

Morenz Retains Dazzling Speed

Ten Seasons In Big League Company Fails To Burn Out The Skating Power Of The "Stratford Streak"

Following is the fourth of a series of six articles dealing with the players chosen by 32 hockey writers in National Hockey League cities for a mythical Canadian Press all-star team.

MONTREAL, Que., Mar. 3. — (By the Canadian Press) — Ten seasons of dazzling speed in National Hockey League competition have failed to burn out the skating power of Howie Morenz, chosen for a second successive time on the Canadian Press all-star N. H. squad. Despite a falling-off in scoring strength, the centre-attack star for Montreal Canadiens named by all but three of thirty-two balloting sports writers in the League's scoring lists, which he topped last season, is still the pivot man for the world champions. He has lost none of the color that brings heart-throbs to the screaming fans who jump to their feet when he starts his swerving, zig-zag rushes. Today Morenz's record for this season shows only three more goals than assists — testimony to his unselfishness and skill.

Far more than last season, when he was named by every writer writing in the Canadian Press all-star consensus, Morenz is watching his man. His newly developed back-checking style, adopted slightly to the detriment of his offensive strength, has actually strengthened Canadiens for the play-off grind in the offing. Though hockey critics have been forecasting for almost a decade that Morenz' speed was too great to last, the 165-pound centre-ice wizard is but 29 years old. He was born in Mitchell, Ont. At 14, he broke into hockey in Stratford as a goal-tender; he abandoned the position when he allowed more goals in his first game than he could score in half a dozen.

RANGERS 2 FALCONS 1

DETROIT, Mich., March 3. — A long home winning streak of the Detroit Falcons ended here tonight when the New York Rangers downed the Detroit team 2 to 1 in a dazzling National League hockey match.

Doug Brennan, Ranger wing man, scored late in the first period and Art Somers scored the second Ranger goal midway in the second session. Detroit's lone goal came in the final session when Danny Cox beat John Ross Roach.

Before he was 20, Howie had won the sobriquet of the "Stratford Streak" and earned a centre-position contract from Leo Dandurand of Canadiens. Since he has merged easily into the dazzling ensemble of the "Flying Frenchmen" and played on three world-title teams—in 1924, 1930 and 1931. And he has a good chance of being a member of a championship crew for the third successive year.

The Canadiens' comet attends strictly to his hockey when the game is in progress and has earned a name for clean playing. The penalty records show only a few forwards—Joe Primeau of Toronto, Jimmy Ward of Montreal, and Dit Clapper of Boston—who are in on as many goals as Morenz and have received as few penalties. Married man and a proud father, Howie is one of the most solid of the idols Canadian hockey has set up for the inspiration of the country's youth.

Jr. Game At Moncton Tonight

MONCTON, N. B., March 3. (By the Canadian Press)—The sudden-death match scheduled for here tonight between Antigonish Juniors and Silver Foxes of Charlottetown was postponed until tomorrow night as a result of weather that kept the Charlottetown team stormbound on the island. The game is for the junior hockey championship of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. The winners will meet Bathurst, N. B., for the Maritime title.

Predicts Big Deficit

OTTAWA, Ont., March 3.—(By the Canadian Press)—Canada may be forced to impose a capital levy "to wipe out its incubus of debt," W. D. Euler, former Minister of National Revenue, told the House of Commons today. Federal and provincial debts aggregated five billions. The Dominion this year, he predicted would record a deficit between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000 without considering Canadian National Railway accounts.

CURLING DALHOUSIE 2 RAMBLERS 0

TORONTO, Ont., March 3. — (By the Canadian Press) — Manitoba and Alberta will play off tonight for the Dominion Curling Championship and the MacDonald Trophy. The strong westerners earned hard-won decisions in the and series tied for first place.

Manitoba downed New Brunswick by a two-shot margin 12-10 while Alberta emerged from a see-saw battle with Northern Ontario victor by the same score.

Defeat of Nova Scotia by Quebec was one of the upsets of the day. Peter Lyrall's rink scored a three-shot victory over the Bluebonnet crew, 12-9. In the fourth game, Saskatchewan showed a reversal of form to trim Southern Ontario 13-2.

FOLK LORE OF NOVA SCOTIA

TORONTO, Ont., March 3. — (By the Canadian Press) — A book on the Folk-lore of Nova Scotia has been published by Mary L. Fraser, a member of the teaching order of the Congregation of Notre Dame, of Montreal for a number of years, where she is known as Sister St. Thomas, Principal of the Thomas D'Arcy McGee High School for Girls. The book was accepted by Fordham University as part of the requirements for the doctorate degree.

