Rotarians View Interesting Film

The main part of the programme at the Rotary luncheon held at the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday, was a film presented by Mr. Jim McConnell, chairman of the boys work committee. This film, which was made by Mr. George Walters during the summer, depicted camp life at the Y.M.C.A. camp at Holland Cove when Rotarians and Kinsmen played host to a group of underprivileged children for a week's outing. The movie depicted a boy entering camp and meeting his fellow campers, and following them through their sports and instructional activities as well as the many other phases of camp life and routine.

During the luncheon, Mr. Jim Montgomery, chairman of the Rotary auction, announced details of the coming auction to be held early in December. President Edwin Johnstone also made a presentation to Mr. Roy Cudmore, who was recently married. Mr. Wally Scantlebury presided as chairman during the function.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Canadian Congress Of Labour Meets

TORONTO, Oct. 6 —Membership of the Canadian Congress of Labour now totals approximately 360,000, it was reported today to delegates to the seventh annual convention of the Congress.

C.C.L. activities were reviewed in a report of the executive council presented to the convention by secretary-treasurer Pat Conroy. The report outlined policies adopted by the Council and representations made to the government during the past year.

"The Council feels that the Government should immediately reintroduce price control, as the theory advanced by the Government that prices would 'level off' if price controls were removed has been disproved by the experience of the nation in the past six months," the report said.

Figures on organizing activity showed four new Labour councils and 58 local unions chartered during the year. The Congress now comprises six Provincial Federations of Labour, 32 Labour Councils, 31 national and international affiliated unions with 785 local unions, and 205 directly chartered local unions.

Russian Says U. S. Has Made Greece Into Military Base

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Oct. 6 — (CP) — Russia's Andrei Vishinsky today spurned the United States compromise move on the Greek-Balkan question and declared the only solution was for United States and British influences to withdraw immediately from Greece, which he said had been transformed "into a military base of the United States of America."

Vishinsky placed the entire blame for Greece's trouble on intervention of the British and American Governments.

Charges that Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia had aided Greek guerrillas were "unjust and artificial," he declared, and all guilt and responsibility rested with the Greek Government over which the United States had gained full control.

Vishinsky's violent outburst came after Australia's Herbert V. Evatt had chided Russia for refusing to recognize in debate "the great and unselfish record in war and peace of the United Kingdom and the United States."

Canada's J.L. Ilsley got the floor in the political committee soon after Vishinsky's long speech. He said his country would support the American resolution on the Greek-Balkan crisis in any event but hoped the Balkan countries would accept it with the French amendment which would leave out the clause fixing the guilt of Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

Other Developments

Other U.N. developments today:

1. Iraq's Foreign Minister, Fahdil Jamali, accused Zionists of using Nazi methods in attempts to penetrate the Middle East and attacked the United States for intervention in Palestine, Panama and Uruguay told the committee they supported the idea of partitioning the Holy Land to establish a Jewish state there.

2. Yugoslavia attacked the Marshall plan for economic aid to Europe, which Slav countries rejected, as an attempt to extend the "Truman doctrine" throughout Europe. Canada's Walter Tucker gave the Marshall plan his country's blessing and said if non-cooperation of groups of members made it impossible to work through the United Nations this and similar plans would have to be carried out independently of the U.N.

3. Sir John Boyd Orr, director general of the Food and Agriculture Organization, told the economic committee that more people would die in the next 12 months as a result of food shortages in Europe and Asia than were killed in fighting or bombings in any year of the World War.

4. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt told the Social Committee that the American press "on the whole is free" and that a "controlled press" was like an egg — if part of it was bad it was all bad. She opposed the Russian resolution laying down for the world's press a campaign against Fascism and warmongers.

Baptist Men Plan Visitation Of Congregation

The Charlottetown Baptist Men's Association held its first meeting of the season last evening when a representative gathering of the men of the church sat down to supper in the church hall. The vice-president, Mr. R. J. Rupert presided.

