I. O. D. E. COMPETITION—Each year, among its many educational activities, the I. O. D. E. promotes a Dominion-wide contest in English Composition for the public school pupils of the capital city of each province. The object of these competitions is to keep alive the memory of Sarah Maxwell, principal of Hochelaga School, Montreal, who heroically gave her life in an effort to rescue her small charges from death by fire. This composition work may take the form of an essay or play and invariably has as its theme some outstanding Canadian historical topic. The subject this year was "The Cabots." The results of this year's effort have just been announced and first prize for this city has been won by Miss Muriel Cozier, a pupil of Grade VII, West Kent School. Miss Cozier's play has been forwarded to Toronto, where it will be judged in competition with the work of other Canadian pupils for Dominion honors. Mr. J. P. Gordon, chairman of the committee that judged the plays, declared Miss Cozier's composition to be outstandingly good. Second place was awarded to Errol MacKinnon and third went to Drummond Cobb, both pupils of Grade VIII, West Kent School. Incidentally Drummond Cobb secured first place a year ago for a very excellent play, based on the discoveries of Jacques Cartier.

Crop Prospects Bright In U.S.

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) ST. PAUL, April 25.—Smiles replaced despair in three states severely stricken by drought a year ago as crop statisticians today counted in the billions of dollars benefits from recent continued rains which fell in territory dust-baited a year ago.

Statisticians in Minnesota and the Dakotas agreed that crop prospects were the best in years and that, with normal rainfall through the growing season, early rains which assured crops a good start will put millions in the pockets of northwest farmers. The weather bureau predicts more rain for tonight and Friday.

Canadian Legion Monthly Meeting

Col. H. D. Johnson, M.D. who answered the call of the Riel Rebellion, the South African war and the Great War was honored by his comrades of the Charlottetown Branch Canadian Legion last night, when he was presented with a cane.

"Dr. Johnson has proven himself a player of the game since the days back in 1885 when he was quarterback on McGill's football team and starred as a McGill hockey player," W. S. Hughes, M.M., the Provincial President of the Legion said in presenting the cane.

The honored guest of the evening was Lieutenant-General Sir Richard Turner, V.C., D.S.O., K.C.B., K.C.M.G., who has been in the province for several days hearing appeals in the Dominion case. Sir Richard, a past Dominion President of the Legion, was given a warm reception by Prince Edward Island comrades.

Delegates were appointed for the next Provincial Convention: Major T. E. McNutt, Major E. C. Chandler, and J. S. Walker. Alternative delegates were: W. J. McDonald, J. P. Hillion and A. B. Cosh.

A communication was read from Mr. H. R. Stewart, Deputy Provincial Secretary, extending an invitation to all ex-service men to attend the parade at Victoria Park on May 6th. The Charlottetown Branch also extends an invitation to all ex-service men to parade with them, whether they are members of the Legion or not.

ATTITUDE

will promise not to carry on agitation or propaganda aimed to violate territorial integrity by force—namely, Austria's territorial integrity.

Germany's mistingings as to the proposed Danubian pact were answered by the Italian Government early last month. It is understood here that the Reich now is satisfied with Italy's assurances on three other points, as follows:

1—Berlin demanded to know why Great Britain and Switzerland are not mentioned as signatories. Rome replied that Switzerland, as a neutral, juridically cannot enter the mutual assistance pact envisaged in the Franco-Italian accord of Jan. 7. Great Britain will not commit herself before the Locarno Treaty.

2—Berlin wanted to know if the Anglo-French-Italian consultative accord for protection of Austria in case she is threatened by arms, would continue after signing of the Danubian Pact. Rome replied that this agreement would be terminated if all the interested nations, including Germany, signed the non-interference treaty.

3—Finally, Berlin asked what would be the role of the League of Nations in the event the Danubian Pact goes into effect. Rome replied simply that the League's role is defined under its covenant.

German interest is evident over the possibility that Austria might appeal for military support in case she considers her territory threatened, and whether in this case such support would constitute interference.

Six of the nine interested powers now are understood to have agreed in principle to the pact. Poland and Hungary are believed to approve of the treaty "in principle," Germany's ultimate decision remains uncertain.

ANNUAL MEDICAL CLASSIC

the community, financial and insurance interests. Chiefly its function would be to collect data which would be available to the Dominion and provincial administrators when they came to formulate policies dealing with those matters.

Several members of the conference were in agreement with the Dominion minister in the matter of a royal commission. Dr. Weir, however, was lukewarm. British Columbians did not like royal commissions, he said.

Cancer Cited

The conference returned time and again to the matter of educating the public in health matters. Cancer was cited as the disease demanding the most urgent attention. It was terrifying, said Premier MacMillan, to reflect that in spite of everything cancer was steadily beating all efforts to stem its progress.

