THE FORUM DANCE

Decorated for a brilliant carnival, as it were, the interior of the Forum presents a scene extreme in the loveliness.

Encouraged by the gigantic success of the opening dance held at the Forum, the management have worked diligently to make to-night's affair one never to be forgotten.

GROVE FAILS IN RECORD ATTEMPT

Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove, ace of the Athletics, saw his hopes of hanging up a record for consecutive victories in the American League blasted yesterday by the batsmen of the St. Louis Browns.

Grove allowed seven hits, while Coffman conceded a bare three. The defeat of the Athletics now leaves Grove sharing the record with Smokey Joe Wood, of the Boston Red Sox, and Walter Johnson, of the Washington Senators, who both went for 18 straight wins in 1912 before a period was put to their efforts.

The total of the Athletics' fireball master is, nevertheless, more brilliant than that of the other two. The batters are hitting the ball harder today. The ball itself is faster and lends itself more to slider and longer clotting.

The present ball has made the pitchers' battles largely a thing of the past. The character of the game has become more of a show than a matter of speed and skill.

As a result, the odds are against rather than with the pitcher in comparison with other years. The streak of victories that Lefty Grove accomplished is, therefore, more impressive than the similar ones of Wood and Johnson.

When Babe Ruth hit his 600th home run at St. Louis, he was anxious to get the ball, which hit a motor car outside the park. "I'd give a $10 bill and a new ball to get that old one back." He said this to a little Italian boy, Tony, who was beside him. Tony arrived before long with the old ball, collected the $10 and the new ball from Babe Ruth.

AMHERST, N. S., August 26—Edna Kyo was driven into a new track record by Killey Keyes this afternoon, setting a mark of 2:13 for the best time even shown around the Amherst Driving Park. The previous record of 2:15 was held by Peter Stratton in the 2:14 trot and pace for the Merchants of Amherst Stake. The Kyo mare won in straight heats, but was given a brave battle by Captain Mac, driven by Johnnie Conroy and Grandma with Tom Holmes up. Every heat ended in a blanket finish. The results follow.

INITIAL STEP SEES PROVINCE IN AVIATION IN FORTUNATE OF PROVINCE CONDITIONS

The initial step in the History of Aviation on the Island, took place Monday when the first planes landed at the "Upton Airport" which has been made possible through the enterprise and initiative of Col. J. S. Jenkins. The first planes to land at the new airport were, the British Consol's Picairn Autogiro flown by Capt. Godfrey Dean and the three De Havilland Moth planes flown by G. M. Ross, manager of Trans Canadian Air Pageant, Harry O'Leary and H. S. Jones respectively all of whom are connected with the pageant and who will take part in the aerial display here next week.

Yesterday for the first time a Prince Edward Island bride and her husband were showered with confetti dropped from the skies by the four planes to which reference was made. Equipped with a siren, one of the planes attracted a great deal of attention. Swooping, diving and flying low, these planes provided thrills for the many on-lookers. The Autogiro was of special interest, having the power to rise and fall vertically. This machine is the largest size that so far has been built and it may be noted that the W. C. MacDonald Inc., the well known tobacco manufacturers of the British Consols cigarettes, was established by a Prince Edward Islander, the late Sir W. C. MacDonald.

NEW GOVT.

scribed as absolutely untrue and there is further official denial of the story that the Federal Reserve Bank of the United States had attempted to determine the policy of the British Government.

All controversial legislation now before Parliament will be suspended. The new Government proposes to concentrate on the supreme task of restoring credit and in that task it is stated in government circles there can be no faltering.

After several hours deliberation the general council of the Trades Union Congress of the National Executive of the Labor Party and the consulting committee of the Parliamentary Labor party tonight unanimously decided that the new Government should be vigorously opposed in the Parliament and by the Labor movement throughout the country. They expressed their approval of the action taken by certain Ministers of the late Government in declining to tender their support to the new administration and recommended that the Parliamentary Labor Party constitute itself the official Parliamentary opposition. King George left for Balmoral tonight to resume his interrupted holiday in Scotland. Prime Minister MacDonald hopes to return to Lissimouth tomorrow.

Former Islander, Here On Vacation, Predicts Increased Population and Development—Cites Serious Business Conditions In U. S.

A welcome visitor to the Province this week is Mr. James E. Aitken, of Toledo, Ohio. Mr. Aitken, who is visiting his mother, Mrs. George W. Aitken, Lower Montague, and friends and relatives in the city, is owner of a series of wholesale radio stores in Toledo, Detroit, Cleveland and Dayton, and is president of the National Federated Radio Trade Association. He is planning to stay in his native Province about three weeks, and hopes to meet many old friends and acquaintances as well as immediate relatives.

The depression in the industrial centres of the United States is felt very keenly at the present time, Mr. Aitken states. Unemployment conditions are bad, and there is little expectation of any improvement during the coming winter.

