WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Wednesday evening April 9th about sixty friends and relatives assembled to celebrate the fifty first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Affleck at their home in Searleway. Many beautiful gifts bore testimony to the esteem in which the worthy couple are held and the address given below was read by Mr. J. B. McMicken after which the guests were served with a bounteous supper. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Affleck.

Greetings
Your many friends and relatives in this community cannot permit this occasion to pass without in some slight manner giving expression to our feelings.

This evening it is our most pleasant task and privilege to extend warmest felicitations on this the fifty-first anniversary of your union in the halls of matrimony. During this long period, which it is the privilege of few to enjoy, you have, no doubt, had your trials and sorrows as well as your joys, but in true Christian spirit have borne them together. Of few it can be said you have lived continuously in this community and seen the many changes which the progress of time has brought about from the moment when you first took up your abode here, with a small area of land, until the present where it is quite the reverse, all due to your hard labor.

The union has been blessed with five children, one daughter and four sons, all of whom Almighty God in his goodness has seen fit to preserve until this time, and who, with one exception have the distinguishing pleasure
