and some other Canadian combination will be scheduled instead.

PLAN OF SEATS.—The plan of seats for the Chimes of Normandy will open on Thursday 20th inst at 2 p. m. for Monday night's performance and Tuesday morning at 10 a. m. for Tuesday night. All should bring in their coupons as there is going to be a big rush.

OLD ZION CHURCH.—Yesterday the old Zion Church was the scene of much activity, workmen being busily engaged getting the Church ready for the Catholic congregation to worship in next Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, when a Tenebrae service will be held. A beautiful altar has been secured from Mr. Creamer of Souris whose artistic work is known all over Canada, while the Vestments have been donated by the Sisters of the Congregation of Montreal. The Church will be thoroughly equipped so that full services may be carried on and although the congregation cannot all worship at one time as formerly, ample provisions will be made for all. Next Sunday there will be five Masses at 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 a. m.

BOATING CLUB.—For some years past a growing interest has been taken in boating in Charlottetown and last summer a great many new boats made their appearance in the harbor. Several citizens, headed by that untiring worker, C. L. Grant, are contemplating the organization of a new and up-to-date boating club for Charlottetown during the coming summer. In Providence show window is given some idea of how the boating club has grown in Halifax from a picture of the North Arm of the Harbor. Thirty years ago there wasn't a pleasure boat in the harbor and now it is understood there are some three thousand. Every one should join those interested and make the Charlottetown Club the best club yet.

A CORRECT SCORE.—The item which appeared in the issue of the 15th regarding the hockey match between the "Comets" of Charlottetown and the "Pioneers" of St. Peter's was erroneous. It gave the score as 8-5 in favor of the Comets, when it should have been 2-7, as announced by the umpires the night of the game. The St. Peter's boys claim that justly it should have been a tie as the goal shot by Davison was from an offside play, which was noticed by members of the team and spectators beside, but went unnoticed by the referee. They did not put up a kick that night as they wished to use the strangers courteously. Now however, in view of the fact that a false statement was given by those strangers, they wish the truth known.

A GRADUATE.—Her many friends will be pleased to learn that Miss Jennie Gates, daughter of Mr. B. Frank Gates, "Mayfield Mills," has recently passed a very creditable examination as trained nurse from Mount Sinai Hospital. The New York State Education Department has published her examination rating as follows:—Practical examination 99 p. c. Medical nursing and nursing children 95. Obstet. Nursing 96. Materia Medica 93. and Diet Cooking 98. This is indeed a good showing in all subjects and must be a source of gratification to her grandfather Mr. John H. Gates, with whom she resided previous to going to New York. Immediately on her graduation her services were called for and bespeaks a successful career for Miss Jennie in her chosen profession.

GOT HIS OWN BACK.

At a homoeopathic convention a doctor told a story about a brother specialist who is an authority on the stomach.
"Blank," he said, "was traveling in the Wild and Woolly West, where they are all great jokers. At a country club a jovial-looking stranger accosted Blank and said:
"Dr. Blank, I believe?"
"Yes, sir; thank you."
"The great Dr. Blank?"
"Well, sir—I will yes. I have been called—by that name."
"The Dr. Blank who treats stomachs?"
"Precisely, sir."
"Then, Dr. Blank, as it's the luncheon hour and our table d'hote is excellent, I wish you'd treat mine" said the joker.
"Dr. Blank's veins run rich with generous sporting blood, and he treated the stranger—an amiable Western millionaire, as it turned out—to luncheon. But he got his revenge. Later on in the afternoon he approached a group of men, with a roll of small bills in his hand.
"Has anybody here," he asked "got ten dollars?"
"The Western joker promptly produced a ten-dollar note and handed it to Blank. Blank thanked him, thrust the note in his pocket, and turned away.
"Look here," said the Westerner. "What did you want that bill for?"
"What did I want it for?" asked Blank, mildly. "Why for treating your stomach, of course. It's my usual fee."

BAD COMPANY.

An old agricultural laborer, who was spending a day in one of our large northern towns, enjoyed himself so much that he decided to stay until the last train. Not knowing the time of its departure, he made his way to the station to make inquiries.
Seeing a group of porters on the platform, he approached them and asked what time the last train left for Kickleby.
"The wag of the party informed him that the last train left just before the Judgment Day."
"Well, then," said the old man, "I had no travel by that train on no account."
"Why not?" asked the porter.
"Wal, yer see, it's this way," replied the old man. "That train may be a bit late, and I had no like to be seen hanging about along—the officials of this railway company when the last trump blows."

THAT TRYING TELEPHONE.

Several evenings ago a young man repaired to a telephone office and rang up his sweetheart at her residence.
"Is that you?"
"Yes, George, dear," came the reply.
"Are you alone?"
"Yes, darling."
"I wish I was there."
"I wish so too."
"If I were there, do you know what I would do with my darling?"
"No, George, I do not."
And then, somehow, the lines got mixed, and this is what she heard:—
"Well I'd pull her ears back till she opened her mouth, and then I'd put a lump of mud in it. If that didn't answer, I'd give her a sound thrashing."
And then Marion fainted.
Now they never speak as they pass by, and the man, who was talking to his farrier, about a horse says that anybody who will advise a man to put his arms around the neck of an obstreperous mare and whisper words of love in its ears ought to be hung to the nearest lamp-post.