The pastor, Rev. J. D. Davison spoke of the need of fellowship and the reaching out to those who had signified their desire to make this their church home. Mr. Davison stressed the need of a visitation of the members and adherents of the church and suggested that this very necessary project be undertaken by the men of the Association early in November.

The Association unanimously decided to undertake the work and it was left with the executive to set up a special committee to arrange for the visitation.

Breakdown Delays Work At Local Packing Plant

Only about 75 hogs were slaughtered at the strike-bound Charlottetown Canada Packers plant yesterday owing to the break-down of some of the machinery shortly after operations had begun. The Hon. Horace Wright, Provincial Government Controller of the plant, said that repairs would be completed before 8 o'clock this morning and that, with the taking on today of 20 additional men, he expected 250 hogs would be killed before knocking-off time (5 o'clock). Twenty additional workers will mean the plant will have an operating force of 60 men. Premier J. Walter Jones predicted last night that, barring accidents, 2,000 hogs would be slaughtered at the plant this week.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white taffeta trimmed with lace, long sleeves and a three-quarter length veil. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The bride's sister, Miss Bella Leger, was bridesmaid. She wore a blue taffeta floor length gown trimmed with small roses around the neck line and a three-quarter length veil. Her bouquet was of pink carnations.

Michael MacMillan, brother of the groom, was best man. Roy and Simon LeBlanc, cousin of the bride, ushered.

The bride's mother wore a turquoise blue dress with black accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Barker Hotel. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake. Pink gladioli and pink tapers added to the decorations.

Later the bride and groom left by car for Halifax and other points in Nova Scotia to spend their honeymoon. For travelling the bride wore a winter white dress with black accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. On their return they will reside in Mount Stewart, P.E.I., where the groom operates a general store.

The bride prior to her marriage was employed as stenographer and bookkeeper for the Imperial Oil Co., Ltd in Moncton.

Christian Church Youth Conference Marks Step Forward

The Christian Church in South Lake, Prince Edward Island became a bee-hive of activity over the week-end as young people from eight of the eleven Christian Churches on the Island met together in their annual Youth Conference. The Saturday evening session was brought to order by the vice-president, Miss Vida Stewart who welcomed the delegates from near and far to what she knew was to be a grand weekend of fellowship and worship. Mr. Eldon Stewart from South Lake, extended, on behalf of the local church, warm Christian greetings and words of welcome.

The theme for the conference was: "Youth's Discovery." The general theme was divided into the following sub-topics and presented by the following Island ministers:

"Youth Discovers the Book of Books", Rev. J. W. Hayter of the New Glasgow Christian Church.

"Youth Discovers the Faith of Faiths", Rev. R. J. Bryan, minister of the Montague Christian Church.

"Youth Discovers Their Place in the Church", (in the absence of Rev. Wm. Bilson, minister of the Summerside Christian Church, Rev. M. D. Dunbar of Charlottetown led an open forum upon this sub-topic).

"Youth Discovers New Horizons", Mr. Dunbar, minister of the Central Christian Church in Charlottetown.

Youth groups attending the conference from the various churches presented special music for each session.

On the Lord's Day afternoon the conference met in business session, at which time new officers were appointed for the forthcoming year and reports of the committees were given.

The following were elected to office for the year 1948:—President, Miss Vida Stewart of Charlottetown; Vice-president, Mr. Merril Nicholson of New Glasgow; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Dorothy Linkletter of Summerside.

Resolutions Passed

The following resolutions were brought in by the Resolutions Committee:

(1) Be it resolved that we as a group of visiting delegates express our appreciation for the hearty welcome and gracious hospitality extended to us by the Christian people of the South Lake Christian and Kingsboro Baptist Churches and to Rev. H. R. Bell their minister.

(2) Be it resolved that the young people of this Province bend their every effort toward the founding of a Maritime Bible College.

(3) Be it resolved that we as young people in our study groups make the temperance question a matter of grave study, especially in respect to the needs of our own Province.