As chairman last winter of the Mayor's Welfare Relief Committee in Toledo, Mr. Aitken came directly in touch with the unemployment situation. A great many people had to be supplied with direct relief and it is estimated at the present time there are upwards of 15,000 unemployed among Toledo's 300,000 population.

The civic authorities in every industrial centre throughout the country are making great efforts to cope with the situation, which is also being met by private charities, community chests, etc., all co-operating for a common purpose.

Fortunately the crops are very good this year. This, Mr. Aitken states, is the one bright spot on the horizon at the present time.

It cost Toledo last year nearly $800,000 for poor relief—about one-sixth of the city's annual budget. Of particular concern to many thinking people in the United States, he says, is the banking situation. After the War many of the smaller banks loaned large sums on farm lands and real estate. When the slump came in land values, these banks naturally felt the pinch. The slump in real estate also has had an unfavorable reaction on commercial business, and this has further affected banking interests.

The favorable condition, economically of Prince Edward Island was commented upon enthusiastically by Mr. Aitken, who believes that we are in for an era of increased population and development in this Province. Our young men and women no longer tempted to go abroad for a livelihood, will learn the advantage of staying at home and earning substantial success in their native Island.

Use Of Benzol Prohibited In Ont. Factories

(Canadian Press) TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 26—Use of benzol in Ontario factories was today prohibited in order issued by Hon. Dr. J. D. Monteith, Provincial Minister of Public Works and Labor. "This use of benzol has been proven to the Department to be injurious to the health of individuals. That fact has been demonstrated on the evidence of chemists who have investigated and the Labor Department has prohibited the use of benzol," said Dr. Monteith.

dividuality." Speaking for himself, he added: "At the moment I have changed none of my beliefs and none of my ideals. I see that it is said I have no Labor credentials for what I am doing. Be that as it may, I have the credentials of an even higher authority. My credentials are those of National duty, as I conceive it and I obey them irrespective of the consequences."

Country Before Party

When the life of the new government is finished, the work of the House of Commons and the general political situation will return to where they were last week, the Prime Minister said, and then made indirect reference to his own political future: "And those who have taken risks will either receive punishment or reward."

Comparing the financial situation to "an attack of appendicitis," Mr. Macdonald asserted: "There is no danger whatever if the treatment is given, but it must be immediate." It was not his wish to indulge in economics, but in the circumstances he believed the only satisfactory programme would be increased taxation on one hand and increased savings on the other.

The unemployed portion of the population should bear a part of the sacrifices necessary to balance the budget and establish the country's credit, declared the Prime Minister, because the collapse of the pound sterling would be a more severe blow to the unemployed than to the wealthy.

Listening to Ghost Stories

"Foreigners who had been in our financial trust, have listened to ghost stories in a gloomy atmosphere and have become rather nervous," said Mr. Macdonald.

"It is not true to suggest that foreign countries are deliberately trying to harm us. Nothing could be further from the truth. They know that the consequences of financial troubles in this country would be serious, not only for ourselves, but for the whole world. They have helped us greatly, and they are anxious and ready to help us more.

"But they need to be reassured about our position. "It is no good saying they ought not to be anxious. The very important point is that they are anxious and their anxiety has faced the government with a financial situation which is like an attack of appendicitis, and cannot be trifled with but must have immediate treatment.

No Danger If Treatment is Given

"There is no danger whatever if the treatment is given, but it must be immediate. It cannot be trifled with. It is essential that the confidence of the world in our credit should be restored. Otherwise, we shall not be able to maintain the value of the pound sterling, and the results of this should be carefully considered.

"First of all, if there were any collapse in the pound we should be defaulting on our obligations to the rest of the world and our credit would be gone. This would be fatal, since this country, above all others, depends upon the maintenance of its credit, having to buy, as we do, so much of our food and raw materials from abroad.

President of the Board of Trade—Sir Phillip Cunliffe-Lister, president of the Board of Trade twice previously.

President of the Board of Trade—Sir Donald MacLean, veteran associate of Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George in the Liberal party.

Minister of Labor—Sir Henry Betterton, member of the House of Commons since 1918, specialist on labor problems.

First Commissioner of Works—Lord Londonderry, who held the same post in the cabinet from October, 1928, to June, 1929.

Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster—Lord Lothian, former secretary to Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George.

Secretary of State for Air—Lord Amulree, who held the same post in the Labor Government just closed.

First Lord of the Admiralty—Austen Chamberlain, holder of many previous cabinet posts.

Secretary of State for Scotland—Sir Archibald Sinclair, long active in the Conservative party; veteran of the South African war and of the Great War.

greatest medium of world trade and the basis of the money of many other countries. Thus, the commerce and well being not only of the British Nation but of a large part of the civilized world has been built and rests upon the confidence in the pound sterling, and if that confidence is destroyed it means dislocation of world trade, from which everyone and most of all the working people of this country, will suffer.

"Further, if the value of the pound were to fall suddenly and catastrophically, not by plan as some people suggest but without plan, by the force of the economic crisis, without control, prices would rise much faster than wages, and incomes could not be adjusted, even if adjustment were possible