Nova Scotia, because of its history, has a rich collection of folk-lore; the early Miemac Indians, the Acadian French, the Highland Scotch, the Irish, the English, all have made in their respective settlements of this province of Canada, interesting contributions to the folk-lore. A descendant of two such well-known Highland Scotch Donalds, the author has written about the experiences she has acquired of "second sight," "three-runners" and other Celtic characteristic tales of those early settlers in her own native province of Nova Scotia.

INDO-CHINA OPEN TO GOSPEL

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 2. — (By the Canadian Press) — A stirring address on the progress of Christianity in French Indo-China since 1912, when it was introduced there, was told by Mrs. D. T. Jeffrey, daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Jonathan Goforth, at a meeting of the Mission of Lepers.

When first she went with her husband to French Indo-China, 12 years ago, Mrs. Jeffrey said, its doors were closed to the Gospel, now there are 10,000 Christians, 160 meeting places and 80 evangelists throughout the land. People in this country scarcely realize the sacrifice it entails to accept Christ in countries where there is much ancestor worship, and where so many of these ancestors are of royal lineage, Mrs. Jeffrey said.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

BY "TEC." WILL ARRIVE TODAY

Truro Bearcats, stormstayed at Borden last night, are due to arrive in this city on the Borden train this morning, and tonight the postponed Abbie-Cat tussle will be staged at the Forum.

Plenty has been said and columns have been written about the colorful and cagey Truro aggregation, therefore further comment is unnecessary other than to remark in passing that last year's Maritime champions are coming here intact and fans may expect a great hockey fixture.

ARMISTICE CANUCKS 2 MAROONS 1

FORUM, MONTREAL, March 3. — (By the Canadian Press) — The Kennedy trophy, emblematic of the Professional Hockey Championship of Montreal, was retained by the colorful Canadiens for another year when they beat the Maroons 2-1 in a National Hockey League game here tonight.

Larochelle put the world's champions ahead in the second when he swung at Pit Lepine's pass and beat Walsh handily. In the last period Joliat came trickily down the right side of the ice and fired a shot at the defence as he cut across their front. Johnny Gagnon came in fast, split through the defence and rammed home the rebound.

George Hainsworth, who played a sensational game otherwise in the Canadiens nets, was beaten by his own gymnastics. In the third period George spread his legs wide with the Maroons shooting at him from inside the defence. In a heroic effort to cover both sides of the cage George was caught with his knees open and Jimmy Ward sniped a goal neatly, directing a perfect shot between the goalie's knees as he made a gallant effort to draw himself vertical.

The champions took four wins this season over their bitter rivals. The Maroons won two encounters and the other was tied. The two teams meet once more in the schedule.

Ultimately, Dr. Yen said, the Japanese demanded that the Chinese first withdraw and asserted that they themselves would retire when the Chinese evacuation had been completed.

"Naturally," the Chinese spokesman said, "no measure taken in relation either to Shanghai or Manchuria which encroaches on China's sovereign rights, or is contrary to the general principles of international law, or to her existing treaty obligations to third parties, can be regarded as a settlement.

Ambassador Matsudaira asserted it would be unwise to reopen discussion of the Manchurian question "which has been fully looked after and in which there is no danger of rupture in sight." Chinese nationalism, taking the shape of anti-foreignism, has produced the present conflict, the Japanese representative asserted. The boycott was one of the manifestations of anti-Japanese policies in the Shanghai area, he continued, and it was supported by the Kuomintang (Chinese Nationalist party).

A Chinese newspaper, M. Matsudaira said, published an insult to the Emperor and Japanese priests were attacked by a Chinese band in a Shanghai suburb, one of them dying from his injuries. "The shock of these events naturally inflamed the long pent-up indignation of the Japanese residents and sent intense fear and excitement to their minds," he said. This tension, the Japanese spokesman charged, was increased by hostile preparations by the Chinese 10th route army and Chinese plainclothes soldiers, and when bombs were thrown at Japanese in Shanghai the whole foreign population was plunged in panic. Under such circumstances, M. Matsudaira continued, the Japanese Government had to take offensive measures and sent troops to Shanghai. He said when these offensive operations were begun the Chinese spread propaganda that they had been victorious, thus injuring the honor and prestige of the Japanese forces.

Miss Agnes MacPhail, Canada's only woman member of Parliament caused a mild flurry when she announced she would support the salary reduction against her personal convictions. While I am opposed to the policy I will support it and in making that statement I am being distressingly honest." Farmers of Grey County, Miss MacPhail said, had watched their incomes dropping 60 to 70 percent and, while she thought they were wrong from an economic viewpoint, they would expect her to vote for salary reductions for civil servants.

A graded tax on all incomes in excess of $150 a month, the proceeds to be used to relieve unemployment, was suggested by Humphrey Mitchell, Labor, Hamilton East.