(4) Be it resolved that we as a group, awaken new interest wherever possible among the Christian people of this Province in respect to the expansion of our Provincial camps.

The time and place committee reported that the 1948 Youth Conference would be held in the Charlottetown Christian Church and that the date of said conference would be the last weekend in October.

Mrs. Annie Belle Houston, who for the past sixteen years has been camp cook and manager of the Provincial Youth Camp Kiora brought a report of this summer's activities. An attendance of 126 campers was reported with a cash balance in the camp fund of over $266.00. A warm vote of thanks for the tireless efforts of Mrs. Houston was extended by the Dean, Mr. Dunbar. Mr. Dunbar who deaned the three camps last year asked to be relieved of part of this responsibility. The following were appointed as assistants for 1948:—

Dean of the adult camp—Rev. J. W. Hayter.

Senior Young People's Camp—Rev. M. D. Dunbar.

Junior Young People's Camp—Rev. R. J. Bryan.

Splendid audiences filled both churches to capacity on the Lord's Day. It was estimated that approximately 450 or more people were at the services in the evening.

It was the opinion of all who gathered in conference that such interest on the part of the youth was unprecedented; and that the conference is but a stepping stone towards an even greater year of work.

Statement By Hon. Mr. Bracken

OTTAWA, Oct. 5 —(CP)—John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, said Saturday he believed "there was some justification for the packinghouse workers wanting an increase in pay in view of the rising cost-of-living."

In an exchange of telegrams with J. S. McLean of Canada Packers Ltd., Mr. Bracken said: "I note that you agree with this in view of the offer you have already made of a five cent per hour increase in wages." The exchange resulted from a speech Mr. Bracken made Thursday in Brandon, Man.

A Canadian Press report of that speech quoted Mr. Bracken as saying: "I suppose there is some justification for it (the strike) with the rising cost-of-living."

Mr. MacLean in his telegram drew attention to the report and said packinghouse workers wages were 88 per cent higher than in 1939 and their purchasing power was at least 20 per cent higher than in

Belgian Congo's Uranium Wealth Kept Big Secret

BRUSSELS, Oct. 6 —(Reuters)— Prospects of tremendous colonial wealth, far exceeding that of the 17th-century Spaniards or 19th-century British, are being dangled before the Belgians by independent and anti-government newspapers which are still trying to pierce the secrecy surrounding the vast atomic potential of the Belgian Congo.

It is claimed, on questioned authority, that the quantities of uranium which the United States has bought from the Belgian Congo in the last seven years alone represents six times as much physical energy as do the gasoline reserves of the United States.

It has been claimed by a few writers that this enormous wealth in the main energy source of the future will sensationally change Belgium's hitherto modest role in world politics.

By an agreement made early in the war, the entire uranium potential of the Congo, said to be at least 60 per cent of the world's stock, is reserved to the United States; and it was under the terms of this agreement that the Congo provided the vital element of the atomic bomb which hurried Japan out of the war.

In spite of recent active campaigning by Communist members of parliament, great secrecy is still preserved about the terms of the agreement with the United States. It is not known how long it lasts nor, officially, what is the price paid for the uranium itself.

Harried in the senate, the Belgian prime minister, Paul-Henri Spaak, told a Communist member: "The agreement is still in force. It will be reviewed in the light of any decision taken by the appropriate commission of the United Nations" —a reference to the atomic control commission.

No further details have been officially revealed, and it is claimed in several Belgian newspapers that only five men in this country know the exact terms of the agreement.

Principal Mine

The same secrecy extends to the principal uranium mine in the Congo. Situated at Chinkolobwe, in the extreme south of the Congo and only 100 miles north of the Rhodesian frontier, the mine is exploited by the wealthy company, "Union Miniere du Hant Katanga."

According to figures which are officially published under a vague disguise but which are alleged to refer to uranium, the amount of Congo mineral ore supplied to the United States rose from 1,088 tons in 1941 to 9,967 tons in 1945 and to over 7,000 tons in 1946.

