CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE

"Girl Trouble," New Hit At Capitol, Summerside

Moviegoers were given a barrel full of laughs last night at the Capitol Theatre, where 20th Century-Fox's new romantic comedy "Girl Trouble" starring Joan Bennett and Don Ameche, made a jocular attempt to uncover a cinema solution to the very unjocular rubber shortage.

A short funeral service at Bonness Parlors was conducted by Reverend Mr. Carmichael of the Presbyterian Church and the service at the grave was under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. Thomas Caruthers, Noble Grand and Allan Wedlock, Chaplain. The pallbearers were Geo. Hoger, Elmer Moore, E. K. Cameron, G. H. Phillips, George McVie, G. F. Cameron. Interment in the I. O. O. F. plot in the People's Cemetery. -S.

CHARLOTTETOWN CIVILIAN DEFENCE COMMITTEE MEET - Fuller co-operation from the general public is needed if the A.R.F. organization in the city is to function efficiently, was the conclusion reached by the Charlottetown Civilian Defence Committee at their meeting last night. One item on the agenda was the revision of regulations as to what is to be done in the event of a blackout. This was the case of the driver of a motor car which was stopped when requested but drove in from the St. Peter's Road and through the city with lights on. Coun. J. E. Stern, supervisor of police read a list of names of reported violators who are to appear before the Magistrate this morning. Fire Chief Angus McEachern, reporting from the fire services, stated that nothing connected with that phase of the work was in a satisfactory condition. Mr. R. R. Hurst, Chief Warden in his report stated that he was proud of the work of the wardens but he was very much disappointed at the behaviour of the public in general. The A.R.F. personnel gives its time to this work and expects more courteous response from the general public. Those present at last night's meeting, which was presided over by Mayor Holman, included Coun. J. E. Stern, Fire Chief Angus McEachern, J. A. R. A. Messervy, Stanley Matheson, Coun. J. T. MacKie, Col. R. C. Chandler, R. R. Hurst, J. B. Brow, Fred Driscoll, F. Semler, F. Roper, and I. Y. Reddin.

Working War Shows A Fine Example - Fidele Gallant, 65-year-old workman at odd jobs about Summerside, dropped in on Mr. H. T. Holman of R. T. Holman, Ltd. following the Summerside public sale of war bonds. He wanted some advice. He proceeded to pull out of his pockets $1, $5 and $10 bills, mostly wrinkled and crinkled ones, and finally when he had finished there lay $500 in hard earned cash he had saved over a long period. The advice he wanted of Mr. Holman was whether he thought it advisable to put the money into a war bond. On being assured by Mr. Holman that the money would be 100 per cent safe in the government's hands, he decided he would add another $500 which he had on deposit with R. T. Holman Ltd., and make it a $1,000 bond. Mr. Holman asked if he had any more money. The answer was in the negative. Mr. Holman then suggested he might need part of his earnings to live on. He promptly assured Mr. Holman he could get along without any of his savings, and insisted the whole $1,000 be put into a bond. Mr. Gallant can neither read nor write. -Summerside Publicity Committee. -S.