Members of the conference agreed that medical research should be the Dominion responsibility, but that all educational features should be co-ordinated and executed by the provinces. The manner in which this should be carried out was widely canvassed. Mr. Hoadley expressed the best method was the multiplication of free clinics, where people could and should go for examination and advice. There was a general agreement on that point.

Dr. Ulrich expressed surprise when Dr. Warwick said vaccination was compulsory in New Brunswick. "It is so in Ontario also," said Dr. Faulkner.

"How do you do it?" asked the Saskatchewan minister.

"We simply notify parents their children can not attend school unless they have been vaccinated," said Dr. Faulkner. "There are, of course, conscientious objectors who keep their children away, but after a few weeks the truant officers set after them, and that solves the situation."

Premier J. P. MacMillan of Prince Edward Island expressed the vital interest of that province in matters of public health.

Prince Edward Island would gladly cooperate with the Dominion. It was a terrifying thought that cancer was steadily defeating all efforts to control it, that all that could be told a sufferer was that if he had subjected himself to physical examination earlier he would have been in better condition.

I.O.D.E. Monthly Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the I.O.D.E. was held in the Library room, Summerside, on Wednesday afternoon, Miss Hunt, Regent, presiding.

An interesting feature was the first of a series of papers on "Empire Study." Mrs. Kelly read "New Zealand and was very instructive and gave an interesting account of the customs of the country, its inhabitants, customs, scenery and climate. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Kelly for her very informative paper.

A report of the milk fund was received and other routine business attended to.

There was some discussion on a suitable celebration by the Order for His Majesty's Jubilee, which was left in the hands of a committee.

Meeting adjourned. S.

the point of being "gypped" in high-handed manner by Canadian power barons and their prototypes in the United States had "Mitch" Hepburn not intervened in a fashion judged to be impetuous by the St. James Street financiers."

The Lapointe report in the opinion of Mr. Bouchard, was incomplete and did not set out the disadvantageous position in which consumers found themselves. For instance, he said, the commission had not remarked upon the disparity of rates as between Quebec and Ontario. "Despite what a few so-called experts state," the speaker alleged, "I say that the cost of electrical production here is much lower than elsewhere and yet our rates, rather than the lowest, are in most cases the highest."

Attempt To Free Condemned Slayer Fails

DEDHAM, Mass., April 25.—Mary Goodman and Harry Miller, sister and brother of Murton and Irving Miller, condemned machinegun slayers, pleaded not guilty to a plot to free Irving when arraigned in Dedham district court today.

Mrs. Goodman and Miller were charged with conspiring to attempt to rescue their brother and with being accessories before the fact of the attempted rescue. Ball was set at $2,500 each.

Edward Fry pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiracy and was remanded to jail to await sentence. Fry was captured a few hours after he climbed a jail wall and fired a shotgun through the window of the Dedham Jail pit where the Miller brothers and Abe Faber were awaiting execution for the machinegun slaying of policeman Forbes McLeod, native of Guysboro, N. S., during a Needham bank robbery.

SPECTACULAR RISE IN SILVER PRICE

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, April 25.—Foreign silver and hoarders of silver were thrilled today by one of the most striking advances in the price of the metal which world markets have witnessed in over a half a century.

The race between the United States Treasury's price to domestic mines and the world price became swifter. Following last night's announcement of an increase of 6.46 cents in the treasury price to 77.57 cents an ounce, the world price in the New York bullion market rose 5.3-8 cents to 77 cents, and later isolated dealings were reported at 77 1/4.

At 77 cents, foreign bar silver for commercial use was at the highest level in New York since the fall end of the post-war inflation, which carried it up to $137 in 1920.

Silver dealings in Wall Street have been restricted since the nationalization of speculative stocks last August at 50.01 cents an ounce and the imposition of a tax of 2 1/2 per cent on speculative profits. But the free silver markets in London, Montreal and the far east boomed. Orders poured into the London market from the Continent of Europe, from India, China and Africa, and the price shot up 2 1/2 pence to 34 7/8 pence an ounce, equal to 75.27 cents in New York. The Montreal futures market, 80 cents an ounce was bid for December delivery.

Fervish speculation in shares of silver mines developed in New York, Toronto, Salt Lake, San Francisco—in virtually every market where they were traded.

The heavy dealings in non-ferrous metal stocks in New York lifted transactions on the New York Stock Exchange to the largest volume since February. The turnover of 1,693,070 shares was, in fact, the second largest of the year, exceeded only by the volume the day the Supreme Court's gold decision was announced.

No Lack Of Jobs

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, April 25.—Hamilton Weeks, Jr., has decided there is no lack of jobs for anyone willing to work and not too particular about wages. Advertising for "healthful outdoor work" and offering to accept $10 a month and keep, he has received 290 replies so far.

He was chosen for the next annual convention of the Provincial Grand Lodge.