There is no official indication of the rate of uranium extraction from this ore; but it is generally assumed that the United States pays for the metal extracted (extraction is carried out in the United States). It is therefore of interest that the declared value of the ore shipped annually to the United States rose from 18,189,649 francs (more than $400,000) in 1941 to 82,669,355 francs (nearly $2,000,000) in 1945.

There is no means of knowing whether these figures represent the total earnings from uranium. Alone, they do not justify the claim, often made, that Belgium's extraordinary prosperity is largely based on the atomic bomb.

The persistent recent Communist attacks on the agreement which gives the United States exclusive rights over the Congo's uranium have been explained as follows by the party spokesman: "We disapprove, on the one hand, of our uranium being sent to a single country which uses it for war purposes, and on the other hand of the obstinate refusal to deliver uranium to countries which undertake to use it only for peaceful purposes."

NEVER DISSOLVED?

OTTAWA, Oct. 6 — (CP) — Igor Gouzenko, former cipher clerk at the Soviet Embassy here who disclosed the existence of a Russian spy network to Canadian officials, firmly maintained that the Communist International, or Comintern, was never dissolved as announced by Moscow in 1943.

In his testimony before the Royal Commission on Oct. 10, 1945 he said:

"The announcement of the dissolution of the Comintern was probably the greatest farce of the Communists in recent years. Only the name was liquidated, with the object of re-assuring public opinion in the democratic countries. Actually the Comintern exists and continued its work."

Documents which Gouzenko brought with him from the Russian Embassy corroborated this testimony, the Royal Commission report said.

MINISTER'S VIEW

QUEBEC, Oct. 6—(CP) — External Affairs Minister St. Laurent commenting here today on word of revival of the Communist International said there was nothing newer or more worrisome about it than events that have already occurred in the international sphere.

"It is evident," said Mr. St. Laurent, "that the Communists seek to extend their influence in continental Europe. What inspires them after all is to manoeuvre in such a way that the United States would not obtain the support of its people in the aid of Europe program.

"They are interested in the subsistence of European chaos which serves their propaganda and reduces American influence," he added.

many years a prominent figure in civic affairs. Mr. Dawson's business increased and resulted in the construction of the present commodious brick building. It was completed during one of Mr. Dawson's trips to England to purchase supplies. Provision was made for an Oddfellow's hall to occupy the whole of the third storey, with an entrance on Great George Street, but Mr. Dawson on his return did not approve of the arrangement and decided to reserve this part also for his business. The whole upper storey was constructed as a hall, without a single supporting pillar, and remains an enduring monument to the workmanship of its builders.

Following Mr. Dawson's death the business was acquired, as above noted, by Messrs. Stanley, Shaw and Pearden, and it expanded steadily under their able management. For many years the firm made a specialty of supplies for blacksmiths and wheelwrights, handling everything required for the building of carriages, wagons and sleighs which was then one of the major industries of the Province. They still handle supplies of this kind, as well as other goods of all kinds in the hardware line.

New Manager

The new general manager of the firm, Mr. Simons, has for the past fourteen years been general manager of the company store of the A. S. Johnson Company, Ltd., an asbestos mining company at Thetford Mines, Quebec. In 1940 he enlisted with the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps and received his Commission before proceeding overseas a few months later. He was subsequently promoted to the rank of Captain while serving in Italy, and saw the completion of hostilities in Germany.

For distinguished service while serving in Italy, Mr. Simons was decorated with the M.B.E. (Military), the investiture being made by Field Marshal Alexander, the present Governor General of Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Simons will make their home in Charlottetown at an early date. In the meantime Stanley, Shaw and Pearden will reopen for business on Tuesday, October 14th.

Hints on Etiquette

If you are part of an audience at a program in which someone near and dear to you is chief performer, look happy, but do not applaud them, at least not too emphatically.