The majority of speakers during the day rose from the Opposition side. Many of them suggested a graded salary reduction would be more suitable than the horizontal slash proposed by the Government. W. D. Euler, Miss MacPhail, Peter Veniot, former Postmaster General and others were of this opinion. Objections were voiced also at exempting judges, Lieutenant Governors, Royal Canadian Mounted Police and officers of the army and navy from the salary reduction.

On the other hand, Thomas A. Thompson, Cons., Lanark, called the proposal "the most popular policy ever introduced by this government." Dr. Peter McGibbon, Cons., Muskoka, challenged any member of the Opposition to come to his riding and argue against the salary

CONNY SMYTHE KEEPS WORD

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 3. — Toronto Mall and Empire today says: "With the announcement of the Canadian Press all-star hockey teams, the Maple Leaf Hockey Club is $3,000 poorer. It appears that when Conny Smythe last summer signed Harvey Jackson and Charley Conacher for two and three years, respectively, he stipulated that if either player was selected on the alternate all-star team he would give them a bonus of $1,000 and an additional $1,000 if he was picked on the all-star team.

Jackson by being selected on the all-star team gets $2,000 bonus while Conacher, by being picked on the alternate team gets $1,000."

Mount A Wins Hoop Championship

FREDERICTON, N. B., March 3. (By the Canadian Press)—Winning the final game 21 to 13 and the two game series by a total score of 45 to 38, Mount Allison University took to Sackville, N. B., the intercollegiate basketball championship of New Brunswick, following their match here tonight with University of New Brunswick. Mount Allison will play the champions of Nova Scotia for the Maritime title.

The game was fast throughout, particularly towards the close of play, when Fredericton vainly tried to overcome a lead gained early in the match and retained until the end, except for a moment in the first half when the score was tied.

Austen, small right forward for Mount Allison, was high scorer with eight points. Two other Mt. A. men were in second place with six points each.

An Outsider Wins Handicap

CHELTENHAM, Eng., March 3. — (Canadian Press Cable) — Supporters of R. E. More's eight-year-old jumper "Quite Calm," a lowly entrant for Grand National honors, were cheered when "Quite Calm" won the National Hunt Handicap steeplechase over a four mile course here today.

"Quite Calm," carrying 145 pounds and starting at odds of 10 to one against, won in a canter by five lengths over the Marguis De San Miguel's "The Ace," second, carrying 154 pounds, and starting at eight to one. W. Parnson's Forbra, 160 pounds, ran seven to one, was third. Fourteen ran.

PIERCED EARS A THING OF THE PAST

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 2. — (By the Canadian Press) — Mrs. M. Salmon of this city writes to the press saying: "I have gone into dozens of shops looking for earrings for pierced ears and the only place I could find them was in a pawn shop. I am now 63 years of age and well remember, as a little girl of three years, staying near Lennoxville, Quebec, when an old Indian came around with earrings. I wanted them and grandma said if I would let him pierce my ears she would buy the rings for me. So I did and grandma paid $3 for the ear-rings.

"I believe that if more people had pierced ears they would have better sight. Look at the Indians—they all have pierced ears. My mother was 81 when she died and she only used glasses when reading or sewing and I am the same.

Mrs. A. Robinson of Richmond Hill writes that 40 years ago, when she was a young girl, her ears were pierced by a jeweller as a cure for inflamed eyes. M. Moon of York Mills tells of her sister having her ears pierced in England, in the belief that her general health would benefit. She was promised a pair of gold ear-rings, too.

She tried, without success, to pierce her own ears. "There is a place in the lobe of the ears which is very thin, and I hardly felt a pain, so it's not a painful operation, though it sounds like it." But it should be done, if ever, with a sterilized needle in the hands of a doctor.

Breach Widens Between Premiers

CANBERRA, Australia, March 3. — (Canadian Press Cable) — "The words describing your action are unsuitable for governmental communication," said Prime Minister Joseph Lyons today in reply to a statement of Premier J. T. Lang of New South Wales on Feb. 23 that "Melbourne interests are seeking to cripple New South Wales."

The breach between the Prime Minister, who went into office at the head of the United party two months ago, and the Extremist Labor Premier of New South Wales was widened when the State Government defaulted interest payments due overseas on Feb. 1. The Commonwealth has paid the amount and the Government has just secured passage of drastic legislation enabling the Commonwealth to seize the revenue or bank deposits of any State defaulting debt payments.

"You admitted the liability to pay $458,000 towards New South Wales' debt," the Prime Minister said in his letter to Premier Lang. "You promised to do so. Now you refuse to pay anything. In addition you obtained $243,000 from the Commonwealth specifically for payment of interest.

"You did not use it for this purpose yet you refuse to repay it. Everyone appreciating honorable and honest dealings must condemn you."
